REED WILL VOTE FOR TARIFF BILL

Mr. Mulrooney's Luncheon.
Mr. Kahn Is Not Worried.
Welcome to Brazil.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

JAMES W. GERARD, formerly Ambassador to Germany, organized a luncheon yesterday for Commissioner Mulrooney, the newly appointed head of New York's police. Everybody was there, including Otto H. Kahn. He says grand opera by radio is coming, but it will not interfere with Metropolitan Opera, always needed to create great reputations.

ALSO ACCORDING TO MR. KAHN, who studies this earth and its doings "from Paris to Peking, and from Peking to Rome," there is nothing to worry us.

When the British have temporary hard times they sit still, play a little golf, don't do much.

In America, we can't sit still, we have to do something. When stocks refuse to go up we sell them and force them to go down.

After a dull period, it will occur to Americans that they have the United States back of them and they will recover their balance.

COMMISSIONER MULROONEY, a real policeman, discourses interestingly on crime. He says:

"In a murder case, you must have one of two things, an eye-witness or a confession.

"With gangsters well organized, witnesses are afraid to testify. The killers do not confess."

THE MODERN KILLER runs little risk. For $500 he hires a boy 16 or 17 years old, the boy does the shooting, not even knowing the name of the man "put on the spot," or why he is killed.

Racketeers, according to Commissioner Mulrooney, would vanish, if citizens would do their part. As a rule they prefer being blackmailed to defending themselves.

Racketeers and gangsters are miserable cowards, except "when ganged up and armed. A real man could take a chair and beat up half a dozen of them."

Young criminals should be segregated, not confined with older criminals, who teach them all they know.

Capital punishment does no good.

"Send the gangster caught carrying a gun, thus proving his intention or willingness to commit murder, to some place just inside the Arctic Circle where he will do useful hard work for the rest of his life, and you will get results that no electric chair could give."

COMMISSIONER MULROONEY'S JOB, protecting property and life in the world's biggest, richest city, is "a business in itself." He has under him 19,000 men and a department that spends $60,000,000 a year.

He is an able citizen.

PRESIDENT-ELECT Julio Prestes de Albuquerque, of Brazil, coming to visit us, will be welcome everywhere. As head of Brazil's government, he represents a gigantic empire, magnificently typical of wealth and greatness in America.

Larger than the United States, with one water power much more powerful than Niagara, a soil of fertility indescribable, diamond mines whose blue white products surpass all others, and most important, an intelligent, patriotic, hard-working people, our guest from Brazil speaks for a nation of whose friendship this country may be proud.

WHAT WILL BE THE FUTURE of a nation 65 times as big as England, its soil 65 times as fertile, with one magnificent plateau 1,000 to 3,000 feet high, seven times as big as France, and a river so wide you can sail out of sight of land, on fresh water? Brazil, rich, powerful, progressive for national defense, relies largely on airships, sure sign of intelligence.

CHICAGO IS PROUD, and says: "I NOT ONLY WILL, BUT I DID." Chicago's population in the new census is 3,376,753, an increase of 672,048 in 10 years.

Second among the cities of the nation, Chicago starts on its fourth million. Everybody in Chicago, north, south, west or out on the lake, is sure that New York will be passed and forgotten before long.

To prove it, ticker tape and confetti in showers came from windows all over downtown Chicago yesterday.

WALL STREET CONTINUED its sorrow festival yesterday, stocks dropping, bears using unpleasant rumors in their battle against prices. One rumor concerned a big bank, another dealt with an imaginary attack on the life of the President. Results achieved by so much lying were not great, a few stocks dropping from one to eight points.

GROVER ALEXANDER, famous baseball pitcher, is "unconditionally released" by the Philadelphia National League club. It means that his day is done.

COWARDICE BLAMED IN DISASTER

Lifebelts Torn From Women, U. S. Told; Captain Denies He Failed to Send SOS

International News Service.

BOSTON, June 12.—Charges that members of the Fairfax crew tore life preservers from women and pushed them from lifeboats in Tuesday night's sea horror were under searching investigation today by federal officials.

The death toll in the collision between the Fairfax and the oil tanker Pinthis today stood at 46.

PROBE FAILURE TO CALL AID

The angles under the searchlight of investigation are:

1—Failure by the Fairfax to call for outside aid and, instead, confining a request for help to the steamship Gloucester.

2—Failure to rescue those who had leaped into the flaming sea.

3—Alleged action by some members of the crew in tearing life preservers from women and driving men and women from the lifeboats.

4—Alleged lack of proper equipment, sheets being used for bandages.

Severe condemnation, with such characterizations as "gross negli-

NAB CONVICTS IN PLOT TO FLEE PRISON

Joliet Officials Catch Five Prisoners Digging Tunnel; Captured Near Freedom

International News Service.

JOLIET, June 12.—A wholesale jail break from the state penitentiary was averted today when Warden H. C. Hill and several guards thwarted one of the boldest attempts ever made by convicts to gain liberty.

A group of convicts was caught digging a tunnel from the chair-shop to the north wall. They had burrowed 14 feet from the shop and but three feet more remained between them and liberty when guards seized the plotters and threw them into solitary confinement.

The plot and tunnel were discovered two weeks ago but prison officials allowed the plot to develop in order that they might capture every man involved.

Five convicts were concerned in the jailbreak plot, Warden Hill revealed.

The five prisoners were captured one by one as they kept their appointments yesterday to dig under the north end of the chair shop.

William Evans, 38, notorious convict, who was captured in 1927 when he entered the prison in the guise of a priest with a satchel full of nitroglycerin to blast an avenue to freedom for a pal, is regarded as the brains of the plot.

Senate Should Reject Grundy Tariff Measure

Seldom, if ever before, in its long and distinguished history has the United States Senate faced a graver challenge than the approaching vote upon the Grundy tariff bill presents to every senator.

And the way for the Senate to meet that challenge is to reject that bill when it comes to a vote tomorrow.

That is what the Senate will do if it keeps faith with the people. That is what the Senate will do if it listens to their appeals, heeds their protests and protects their welfare.

Overwhelming evidence is before the Senate that the Grundy tariff bill is the most vicious legislation of its kind that has ever threatened this country or alarmed and angered the world.

Overwhelming evidence is before the Senate that all sorts and conditions of Americans in all parts of this country are against the tariff bill and hope for its defeat.

Nearly all our great political economists who have examined this bill are agreed that it is filled with injustices. These economists have united in a protest against the extortionate rates carried in this bill.

All these economists say what the Hearst newspapers have repeatedly said, that the Grundy tariff bill will not help the farmer, but will increase the cost of living to every citizen, including the farmer.

Enactment of the Grundy bill into law will add at least a thousand million dollars to the cost of living every year that it remains in effect.

It will curtail production at home and lose for us markets abroad.

It will constitute an embargo by our country against the products of foreign countries. And this will provoke foreign countries to retaliate with embargoes against American products.

It will make living so high in this country and so increase expenses here that the cost of production will be increased, and the ability of Americans to compete in foreign markets from which they are not excluded will thereby be decreased.

The Grundy tariff bill ought to be rejected by the Senate because—

It violates the pledges of both the Republican and Democratic parties for a limited revision of the tariff to relieve agriculture—

It basely betrays the public welfare and basely serves special privilege—

It will cripple business at home and commerce abroad, halt the return of prosperity, further impair public confidence in the integrity of government, and provoke a world-wide tariff war against the United States.

Of course the President should veto the Grundy tariff bill if it ever passes the Senate.

But in this emergency the American people look to their senators in Congress to discharge their responsibility in this vital matter and not pass it on to the President.

If the United States Senate would keep its reputation, and vindicate the confidence of the people in its independence and courage and integrity, it will reject the Grundy tariff bill and save this country from the curse of its extortions.

STAND HELD TO ASSURE PASSAGE

Hoover Expected to Sign It And Rely Upon Flexible Provision for Any Changes

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, June 12. — (AP.) — Senator David A. Reed, of Pennsylvania, told an expectant Senate today he would vote for the tariff bill.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

Copyright, 1930, International News Service.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—President Hoover will sign the tariff bill to be laid on his doorstep in a few days by a weary and divided Congress.

He will do so notwithstanding terrific pressure on him to veto it — pressure probably more severe than has been directed on the executive for or against any piece of legislation in recent years.

But Mr. Hoover will not give the battered and bedraggled bill his complete and unqualified approval. His signature, it was learned today, will be accompanied by an elaborate statement in which he will set forth that the measure probably has its faults, many of them, but that its good features outweigh the bad, and that by judicious use of his flexible powers he can remold it as time and experience with the new rates reveal the need for revision.

WILL BE MADE ISSUE

Thereafter, what is to be known officially as the Smoot-Hawley tariff act of 1930 and unofficially as the Grundy bill, will be kicked straightaway into the hottest off-year political campaign that the country has witnessed in years. And it is not unlikely a number of congressional seats will change hands in November because of

FATHER STEALS MILK, FINED

Out of work for the last six months and unable to provide food for his wife and their four small children, all under 6, George Thomas, of 1108 Bidwell street, took a quart of milk from a tray in front of the P. H. Butler store, 908 Galveston avenue, this morning. A clerk in the store, Pearl Barnett, saw him and complained to Patrolman Tom English, who arrested Thomas.

Thomas was fined $2 by Magistrate John Sweeney in North Side Police Court at a hearing immediately following the arrest. Thomas said he took the milk for his son, Charles Edward, 6 months. A spectator who did not give his name paid Thomas' fine in order that he need not go to jail.

JACK SHARKEY WEIGHS 197

Schmeling tipped the scales at 188.

Dr. William Walker, who examined Sharkey, declared he was in perfect physical condition.

"I've examined Sharkey many times before," the naphysician declared, "but he is in the best condition of his career today.

"He looks calm, but inside he is on fire."

Speed Laws Ignored In Race With Death

ATLANTA, June 12.—(INS.)—Traffic laws were thrown to the wind today as a non-stop ambulance, carrying a man with a broken back, sped through Atlanta bound for Sandusky, O., The man, W. A. Neill, a retired millionaire of Sandusky, asked as a last wish that he be taken to his home.

Neill was injured in an automobile accident at Miami several weeks ago. For days he hovered between life and death. Yesterday physicians told him that the trip to Sandusky would not affect his condition.

KIDNAPED, GIRL IN DAZE, SAYS

Police today were trying to check up a story of abduction told by a 17-year-old girl, who gave her name as Helen Beatty, of 17 Goodrich street, Akron, O.

Stockingless, and appearing to be in a daze, the girl entered the German Kitchen restaurant, 107 Smithfield street, early today.

The young woman told police that she had attended a dance last night in Akron and accepted an invitation to take an auto ride with two young men whom she knew only as "Curly" and "George." They took her to a place in Akron, where she took a drink of what she thought was ginger ale.

From that time, she said, she remembers nothing until this morning when she awoke in a woods near this city. She walked for two hours and finally entered the restaurant, according to her story.

After hearing the girl's story in Morals Court, Magistrate Leo Rothenberg turned her over to social workers. Akron police will be communicated with.

Hop From Dublin Postponed Again

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 12.—(AP.)—Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, who had been planning to hop off tomorrow on a trans-Atlantic flight to New York, decided against the hop-off late today in the belief that better weather conditions are coming.

TOKIO, June 12.—(INS.)—W. Cameron Forbes, of Massachusetts, chosen by President Hoover as next United States ambassador to Japan, is acceptable to the Japanese government, it was announced by the American embassy here today.

REBUKE HOOVER ON SECRECY

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today adopted a resolution asserting its right to the London naval papers denied it by President Hoover. The vote was 10 to 7, with three members not voting.

The resolution was transmitted to the President and to Secretary Stimson.

BOROUGHS JOIN BLUE LAW POLL

The boroughs of Brackenridge and Bridgeville condemn the ancient Blue Laws of Pennsylvania by decisive majorities, favoring a repeal of the statute in the poll of Allegheny County by the Sun-Telegraph. Brackenridge, represented by 235 voters in the poll, gives a ratio of five votes for repeal to one for enforcement. Bridgeville, with 182 ballots cast, gives a ratio of 6 to 1. The divisions are:

	Brackenridge	Bridgeville
For the Blue Laws	38	24
For Modification	17	15
For Repeal	180	143

Balloon Runs Wild; Pilot Saved by Pal

TRANSYFNYDD, Wales, June 12.—(AP.)—Sergt. G. W. Robinson today rescued from an escaping balloon basket a companion hanging head downward and threatened with death.

Robinson chased the balloon two miles over hedges and through thickets and bogs. He had successfully jumped, but his companion became entagled and hung by the feet. The gas-bag started to rise but bumped Flying Officer Pelham Groom severely before his release.

Percy B. Wilson Paper Magnate, Dies

MONTREAL, June 12—(AP.)—Percy B. Wilson, 64, president of the Canadian Newsprint Company, died last night after a long illness.

Wilson was vice-president of the For William Paper Company, Ltd. director of North American Securities limited, and president of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association.

Jersey Prosecutes 3,733 Under Blue Laws

TRENTON, N. J., June 12.—(AP.)—A minister of the gospel purchased some gasoline on the Sabbath. Another bought a cigar. A police clerk paid for his dinner at a hotel. A city commissioner played golf at a country club.

These bits of evidence, with 3,729 other complaints alleging violations of New Jersey's ancient blue laws, were forwarded to the county prosecutor today for presentation to the grand jury.

The long list of acquisations is a result of the Trenton Ministerial Union's drive against Sunday movies, under the old blue ban. Police took the complaint literally, arrested theater owners, gasoline station attendants, train and trolley car crews, baseball, tennis and golf players, florists, restaurant owners, workmen and bootblacks. All, they charged, were violating the ancient Sabbath laws.

NEARLY 700 JAILED IN DRIVE

'Big Shots' Flee City; Crime Haunts Found Deserted; Reporter's Slayer Hunted

By ADAM F. LONG.
International News Service.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Gangland was in retreat today from the onslaughts of armed police squads waging a grim war of reprisal for the murder of Alfred (Jake) Lingle, veteran police reporter.

With newspaper editorials urging martial law, the American Legion today offered the aid of its ex-service men, accustomed to the sinister business of death.

With 655 men in custody as the result of an all-night roundup, leaders of the underworld were hiding.

Picked detective squads found usual haunts untenanted and deserted.

Reports from New York and other cities indicated that the real leaders of Chicago's deadly murder syndicates were leaving for more comfortable localities.

JAILS CROWDED

As a result of the overnight raids police stations in all parts of the city were overflowing.

Heading the details assigned to ferret out gangsters and hoodlums are men with notable records for having beaten them at their own game. Leading one day squad was Sergt. Frank Reynolds, who has killed 11 criminals in battle.

Spurred on by unanimous demands by the press and civic bodies for their resignations, Police Commissioner William H. Russell and Deputy Commissioner of Detectives John Stege have thrown their entire forces into the warfare of extermination.

ARMY NEEDED, SAYS CHIEF

"Will these be sufficient?" was the question being asked today, and even Commissioner Russell was doubtful.

"The whole A. E. F. could not stop them," he told one questioner, referring to racketeers.

INDICTED, ENDS LIFE BY LEAP

SCRANTON, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—Under indictment for conspiracy in connection with Lackawanna County's sensational slot machine expose, Nathan Green, a restaurant proprietor, ended his life today by shooting himself, then leaping from a bridge into Roaring Brook, 100 feet below.

He was to have been the principal prosecution witness against Sheriff Gomer C. Davis, also indicted on a charge of conspiracy. The state alleges Green confessed paying protection money to the sheriff for being allowed to operate slot machines in the county.

The body was recovered.

Gulf of California To Have Sea Port

YUMA, Ariz., June 12.—(AP.)—Gen. Juan Almazan, Mexican minister of communications and public works, has announced plans to establish a port on the Gulf of California 70 miles south of Yuma.

He said he would recommend construction of a highway from Ensenada, on the Pacific coast of Baja California to Mexicali, San Luis, and eastward to Sonoyta, Naco and Agua Prieta.

Light Earthquake Detected at Denver

DENVER, June 12.—(INS.)—An earthquake of moderate intensity was registered on the seismograph at Reis College here early today. Father A. W. Forestall, in charge of the apparatus, said the disturbance was probably about 800 miles from Denver in a southerly direction. The first wave occurred at 2:48 a. m. and the final one at 3:41.

Ten Bathing Suits Stolen by Two Boys

Two boys grabbed 10 bathing suits from a counter in Buka Bros. drygoods store, 316 Market street, and disappeared in a crowd of shoppers, the proprietor notified police today. The suits were valued at $50.

OFFICE HELD UP, $500 TAKEN

The holdup occurred 10 minutes before closing time yesterday afternoon in the main office while pedestrians passed in full view along the street. Entering with drawn revolvers, the pair forced Ray Moulter, the manager; Miss Thelma Connors, secretary; Ray Miles, salesman, and Robert Bauer, repairman, to line against a wall while they rifled the cash drawer containing receipts of the day.

Fleeing from the front door, the robbers ran down an alley adjoining the building and escaped in a roadster parked in the rear. The car was recovered early today in the west section of the town. Police were seeking to establish its owner, believing the machine had been stolen.

Blue Army Uniforms Urged to Make Jobs

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(INS.)—Hard-boiled Army generals want the Army dressed in blue because it looks well, but the leading woman exponent of blue uniforms wants them because they will create employment.

The question was brought before the House Military Affairs Committee today when Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, Republican Congresswoman from Massachusetts, asked passage of her bill authorizing the "blues."

Famed Tooth-Puller Of Eskimos Dead

In 1922 the Hudson Bay Company sent a dentist to Herschel Island to look after the toothaches of its employes. Mike was employed as a dental mechanic. When the dentist left, the Eskimo kept much of the dental equipment. Since that time he has carried on an itinerant practice in the Arctic.

Weather Conditions.

A disturbance, centered over Eastern North Dakota, lowest barometer, 29.14 inches, at Devils Lake, covers most of the interior of the country. A trough formation extends southwestward from the United States to Arizona. It is causing cloudy weather over the Mississippi Valley states and as far east as Ohio, and light showers over most of the Central Valley states. Over the western plains and the Rocky Mountain states the skies are clear.

The temperatures are now near the normal over most of the country, with no indication of a change to cool weather for the next few days.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 5.0 feet, Lock No. 2, 11.2; Pittsburgh, 12.8; Dam No. 4, 11.0; Dam No. 6, 10.4; Dam No. 9, 11.4, and Dam No. 13, 8.7. The dams are up.

Aviation Bulletin.

There are scattered areas of cloudy weather over this section, but the ceiling is nowhere less than 2,500 feet, except in Indiana, where it is raining with a ceiling of 2,500 feet. Visibility ranges from three to eight miles, except at Hadley Field, where it is only a half mile due to fog.

The wind is light from the southeast.

A low pressure area is centered over North Dakota and northward over Saskatchewan, and covers most of the central valleys. The low is moving towards the Great Lakes. High barometer covers the Atlantic Coast states.

Cloudiness will increase today, and local showers are probable tonight or Friday.

Mateo Osa, Spanish heavyweight, registered 185, and Henry Lamar, his opponent in a 10-round match on the Sharkey-Schmeling card, weighed 186.

Raul Bianchi, Argentina, weighed 212, and Stanley Parada, his scheduled antagonist in a six-rounder, tipped the scales at 196.

Indications are that the fight will attract a crowd of 70,000.

Sharkey rules a 9-5 favorite in the betting.

Carrying eight Pittsburghers, and headed for the Sharkey-Schmeling bout in Yankee Stadium tonight, a tri-motored plane labeled the "Fight Special," was to take off from Bettis-Rodger Airport late today bound for New York. Those making the flight are Robert W. McKnight, T. H. Maretzky, Homer Lane, Homer Lane, Jr., J. J. Flannery, W. L. Warren, Oliver Eaton and R. C. Maxwell.

Race Up Mississippi Given Up as Failure

NATCHEZ, Miss., June 12.—The Mississippi River race from New Orleans to St. Louis by the boat, Miss Greenville, was abandoned here today after it arrived 14 hours behind the time of the Bogle.

Mayor Fred Schelben, of Greenville, Miss., who accompanied the boat in an airplane, called the race off.

Philadelphia M. E. Church Pastor Dies

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(INS.)—The Rev. Dr. Stanley Shaw, 54, pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, of West Philadelphia, died here today in the Methodist Hospital from an operation performed a few days ago. Interment will take place at Dr. Shaw's birthplace at Waldaceburg, Ontario, Canada.

Dazed From Blow, Show 'Pest' Gets Days and Days

Annoying a fellow patron of the Garden Theater, North Side movie house on West North avenue, cost Fred Keffer, 23, of 110 North Fremont avenue, Bellevue, a black eye last night and one of those "$25 or 10 days in jail" pronouncements today. The black eye was contributed by the annoyed patron, Coleman Vaughn, 24, of 2362 California avenue. The $25 or 10 was announced by Magistrate Leo Rothenberg in Morals Court. Vaughn was discharged on a disorderly conduct charge.

CERTIFY 12,368 PINCHOT WIN IN COUNTY

Commissioners Lay Rumors Official Tally Would Wait Until Finish of Recount

Former Gov. Gifford Pinchot received a plurality of 12,368 in Allegheny County over his nearest opponent, Francis Shunk Brown, in the recent primary for the Republican nomination for governor.

Pinchot had 101,703 votes to 89,335 for Brown, according to the certification due today at the Harrisburg office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth from County Commissioners Joseph G. Armstrong, Edward V. Babcock and C. C. McGovern.

Their action ended rumors that the official count would be delayed indefinitely awaiting the outcome of a current recount of ballot boxes by a special board supervised by President Judge J. R. Macfarlane, of Common Pleas Court.

ALL OTHERS CERTIFIED

All the other 66 counties of the state had certified their votes and the attitude of the local Commissioners caused considerable speculation concerning the ultimate outcome of the primary, last May 20.

The official return board completed its canvas June 3, and gave Pinchot a plurality of 12,368 votes. Certification was deferred pending a recount of ballot boxes in which fraud or substantial errors were suspected.

LONG DELAY HINTED

Increasing disputes of candidates and their supporters indicated that more than 150 boxes might be ordered returned for a recount and estimates were made that the final recheck might not be finished for months.

McGovern Demands Registration Frauds Quiz

County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern has called on the Registration Commission to investigate alleged fraudulent registration in the First District of the Sixth Ward.

This is the district which McGovern brought in on petition for recount. When 550 ballots were found in the box and only 532 names on the voters' list, the list was stolen from the box either in or between the recount board's room and the sheriff's office. The commission took the matter under advisement.

This disappearance of the list has been the subject of much discussion for a week. The recount board is under the personal supervision of Judge James R. Macfarlane.

He said that he has numerous complaints of persons registered in the district who, because they are not residents and are minors, are not eligible to vote.

These persons, however, were voted at the primary election, McGovern said.

CITY MUST PAY $226,765

Four consent verdicts in favor of as many individuals for property damages totaling $226,765 were returned in Common Pleas Court against the City of Pittsburgh.

William S. Moorhead was awarded $99,680 and the Isaac Kaufmann estate $62,735 for damages to properties in Grant street, near Sixth avenue, caused by the widening of the former thoroughfare, and Lillian Leff $17,500 for property damaged at Sixth and Webster avenue because of street improvements.

The Children's Hospital was awarded $47,850 for property taken and other damages sustained in the widening of the Boulevard of the Allies. The claims were compromised between the city's law department and those concerned, without formal trial by jury.

STATE SPRINGS FAZIO SURPRISE

John T. Horne, the Commonwealth's surprise witness, took the stand late today in the barrel murder trial, in an effort to blast the defense plea that jealousy was the motive in the slaying of William J. Gregory, for which Phillip Fazio is on trial.

Horne was called in rebuttal after the defense closed its case. Indications were that the fate of Fazio would be placed in the hands of the jury tomorrow.

Assistance District Attorney Earl R. Jackson replied to objections of the defense that insinuations by defense witnesses that Horne and Mrs. Greogory, wife of the slain man were linked in a conspiracy to slay Gregory made necessary the testimony of Horne.

SETS UP ALIBI

Horne testified that he and Mrs. Gregory were in Beaver Falls on March 31, the day Gregory is alleged to have been murdered in Fazio's brewery in Lorigan street. Neither knew of the crime until they read of it in the newspapers, the witness said.

Horne testified:

"I never knew, nor have I ever seen Gregory, Mrs. Gregory and I went to Beaver Falls March 31 and were there until April 12 or 13."

Threats by Mrs. Gregory to poison her husband, children and herself were testified to by Mrs. Jennie Mitchell, 905 Moravan street, defense witness, today.

Ruth Matthews, daughter of Mrs. Mitchell, corroborated her mother's story of Mrs. Gregory's threat to poison her family and herself. The threat was made in Mrs. Mitchell's home, both witnesses said.

'I'm Going to Quit Finding Bonds,' Says Joe

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—Joseph Locurto is the unluckiest fellow—he's always finding bonds.

Two years ago he found a couple of bonds in New street and today a court asked him why he'd kept them instead of trying to find the owner.

"I've had my experience in Wall street," he answered. "They're not as liberal down there as they want people to think. In 1927 I found $40,000 worth of bonds, and when I returned them to the bank that owned them all I got was a letter of thanks."

Today he pleaded guilty to attempted grand larceny.

LOBBY QUIZ SPLIT ON CANNON

Blaine Moves to Prosecute Churchman, Walsh Urges Broader Inquiry Instead

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Moves to report Bishop Cannon to the Senate for contempt proceedings and to ask specific authority to investigate political activities were initiated today at the Lobby Committee's session.

A vote was deferred until 3 o'clock, when a special meeting will be held.

With the 65-year-old churchman on the stand, Senator Blaine (Rep.), of Wisconsin, urged that the committee cite Cannon to the Senate because of his refusal to answer questions concerning his 1928 campaign against Alfred E. Smith's presidential candidacy.

WALSH OPPOSES MOVE

Senator Walsh (Dem.), of Montana, proposed as a substitute that the committee seek direct authorization to delve into political work.

Blaine's motion came after the committee had told the bishop he would not be compelled to answer questions about his 1928 anti-Smith activities.

Blaine contended that the committee has the power to go into political activities. He cited the examination of Claudius Huston, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and said any question relating to lobbying was pertinent.

BLAINE GIVES HIS VIEWS

Blaine explained:

"My position is that the committee has authority to go into Bishop Cannon's financial records to ascertain if any of the money has been used in lobbying activities.

"I maintain it is pertinent to ask questions about accounts, so the committee may obtain information to require the delivery of those accounts."

The accounts to which Blaine referred dealt with $65,300 contributed to Cannon by E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist, for use in the 1928 anti-Smith campaign.

He cited the case of Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil man, to show that a Senate committee has authority to compel a witness to testify. Sinclair was sent to jail for refusal to answer.

	Men	Women	Total
For Blue Laws.	3423	2012	6435
For Modification	1921	1264	3185
For Repeal	21937	10886	32823

These figures give a ratio of 5.1 votes for repeal to each vote for enforcement and represent 77 per cent for repeal, 15 per cent for enforcement and 8 per cent for modification.

The poll is extended to Homestead, one of the largest boroughs of the county, and to the townships of Harmar, Harrison, Indiana, Jefferson, Kennedy, Kilbuck, Leet, Lincoln and Marshall, with the latest distribution of ballots.

The results of the poll to date in Coraopolis will be published tomorrow.

Germany Will Pay Debts, Ochs Predicts

MUNICH, Bavaria, June 12.—(AP.)—Adolph S. Ochs, American publisher, today visited the famous Deutsche Technical Museum and its founder, Oscar von Miller. He said he trusted close co-operation, to the mutual benefit of each, would ensue between Munich and Chicago, where a similar museum is being built.

Mr. Ochs expressed the belief Germany is bound to recover economically and will be able to pay her debts when in the best position to commercialize new inventions. Creditor nations, therefore, in their own interest should lend a helping hand, he said.

Adventists Urge Blue Law Repeal

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—(AP.)—The forty-second general conference of the Seventh Day Adventists had completed its sessions today, with the final session devoted to appeals for the repeal of the Massachusetts blue laws and liberalization of Sunday laws in general.

Speaking before the final session yesterday, James E. Schultz, Boston, and W. L. Burgan, head of the church's press bureau, gave affirmative answers to the question, "Should we join the sporting element in liberalizing Sunday laws?"

TERM CAPONE'S HOME ARSENAL

MIAMI, Fla., June 12.—(AP.)—The Miami Beach residence of "Scarface" Al Capone was described as a virtual armed camp by Edward Robinson, state witness in proceedings instituted by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne to padlock the Capone home.

Robinson, whose home is close to the Capone residence on Palm Island, exclusive residential area, testified that he had seen men walking about the Capone grounds with pistols in their pockets or strapped to their hips on several occasions. He also mentioned the police guard that has been stationed at the grilled entrance to the Capone home by the City of Miami Beach.

Film 'Gorilla' Asks Aid to Collect Pay

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(AP.)—Leaving the ethical aspects of the motion picture "Ingagi" to Will H. Hays and others, Milton Phillips is concerning himself with an effort to collect $20 for one day's work as the film's gorilla.

"They said I didn't make a good gorilla," Phillips told Deputy Labor Commissioner Thomas Barker. "He refused to pay me. I insist I could be as good a gorilla as anyone else and am entitled to the $20."

New Board Named For Federal Paroles

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(INS.)—The new Federal Parole Board which is to pass on applications for pardons and paroles from federal prisons was announced today by Attorney General Mitchell as follows: Arthur D. Wood, of Michigan; Irwin B. Tucker, of North Carolina, and Dr. Amy N. Stannard, of Washington, D. C.

Home Improvement Called Proof of Civilization

BOSTON, June 12.—(INS.)—From the stone age of cliff dwellers, to the present stone age of feminine jewel fancies, civilization has increased directly with the development of good homes and a community is not fully civilized until every family is placed in a home of its own, declared Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, today, at a special meeting on housing, held in connection with the National Conference of Social Work.

"Bad housing is an invasion of the health and morals of our people and is destructive of good citizenship," he continued. "nothing adds more to the self-respect and good citizenship of a family than to have it housed in a decent building. The possession of a slum district is a reproach to any city."

The United States should turn from the path of 300 years of physical development and expansion and proceed on a road of mental, spiritual and social maturity, Ihlder told the delegates.

Many of the worst of our mistakes in the past have been due to haste, and our haste has been due to the tremendous rapidity of our growth, according to Ihlder.

Chicago Gunmen Capture Hotel, Flee With $1,000

CHICAGO, June 12.—(AP.)—The Garfield Arms Hotel, in the hotel district of the West Side, went under the management of four gunmen for nearly an hour early today.

The robbers escaped with $1,000 taken from the office safe and from guests after 15 guests and employes had been ordered around and cowed at the point of pistols.

The gunmen appeared shortly after midnight, herding half a dozen guests and the night clerk against a wall and awaited the return of additional guests. One of the quartet stood near the entrance and signaled the approach of each new victim.

Apparently satisfied that the group would afford a satisfactory profit, the robbers searched the victims for valuables and ordered the clerk, Melville Eberhardt, to open the safe. He protested he did not know the combination.

The manager, Thomas D. Lawlor, was routed from his apartment in his night clothes and compelled to open the safe, which yielded $400 cash. Locking the victims in the hotel office, the quartet escaped.

HELEN 'ALREADY QUEEN OF RUMANIA,' ACCORDING TO CAROL

AVERS COUP ENTHRONED EX-WIFE

Palace Attaches Believe Son Eventually to Bring Royal Family Together

BUCHAREST, June 12.—(AP.)—King Carol today was reported to have declared the Princess Helen, his former wife, "already is Queen of Rumania."

The King told his brother, Nicolas, and his sister, Princess Elizabeth, that when his father, King Ferdinand, died, he, Carol, automatically became King and Helen Queen.

Since, the divorce had been pronounced. But with parliamentary annulment of all events intervening since Ferdinand's death and Carol's re-installation as king, Helen automtically became Queen Carol holds.

GAVE MESSAGE TO HELEN

The king begged Nicolas to give this message to Helen, which he did when the mother of Crown Prince Michael came to bring their child this forenoon to play.

Helen was reported as having declared herself satisfied.

Palace gossip has it that Michael may bring about a reconciliation between his parents. He divides his time between his mother and father.

He sleeps at the Cotrocenti Palace, but is taken to Kisselhoff Palace at 11 o'clock every morning for a visit with his mother. He returns later to his father's knee for parental do's and dont's, then is taken back to Princess Helen's for a light meal before retiring at Carol's quarters.

GLAD FATHER RETURNED

The young grand voivode is said to be most delighted at having his father back again, and in his childish manner to be exerting himself to heal the rift between the two parents. Desire to have him near her already is said to have motivated Helen's decision to remain in Bucharest.

Not all of Carol's time is occupied with family matters. Juliu Maniu, former premier, told him last night that he would be unable to form a cabinet, so Carol asked Gen. Prezan, not connected with any party, to see if he could do so. Maniu promised to support Prezan, who commanded the Rumanian troops during the World War.

Carol Thanks U. S., Hopes for Its Support

Universal Service Special Cable.

BUCHAREST, June 12.—King Carol II, romantic monarch of Rumania, today sent this special message to America:

"My heart goes out to Rumanians in America. I thank them for all they did and will do for the Fatherland.

"I thank the American press for its fair attitude during my absence from Rumania. I gratefully remember the loyal cooperation and pleasant relations I had with the prominent American journalists in Paris.

"I regret that I was unable to visit America, to view and learn from its strong and healty democratic spirit, which animates the American people.

"For the American people, I have the greatest admiration, and I hope that in all matters, including the matter of capital investment in Rumania, the closest co-operation will be possible."

Queen Marie Returning To Reunite Royal Family

BUCHAREST, June 12.—(INS.)—Rumania awaited with intense interest today the return of the Dowager Queen Marie, due back here this evening.

Marie, "the royal match-maker of the Balkans," is returning to confront a situation which will tax her diplomacy to the utmost. She is coming back in the hope of effecting a reconciliation between King Carol II and his divorced wife, the former Princess Helen of Greece. Queen Marie will be given an official reception by Carol and the members of his government, thus dispelling rumors of a rift between Marie and her son.

The Queen, it is understood, hopes to arrange a meeting between Carol and Helen for a "friendly chat." Fervent hopes are expressed that she will succeed in bringing the royal family together.

NINE GUILTY IN NAUGHTY SHOW

Threat of Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langfitt to show a "naughty" motion picture in court went glimmering today when nine defendants seized in a raid on the boat Manitou pleaded guilty.

They were charged, some with conducting an immoral show and others with maintaing gambling devices.

The jury didn't get to see the film being shown on the boat when the raid was made, but a preview had been held in the district attorney's office. Langfitt announced that it was "very naughty, indeed." The only witness at the trial today was County Detective Frank Ritz, one of the raiding officers.

Two girl entertainers, Betty Wilson, of Sarah street, and Louella Jenkins, of Pius street, were fined $25 each and paroled for six months by Judge Joseph M. Swearingen. A third, Anna Skipper, of Corey way, was unable to appear in court today owing to illness. She will be tried later.

Sentences on the others who pleaded guilty were Lewis Jacobs, $300 fine and one year parole; J. P. McCabe, $300 fine and one year parole; Frank Jackson, $100 fine and one year parole; Harold Mansfield, $25 fine and six months parole; W. H. Linefweber, $25 fine and six months parole; J. M. Barone, $25 fine and six months parole.

Police Halt Taxi Battle in Chicago

CHICAGO, June 12.—(INS.)—Order was restored today in the ranks of the Checker Taxi Company drivers here after 1,000 of their number met last night in a rebellious session to protest the rule of company officials. One hundred policemen were called out to preserve order at the meeting when the drivers charged that sluggers were trying to storm the doors. The police were forced to rope off the street for half a block on either side and wait within the enclosure until the meeting was concluded.

Australian Loan To Cover Deficit

CANBERRA, Australia, June 12.—(AP.)—A deficit of $45,000,000 for the current fiscal year has been disclosed by the public accounts of the Australian states.

At the same time it was announced that the Commonwealth Loan Council has approved the terms of the Federal government's new loan of $50,000,000. It is for a period of eight years and will bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

PROTEST PARK LAND AWARD

For the second time, a new trial was asked today by Assistant County Solicitor A. C. Leslie on the ground that an award for 56 acres of land for the South Park was excessive.

Yesterday a jury awarded John P. Mueller $59,670 for 56 acres. A previous award of $40,000 for the same land was set aside by the court as excessive. Judge James H. Gray rebuked the jury of nine women and three men who brought in yesterday's verdict for being "too liberal" with the public's money.

BUILDING SETS NEW RECORD

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(INS.)—Surpassing all previous records, construction contracts for public works and public utilities for the first five months of 1930 amounted to $588,000,000, the Commerce Department announced today.

This was an increase of 21 per cent over 1929 and of 35 per cent over the average for the last five years. Reports were compiled for 37 states.

The 1930 figure surpasses by $78,000,000 the previous high record of $510,000,000 established in 1928.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., June 12.—Burglars plundered the Pickering Department Store at Rowlesburg and hauled a large quantity of merchandise away in motor trucks. State police are investigating.

SEE DEFICIT IN 'PORK BARREL'

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(INS.)—The administration's budget bureau has warned congressional leaders that the Treasury may face a deficit next year unless appropriations are slashed to the bone, it was learned today.

As a result of the warning, new pressure will be exerted by administration leaders to prevent passage of a flood of appropriation and authorization proposals in the closing days of the present session.

Thus far Congress has paid little heed to economy warnings. In addition to the pressure of a campaign year, there have been demands for liberal federal appropriations to create employment and stimulate trade. While actual appropriations have been kept down, authorizations for future expenditures have increased.

HUSTON DENIES FUND MISUSE

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Chairman Claudius Huston, of the Republican National Committee, confronted his critics today with a stout denial of their charges that he had engaged in lobbying or used funds of the Tennessee River Improvement Association to cover a deficit in his brokerage account.

Striking back, he alleged a whispering campaign had been conducted against him and that accusations aimed at him were either fabrications or "distortions of the real facts," inspired by "partisan or factional motives."

Automobile Kills Pottsville Boy, 8

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—Edward Dereschavage, 8, was fatally injured by an automobile while on the way home from school. Police said the car was driven by G. P. Baer, New Cumberland.

Robber Yields $1 To Half Mile Pursuer

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—Abraham Cohen, Bronx candy merchant, is a brave man. A Negro pointed a pistol at him, seized $1 from the till and ran. Abraham pursued half a mile and got the dollar back. He did not know till police came that the Negro's pistol was a toy affair filled with cigarets.

TRIED ALONE AS 'ATTIC' SLAYER

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(AP.)—With 10 women and two men tentatively sitting as jurors, Otto Sanhuber, alleged admirer of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, today faced trial alone for the slaying eight years ago of Fred Oesterreich, former Milwaukee garment manufacturer.

Mrs. Oesterreich, jointly indicted with Sanhuber for her husband's murder yesterday, was granted a separate trial starting July 9.

Sanhuber is alleged to have told police of leaving his attic hiding place to shoot Oesterreich as he quarreled with his wife. If a verdict of guilty is returned, his plea of insanity will be taken up separately.

Gold Star Mother, Stricken Ill, Better

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—Mrs. S. M. Reynolds, of Damascus, O., a Gold Star mother returning from France on the S. S. George Washington due here tomorrow, was reported today to be somewhat better after a sudden illness aboard the liner.

PARIS, June 12.—(AP.)—Only three names remain on the Gold Star Mothers' sick list. They are so much improved they may return to the United States on the America, June 19, with others. The convalescents are Mrs. Florence Williams, of Portsmouth, O.; Mrs. J. D. Smith, of Billings, Mont., and Mrs. Margaret Price, of Hiteman, Ia.

PLANE, TROOPS WARN HINDUS

BOMBAY, June 12.—(AP.)—An aerial warning without bombs was given the civil resistance forces in the Punjab today. Following decision by the leaders of Mahatma Gandhi's campaign to strengthen their fight against payment of land taxes, inhabitants of two villages near Lahore telegraphed the Punjab government they would not pay land revenues unless the punitive police stationed there were withdrawn and the punitive tax abolished. An airplane circled the village and troops made a demonstration.

Trouble began at Dacca when a number of Moslems attacked Hindus in the Thatari bazar, but were beaten off. Two Hindus were stabbed by Moslems in a fight at the Maya bazar. WOMAN TELLS OF SEA HORROR

BOSTON, June 12.—A vivid story of the Fairfax disaster in Massachusetts Bay was related by Miss Ruth B. Brown, of 445 Washington street, New Castle, Pa., a stewardess on the Fairfax, here today. Miss Brown was on deck when the crash occurred and witnessed the explosion of the oil tanker. She said:

"The tanker sank almost immediately. God knows what happened to its crew. I could hear their screams dimly through the uproar around me."

Miss Brown and three other stewardesses, after opening the staterooms for the passengers, aided the ship's nurse in caring for the injured.

"I saw blazing oil fall on seven passengers on the forward deck, four of them women, and their clothes immediately ignited," she said. "Their screams rose above the bedlam of fog horns and the hoarse shouts of sailors. One by one they ran to the side of the vessel and leaped.

"By this time a film of flaming oil had been laid on the water about the Fairfax and those who leaped overboard didn't have a chance for life.

Californians More For Daylight Saving

LOS ANGELES, June 12.—(AP.)—An initiative petition carrying 109,000 names, advocating a daylight saving law be placed on the ballot next November, has been filed with the registrar of voters. A similar petition, carrying 27,000 names, recently was filed in San Francisco. Only 92,000 names are needed.

Lose Hope of Passing Muscle Shoals Bill

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(INS.)—Hope of enacting Muscle Shoals legislation at this session of Congress waned today after House and Senate conferees had wrangled for two hours without reaching any agreement.

CAPTAIN'S MEMORY FAILS

Capt. Archibald H. Brooks, of the Fairfax, said he "could not remember" whether the cutter Tampa had offered his ship assistance and a refusal had been the answer, when he testified before a federal hearing today.

Commander S. V. Parker, of the Tampa, reported previously that his ship was only a 20-minute run away from the scene of the disaster and that he offered to give aid when his radio man intercepted a message from the Fairfax to the Gloucester, the ship which finally stood by the Fairfax.

The Tampa was equipped with a first-class hospital bay and could have reached the scene in a short time, it was pointed out.

Commander Parker reported that the Fairfax answered that everything was all right.

INSISTS SOS SENT OUT

Capt. Brooks was asked if he knew that Tampa was within 20 minutes distance and answered that it would not have done any good as flames had engulfed the Fairfax for fully a half mile around.

He declared an SOS call had been ordered by him and had been sent out.

The Fairfax chief testified the radio operator continued to pound out the distress call until his apparatus was broken and the antenna down.

Capt. Brooks denied his crew was negligent on duty and said the tanker gave only one blast just before the impact. It all happened within 30 seconds, he said, and despite his efforts to swing away from the other craft's path, he saw her loom up before his bow.

Franking Privilege Given Taft's Widow

Ex-Mate Follows Princess In Poison Death

FAIR HAVEN, N. J., June 12.—(AP.)—Poison, apparently taken by accident, was declared officially today to have caused the death of Donald Shields Andrews, who in 1915 when a student at Yale eloped with a princess.

His partner in the sensational elopement, Mrs. Alma V. Hayne, also known as the Princess Vetsera, of Austria, took her life by drinking poison at the second victory ball in London in 1919.

Andrews was found dead Tuesday in the $200,000 laboratory he built on the banks of the Shrewsbury River and in which he recently spent much time endeavoring to make precious stones synthetically.

He was the son of Matthew Andrews, of Cleveland, a business associate of Marcus A. Hanna.

His former deceased wife said she was the natural daughter of Crown Prince Rudolph, of Austria, and the Baroness Marie Vetsera who were found dead together in a hunting lodge in 1889. Prior to her marriage with Andrews she had been divorced from a captain of the British flying corps. After their marriage, Andrews and his bride sailed for Europe but he returned alone a month later and they later were divorced.

Hoover Silent as Legge Ends Farm Board Year

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Friends and foes of the man who has been called "Agriculture's Abraham Lincoln" and "The Leader of a Socialistic Fiasco," were wondering today how much longer he would remain at the head of the government's $500,000,000 enterprise in merchandising farm products.

Chairman Alexander H. Legge of the Federal Farm Board, who has clashed frequently and fiercely with President Hoover's intimate friend and advisor, Julius Barnes, over the board's operations in grain, will complete a year of service with that agency at midnight on Saturday.

How long he would serve was announced as indefinite by President Hoover at the time of his appointment. Mr. Legge, the chief executive then said, will be chairman of the board "for the first year at least."

While the opinion here is that Legge will serve another year, neither the President nor the chairman himself has given any official indication of what may be expected. On that subject, Legge is smilingly uncommunicative.

"The big chief will give out that news," he says and refuses to say more.

TRUCK PLUNGES TO R.R. TRACKS AT FREEDOM

Driver Is Hurt and Traffic Tied Up; Crash 2 Weeks Ago Causes Death of Man

Plunging from a viaduct at Freedom in a loaded auto truck, to which a trailer was attached, to the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks below, Everett Weekley, 30 of Akron, today was in Rochester General Hospital in a serious condition. The wreck derailed passenger and freight trains.

Weekley, a driver for the Patton Express Company, Akron, lost control of his machine when he approached a curve on the sloping roadway leading to the aqueduct. His jaw was broken and he has a probable fracture of the skull.

BOYS HURT BY AUTOS

Two small boys of New Kensington were in a serious condition at the Citizens General Hospital today as a result of having been struck by automobiles yesterday.

Raymond Wolfe, 8, son of Dr. R. A. Wolfe, of 3.4 Freeport road, suffered a fracture of the leg and head injuries when struck near his home. Albert Kalil, 4, of 835 Third avenue, suffered a fracture of the leg when hit by a machine in Second avenue near Ninth street.

State Highway Patrolman Dominick Vota was in Columbia Hospital suffering from lacerations of the scalp. He was knocked from his motorcycle when he collided with an auto near Wilkinsburg yesterday.

Anthony Corrigan, 38, of 1703 Arcena street, died this morning in West Penn Hospital from injuries received two weeks ago when hit by an auto on Bigelow boulevard. J. F. Davis, of Punxsutawney, said to be the driver of the machine, was ordered to post bond at the coroner's office.

OTHERS INJURED

In a collision on Ardmore boulevard, Forest Hills, yesterday, four persons were injured. The injured are the Rev. E. M. McFadden, 827 Maryland avenue; William King, 63, 930 Kirkbride street; Clarence Stewart, 53, and his wife, Jessie, 50 of Irwin. The machine driven by Rev. McFadden struck the car operated by Mrs. Naomi Warren, of North Irwin.

Patrolman Hiram D. McAbee, 27, of 4636 Chance street, was cut and bruised when knocked from his motorcycle at Northumberland street and Murray avenue last night. Police arrested Rudolph Davis, of 800 Amberson avenue, as driver of the machine which hit the motorcycle. McAbee was removed to the West Penn Hospital.

KROGER HEADS TO VISIT HERE

Pittsburgh employes of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company will be host tomorrow to Albert H. Morrill, president of the company, and its vice president, Col. C. O. Sherrill, who come to Pittsburgh on their tour of Kroger branches in the United States.

Executive meetings through the day and a final meeting of all employes of the local branch are scheduled. Krogers in Pittsburgh have been established for three years with, according to Morrill, unusual success. The present branch manager, John S. Holdcraft, founded the office.

Doumergue Refuses Gift Horse, Camel

PARIS.—(INS.)—When President Doumergue returned from his tour to French colonies in Northern Africa he brought back many gifts from native chiefs.

The President was obliged to look a gift horse in the mouth and tell the would-be donor that he appreciated his great kindness but had no use for the animal.

Another Caid brought his fleetest camel to the President and begged him to take it with him for his use in the capital! This gift, too, had to be refused.

Moonshine Hidden Beneath Coal Pile

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va.—(INS.)—Despite the balmy weather, Mrs. Nick Metro was making frequent trips to the coal shed in the rear of her home.

Federal and state prohibition agents were puzzled. And a puzzled prohibition agent presages an investigation.

Mrs. Metro was placed under arrest when the agents reported finding a large quantity of moonshine under the coal.

Airplane Plunges Into Water; 6 Saved

ATHENS, Greece, June 12.—(AP.)—Six Americans narrowly escaped death when the airplane in which they were passengers caught fire and sank in Mytilene Harbor Tuesday. Four of them were priests; the other two were Ernest Lindley, newspaperman and his wife, Betty Lindley, a swimming champion.

Disabled Veterans To Name Delegates

Delegates to the national convention of Disabled Veterans, which meets in New Orleans, June 21-29, will be selected tonight by Greater Pittsburgh Chapter, No. 6, in the headquarters, 2411 Butler street. The election will begin at 8 p. m.

SEDAN IN HANDS OF "LEARNING DRIVER" THAT RAN UP STEPS OF HOME

The home of Mrs. James Boyd, 742 North Highland avenue, with the sedan that ran up the steps while Mrs. Elizabeth Mayer, 5714 Wellesley avenue, had made a turn and forgot to right the steering wheel, police reported. Mrs. Mayer was learning to drive.

HOOVER SET TO APPROVE TARIFF

sectional approval or disapproval of this bill.

Not in a generation, perhaps, has a tariff bill been subjected to such a hammering as the dog-eared measure which stands on the eve of adoption.

Attacked by economists, assailed by the entire automotive industry, deplored by foreign trade authorities, and condemned by important groups of consumers, the bill has been foot-balled around in Congress for fully a year and a half. It has been written and rewritten, vamped and revamped, and each time, according to its opponents, it has been made worse.

BASED ON RATE-TRADING

Politics has been its bed-fellow, and rate-trading its chambermaid.

Politics will be in the galleries tomorrow when the exhausted Senate finally stamps its approval on the measure.

Advocates of the bill said they had been informed Senator David A. Reed would vote for it. This, it is believed, will make certain passage of the measure in the Senate. His course had been in doubt.

The Democrats have decided it is the better part of political strategy for the Republicans to accept the responsibility for such an unpopular bill than for the Democrats to take the responsibility for defeating it. Consequently the bill will pass by just enough votes to make it, with White House approval, a Republican measure.

SEE CHANCE TO PROFIT

The political reasoning of the Democrats is more or less simple. Should they defeat the bill and the present business depression continues, they reason it would afford the administration the opportunity to lay the blame for bad business on Democratic shoulders. Then the Republicans could say:

"Oh, well, we tried to bolster up industry and business with a new tariff act that would have brought prosperity, but the bad Democrats wouldn't let us."

The Democrats are not going to give their opponents such an opening. They prefer, rather, to let the bill pass, let the Republicans take the responsibility for it, and also take the responsibility or blame for whatever business evils follow in its wake.

ENVISION RETURN TO POWER

The Democrats believe those evils are going to be sufficient to blast the Republicans out of the power they have enjoyed for a full decade. They are looking not only to the oncoming November, but further ahead to 1932, when the Hoover administration goes to the country for thumbs up or down.

They cannot forget, the Democrats, that it was passage of the Payne-Aldrich bill and the public indignation that followed in its wake that wrecked the administration of William H. Taft. The unpopular Payne-Aldrich measure, with its notorious schedule K, never was subjected to such pummelling as the Smoot-Hawley bill. Nor were its rates so high.

History, they reason, does sometimes repeat itself. And so they are making a bet in the future books that it will in the present instance. Not a few Republican opponents of the tariff act about to be born are fearful that perhaps the Democrats are right.

Wreck at Bellwood Delays P.R.R. Trains

ALTOONA, June 12.—(INS.)—East and westbound traffic on the Middle division, Pennsylvania Railroad, was delayed today when 10 cars of a 98-car eastbound freight train were derailed at Bellwood. The cause is unknown.

Blaze in State Library Quelled

HARRISBURG, June 12.—(AP.)—A company of firemen fought for an hour to extinguish a burning transformer in the basement of the State Library. The blaze, causing little damage, was extinguished by firemen assisted by a squad of workmen from a power company.

A new Curtis Gypsy Moth airplane, with safety slotted wings, is for sale. It has only been used for display purposes.

Six acres of land on Windgap road, near Ingram car barn, is for sale for $3,500, a real bargain.

An out-of-town firm wants an auto fender and body repairman—also an auto spring maker. The work will be steady.

An experienced saleswoman is wanted to sell a nationally advertised item for women's needs to department and drug stores in Pittsburgh and nearby cities. She must be experienced, under 35 and possess a pleasing sales personality. The position promises a splendid future for a successful producer.

FAKE INSURANCE MEN SOUGHT

State police of the Perrysville detail today were searching for two men for questioning in connection with the alleged solicitation of automobile insurance in Bakerstown last night. Premiums approximating $300 were obtained, police were told.

Becoming suspicious of the solicitors' actions, Bakerstown men tried to hold the strangers pending arrival of state police. Two who jumped on the running boards of the pair's car were pushed off, they told police. Members of the detail who started toward Bakerstown were met halfway by residents of the town and informed the solicitors' trail had been lost.

Asks Jail Sentence To End Rum Craving

The best way to keep away from liquor, according to Edward Harper, 63, is to keep away from liquor. And the best place to keep away is in jail.

That was Harper's plea before Magistrate J. J. O'Connor after Harper walked into a police station and asked to be arrested. This conversation ensued.

"How long do you want to stay in jail?"

"Ten days," replied Harper.

"Five days or $5."

"I'll take five days."

He was accommodated.

German Show Boat Plans Long Cruise

WEIMAR, Germany.—An old cargo vessel has been bought and rebuilt into a theater ship by persons interested in the National Theater at Weimar, Germany. It is planned to sail from Hamburg in September on an 18-months' cruise to many of the ports of Europe and America. The ship contains a fully equipped modern theater and the actors will all be from the National Theater at Weimar. Classical and modern German plays will be presented.

Statue to Hubbard Unveiled June 19

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 12.—(AP.)—The Roycrofters at East Aurora have completed a memorial statue of Elbert Hubbard, which will be unveiled Thursday, June 19, with a celebration extending through four days. The statue rests upon a white marble base, carved and brought from Ireland, near the scene of the Lusitania disaster, in which Hubbard lost his life.

Naval Treaty Envoy En Route to Tokio

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(AP.)—Reijiro Wakatsuki, former premier of Japan and chief Japanese delegate to the recent London naval conference, arrived here today en route to Tokio, accompanied by 22 other members of the Japanese delegation.

CENSUS DROPS IN MANHATTAN

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—Manhattan—the core of Father Knickerbocker's domain and oldest of his five boroughs—lost 430,164 residents in the last decade, leaving a 1930 population of 1,853,939 compared with 2,284,103 10 years ago, preliminary census figures disclose.

Every one of the four Manhatton census districts, except the Washington Heights section at the northern end of the island, has shown a loss. The greatest decrease is indicated in the district at the southern end, housing Chinatown, Wall Street, the lower East Side, and the Bowery, with a loss of 246,371.

CHICAGO GAINS

CHICAGO, June 12.—Chicago's population today was revealed to be 3,373,753, a gain of 24.8 per cent. The increase over the 1920 census was 672,048.

5 HELD AFTER DRY RAIDS

Five persons were released on their own recognizance by prohibition agents in as many raids yesterday.

A roadhouse in the McKnight road, Ross Township, yielded the raiders a large quantity of ale, they said. George Daniels, 49, alleged proprietor, was released on his own recognizance.

Other raids reported were on the homes of Ross Turks, Harwick; Louis Dravana, 7 Oberlin street, West View; Constant Homieiski, 85 Spruce street, Natrona, and Adam Omieczinski, 57 Pine street, Natrona. Liquor law violations were said to have been discovered in each.

Chicago Will Have Tasteless Water

Richard W. Wolfe, commissioner of public works in Chicago, announced that the city has perfected a method for the complete elimination of taste-producing compounds from its supply of drinking water. This important discovery in connection with treating water will ultimately give Chicago the purest drinking water in the country, according to Wolfe. The city engineer explains the process as "superchlorination, followed by dechlorination." The chlorination of the water extracts the objectionable taste and carbon is used to remove the waste. Then the water is treated with lime.

U. S. Ranks First In Fur Production

LEIPZIG.—(INS.)—Not Russia, as generally supposed, but America is the greatest fur-producing land on earth.

This is made evident by the American exhibit at the IPA, the International Fur Exposition, now completed by the arrival of Frank G. Ashbrook, American government commissioner, with all material.

A striking exhibit is a clock with the explanation that at every swing of its pendulum, two skins of fur-bearing animals are secured, four are imported and one exported, and $16 worth of furs are sold by retailers.

Missing 15 Years, Boy Rejoins Family

UDINE, Italy.—(AP.)—Missing 15 years, ever since he was separated from his father in an Austrian concentration camp in what is now Jugo-Slavia, young Valentino Flocco has at last rejoined his family. After straying from the internment depot, young Flocco wandered about Croatia, working on farms, and when finally found by consular authorities of his native country he had forgotten his Italian speech.

BUILDING RAILS OPPOSED IN COUNCIL

Jones & Laughlin Asks City To Abolish Their Use Here; Move Called Selfish

Council is considering the abolition of the use of tee-rails in the construction of concrete buildings.

The abolition is asked by the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, and opposed chiefly by the Franklin Steel Company.

W. T. Mossman representing Jones and Laughlin, informed Council at a hearing yesterday, that the use of rails was made legal as a war measure and that their abolition will help Pittsburgh products.

WILL HURT INDUSTRY

C. F. Mackey and Edward E. Hughes, representing the Franklin Steel Company, said the amount sold here is negligible, but that passage of the ordinance in "the greatest steel center of the world" would give the entire industry a "black eye."

"We buy our supplies here," said Mr. Mackey. "Franklin is part of the Pittsburgh district. Besides our wives come here to shop."

Most states and most large cities authorize steel rails, they contended, bringing a long list of large buildings in which rails were used. No denial was made that the rails were just as safe and possibly cheaper.

OBJECTS TO TESTIMONIAL

"I object to our own city being used as a testimonial for the sale of material not made here, in other cities," said Mossman.

"I believe it is selfish for your company to seek a monopoly here," said Hughes, supported by Robert Garland, who said abolition of rails would be insular.

"If we don't help Pittsburgh, who will?" demanded W. Y. English. "The Interstate Commerce Commission won't. We don't get any help from them."

"We will try to help Pittsburgh," said Hughes.

The entire matter was held over for a week.

CHINESE REBELS MENACE CITY

SHANGHAI, June 12.—(AP).—Sweeping the Nationalist government troops aside, victorious Kwangsi province rebel armies advanced northward in three columns upon Yangtse River cities. The progress of these Southern rebels and the continued onslaught of the Northern rebels in Shantung and Honan provinces combined to make the situation extremely serious for China's government.

The Kwangsi forces, augmented by thousands of bandits, routed the Nationalists at Yochow and continued toward Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, industrial and strategic center of Middle China.

One column moved directly toward this objective, 200 miles by railroad from Yochow. Another column swung around Lake Tungting, unopposed, toward Shasi, Yangtse River city, about 250 miles above Hankow, and a third body of rebels penetrated to within 20 miles of Kiukiang, important city about 150 miles down river from Hankow.

Beaten both at Yochow and Changsha, Hunan province, the Nationalists massed 70,000 troops in Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang to halt the rebels. The trio cities were under martial law as troops patrolled the streets.

Scientist Returns From South Seas

HONOLULU.—After spending more than a year in the deeper South Seas, Dr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder have returned with a distinguished record of scientific attainment of a very practical kind.

Dr. Wilder is a horticulturist, who has given much of his time to the study of tropic and semi-tropic plants, fruits and flowers. He was sent by the Bishop Museum here, which conducts scientific explorations—to the Cook Society, Marquesas and other islands to secure trees and plants which might be beneficial to Hawaii. The expedition from which he and his wife have just returned is his third.

Hawaii to Receive Road Building Fund

WASHINGTON.—The bureau of roads has approved an allotment of $100,000 for a highway connecting the "kona side" of the island of Hawaii with the site of Kilauea Volcano, one of the great natural wonders of the world. The territory must match this with $100,000 on its own account, a condition readily met there. The territory for years has been working to get adequate federal aid for its road-building program, based on the principle that as Hawaii is an organized territory and a full-fledged part of the American Union, federal aid should be extended.

Arrested Consul Demands Apology

EVANSTON, Ill., June 12.—(AP.)—George Depasta, consul general for Greece in Chicago, wants the chief of police to apologize.

Depasta was arrested for driving past a stop sign—no trifling matter in Evanston. He told the arresting officer that he was immune to arrest for such a minor law infraction, but the officer, unschooled in international amenities, paid no attention.

MARION DAVIES AND GEORGE CHANDLER ON TANDEM BICYCLE IN "FLORODORA GIRL"

Man Fashion's Slave, Not Woman, Marion Davies Style Writer Says

Women have won their emancipation from clothes and will never give up the new freedom!

This was the opinion expressed by Clyde F. Dreisbach, of the Illinois Athletic Club, Chicago, Ill., in a letter submitted in the Marion Davies Style Contest.

CONTRASTS STYLES

"Contrast woman's freedom with the bondage of man," wrote Dreisbach.

"How long must we men remain in bondage? How long must we be shackled with vests, coats, belts, suspenders, long trousers and stiff collars?

"When will we ever get the courage to proclaim for ourselves some of the liberty enjoyed by our sisters, wives, mothers and sweethearts?"

Among the other letters received at the New Pantages Theater, where Marion Davies' latest picture, "The Florodora Girl," is being shown, were the following:

PAJAMA ADVOCATE

"The pajama is the only costume I can imagine being an improvement on the present style of women's dress, and if we must have a change, why can it not be pajamas?

"Pajamas would not only be comfortable, sensible, chic and charming, but they would eliminate the expense of silk hosiery, and this would mean a big item in the present day girl's expense account. They might appear ridiculous, or even scandalous, at first, but was not the short skirt the same when it first made its appearance, together with bobbed hair? We are accustomed to being shocked these days, and we would soon recover from any shock pajamas might give us.

"NANCY LEE.

"801 James St., San Francisco, Calif."

MORALS DON'T COUNT

"The present day styles for women are not (as some would have us believe) the result of moral decline, but a wise movement originating in the gay nineties, of women themselves, to popular hygienic consider the majority of the ladies as a total loss to the race. I believe most men will agree with me (that is if they are not in love) that 'most women do as they please' regardless of morals.

"ROBERT P. FRANKLIN,

"1243 Morningside Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa."

PREFERS LONG SKIRTS

"I prefer the long skirts because it saves a lot of arguing with my husband, of which he was always contrary to the short garments.

"MRS. ANGELINA COSTA,

263 Sixtieth St., Brooklyn, N. Y."

FEWER THE BETTER

"Today the watchword is 'efficiency,' and to attain efficiency in anything one must discard all that is unnecessary.

"MABEL S. BYER.

"92 Elm St., Somerville, Mass."

HIT HAPPY MEDIUM

"You know, though, it has been said that we should use moderation in all things, and I think that the best method in solving this problem would be to strike the happy medium, and wear clothes which are most appropriate for each occasion.

"MRS. M. H. CHANDLER,

"507 Capitol Ave., Atlanta, Ga."

MUST WORK FAST

"This is the day when we must think fast, act fast, and dress fast. We have no time for the 'lug' in luggage.

"NINA KATRINA BLESI.

"132 King St., San Antonio, Texas."

MODEST MINISTER

"Clothing and make it suitable for the place in life's business and recreational activities, which the women of the National Dress Reform foresaw for the so-called weaker sex.

"REV. T. J. O'CONNOR.

"4422 Latona Avenue, Seattle, Wash."

LIKES 'EM SHORT

"I vote medium long chiffon for evening and knee length for work and afternoon. Women never were so comfortable in their lives as they are now, so why suffer again with bustles and yards of material. I am a telephone operator; and I thank heavens I don't have to be bothered with long skirts all day.

"MISS HAZEL RIDDELL,

"18094 Trinity Ave., Detroit, Mich."

KEEP PAST BURIED

"Why bring up the past. Let it stay dead. Honestly, I don't believe anyone in their right mind will ever want to see the old styles of the gay nineties back.

"I believe I will always stick to my short and comfortable clothes. There is no doubt some of us do wear them too short. Gee! They are cool, comfortable and easy to wash and keep clean.

"MRS. RALPH STAIR,

Can You Write On Style?

Do you hemember the famous Florodora Sextette?

Are you familiar with the styles of the gay nineties?

Do you prefer those styles to the fashions for women today?

Do you think those styles are coming back?

Put your ideas in a letter and send it to Miss Marion Davies, the New Pantages Theater, Hollywood.

$1,000 in prizes will be awarded for the best letters.

$500 will be paid for the best letter from a woman.

$500 will be paid for the best letter from a man.

New Light Metal Stronger Than Steel

The Drekolias International Corporation announced that it has obtained the secret formula for the manufacture of an unnamed metal which is lighter than aluminum and stronger than steel. This metal, says the company, may prove to be of inestimable value in the aviation, automobile and shipbuilding industries. The formula was conceived by a German scientist but developed after his death by an American chemist.

Canadian Lines Use 5,670 Locomotives

The 246,600 of Canada's railway cars of all sorts would not be of very much use unless there was some motive power to haul them. This brings the great puffing and powerful modern locomotives, pride of the engineer and fireman, into the story. The Canadian railroads own a total of 5,670 engines. Of these locomotives 1,488 are employed in the passenger service, 3,384 in freight hauling, 756 in switching; 42 engines are run by electric power.

Crown Prince Given Bunch of Asparagus

TURIN, Italy.—(AP.)—Conscripts of this year's army class from the Valley of Lanzo presented an unusual and practical boquet to Crown Prince Humbert when he received them in audience here.

Their gift was a great stack of the asparagus for which their countryside is famous.

FIVE FACE CHAIR IN KENTUCKY

EDDYVILLE, Ky., June 12.—(AP.)—The early morning hours of Friday, the thirteenth, today loomed closer for a white man and four Negroes sentenced to be electrocuted here, as the fate of at least three of them hung in the balance.

While Warden L. R. Gumm went about his grim duties of preparing the death seat for what he describes as "the solemn procedure," Gov. Flem D. Sampson was considering pleas for last minute stays for three of the Negroes.

The men sentenced to die are Ballard E. Ratcliffe, 35; Richard Edmonds, 36; John Keller, 27; James Grigsby, 38, and Lloyd Williams, 24, the latter four Negroes.

Apparently little hope is held for Ratcliffe and Edmonds. Ratcliffe was convicted of the hammer slaying of W. A. Muse, 64, who was struck and robbed as he knelt to place flowers on his wife's grave in a Louisville cemetery. Edmonds, together with Keller and Grigsby, were found guilty of the murder of Harry S. Long, 55, night watchman of a Louisville laundry. Williams was sentenced for shooting to death Herbert R. Porter, 41, Louisville.

Following the announcement yesterday by Warden Gumm that Edmonds had admitted killing Long, and exonerated Keller and Grigsby, Gov. Sampson held a conference with Pardon Commissioner J. L. Hughett, police officers and Republican leaders.

VET HOSPITAL BILL PRESSED

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—After a day of caucusing, calling at the White House and the Veterans' Bureau, the Pennsylvania congressional delegation, through a specially appointed committee, prepared to press its appeal before the Rules Committee for authority to take the Darrow Naval Hospital bill from the unanimous consent calendar and debate it on the floor of the House.

The delegation at its morning caucus, which was held behind closed doors, and lasted four hours, appointed a sub-committee composed of Representatives Darrow and Welsh, of Philadelphia; Temple, of Washington, and Leech, of Ebensburg, to wait on the Rules Committee and present a resolution which pointed out reasons for the proposed new hospital.

1-Boy Senior Class Has Colors, Motto

PENNINGTON, Cal.—(INS.)—Valedictorian, salutatorian and, in fact, the entire graduating class of the North Butte School is Glenn Wilson.

Girl to Act in U. S. Ibsen's Grandchild

PARIS.—(Universal.)—America is about to offer hospitality to the granddaughter of Henrik Ibsen. In October, Miss Lillebil Ibsen will arrive in New York to appear on the stage under the management of Horace Liveright. Liveright said he believed her to be a Raquel Meller and Ruth Draper wrapped up in one.

Week of Kindness Succeeds in Paris

PARIS.—(INS.)—Paris' Week of Kindness, another annual affair, was a great success this year. In spite of the proverbial hard times, practically every citizen untied his purse-strings and gave what he could to penniless old people, blinded civilians and ex-soldiers, the sick, the homeless and the children of the poor.

Forty of These Exquisite

Van Santen Etchings

Greatly Underpriced

$18.75

Just in time for June wedding gifts comes this exceptional selling of etchings by Van Santen, noted for his soft, mellow tones and masterful execution. We cannot emphasize too strongly the nature of the values at this price, nor the timeliness of the opportunity.

In their framing, a special lined mat has been used, to harmonize with the colorings of the picture. The sizes vary, but most of them are 24x30 inches.

Among the subjects, all limited editions, are French canal, street, harbor, bridge and windmill scenes. Every etching is signed by the artist.

Imported Decorative Chairs

Upholstered in French Damask

$29.50

These hand-carved chairs are our own direct importation from Belgium. Under any other circumstances they would be much higher in price. They are designed on the graceful lines of the Louis XVI period, with brass nail studding. They are of a good size, the seats being 19x24 inches.

They are upholstered in French damask in beautiful soft shades of green, rose, beige and blue. There are few homes that could not use a chair of this type to advantage. One of them would make an excellent wedding gift for the June bride.

Delightful Afternoon Frock
Pattern 1956
Sun-Telegraph 15c Practical Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

A charming model for summer afternoons has shoulder capes that fall gracefully over the arms. The flared skirt joins the bodice, front and back, in downward points that tend to slenderize the figure and form a snug, well-fitting hip section. Several rows of shirrings at the waist afford additional fullness and grace in the bodice.

Pattern 1956 is delightful fashioned of plain or printed chiffon, georgette, voile or silk crepe. A large floral design on a ground of either light or dark tone will make up beautifully. The pastel shades are particularly lovely in sheer fabrics.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40. Size 14 requires 3 yards of 39-inch material.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE wanted.

Our BOOK of PATTERNS for adults and children, also transfer patterns, is FIFTEEN CENTS, but only TEN CENTS when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Sun-Telegraph Pattern Department, 243 West Seventeenth street, New York City.

Pitt Dean to Speak at Nurses' Graduation

NEW CASTLE, Pa., July 12.—Graduation exercises for nurses of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Training School will be held Friday evening of next week in the Highland United Presbyterian Church. Miss Thrysa Amos, dean of women at the University of Pittsburgh, will make the principal address.

COURT DELAYS VOTE DECISION

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 12.—No decision will be made by the court before Friday on the disputed perforated ballots used in 372 districts in Luzerne County at the state-wide primary on May 20.

This was announced by President Judge William S. McLean at the conclusion of a three-hour conference which ended at 10:30 last night.

HARRISBURG, June 12.—(AP.)—Allegations that the male student body of West Chester State Teachers' College were voted at the May 20 primary as residents of Chester County were laid before Dr. John A. H. Keith, superintendent of public instruction, by representatives of the Pennsylvania Elections Association.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(AP.)—A loss of 167 votes for Francis Shunk Brown and a gain of 29 for Gifford Pinchot were reported by the official representative of the election court, in the opening of ballot boxes upon petition of the Pinchot forces in nine city divisions.

KOREANS HELD AFTER BATTLE

TOKIO, June 12.—(AP.)—Twenty-two alleged Korean terrorists were arrested following a fierce engagement with the Japanese consular police near Lungchingstun, in the Chientao district of Kirin province, Manchuria, the Japanese consul for the district reported.

Township Students Lose School Credits

YOUNGSTOWN, Pa., June 12.—Three high school girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Clark, learned that all their work in high school so far is without official credit, simply because Mineral Township, where they reside, won't pay for their tuition. There is no high school in that district.

He never suspected that 'B.O.' (Body Odor) stood between him and success until—

GOOD appearance, pleasing manners, ambitious, hard-working—why was his record so poor? Why was it so hard for him to see prospects a second time?

One day the new salesmanager sent for him. Talked to him frankly about a subject people generally avoid—"B.O.", the polite name for body odor. Suggested a simple safeguard . . . Now he's one of the crack salesmen in the organization—salary and commissions mounting fast. "B.O." no longer bars him from success.

Summer a danger time for "B.O."

Scorching sun. Stuffy, breathless nights. We couldn't endure them unless we perspired freely. But this means extra care against "B.O." Remember, though we don't notice it in ourselves, others do! Play safe. Wash and bathe with Lifebuoy. Once you try this delightful toilet soap, no other will satisfy. Lathers marvelously—even in hardest water. And this rich, creamy, antiseptic lather penetrates pores, cleanses so thoroughly there's not a trace of "B.O." left. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Brings new skin beauty

Millions of women sing the praises of Lifebuoy as a complexion soap. Its bland, soothing, searching lather gently frees pores of clogged impurities—freshens dull, sallow skins—promotes healthy, radiant beauty. Adopt Lifebuoy today. LEVER BROTHERS CO., Cambridge, Mass.

FRIDAY
A Remarkable Sale of DRESSES
You Never Saw Such Values

Another Value-Sensation at Harris! A Sale That Women and Misses Will Talk About All Summer Long! We Claim, and Will Back That Claim With Dresses, That You Have Never Attended an Event to Compare With This!

We are purposely refraining from stating the true worth of these dresses! We'll let you be the judge! And if the women who attend the sale buy less than two or three, we'll be greatly mistaken! There are seven different designers who contributed to this sale—each a creator of style-successes! One gave us the Washable Silks . . . another the Flowered Crepes . . . three sent us those new Pastel Silks . . . and the others shipped the smart Town and Afternoon Crepes that you need in your summer wardrobe! There are sports dresses, sleeveless dresses, cape dresses, novelty collar and cuff styles, frilly ideas and many, many other fashions—in a color range that will simply amaze you.

WEDDING season is in our midst, and there comes the embarrassment of wondering what is the proper gift to give the bride. The only correct answer is "Jewelry," whether the donor be the groom with his rope of pearls, or a friend or relative. How nice to start a silver service, to give pieces to augment her flat silver. Silver vases, pitchers, dresser sets or coffee and tea services. You know when you purchase that it will always be her most cherished gift—and its value never lessens. Give jewelry to the bride. For timely selections, read the advertising columns of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

OHIO SUPPORTS RATE FIGHT

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—The matter of freight rate inequalities affecting the Midwest steel industry in particular has been brought forcibly to the attention of traffic departments since May 20, officials of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company advised today. This is due to the imposition at that time of higher rates on short hauls which especially affected Youngstown shippers and of higher intra-city rates, which increased the freight bills of Pittsburgh shippers, especially. In the latter case, rates were more than doubled.

In the case of short hauls, rates have increased from 75 to 125 per cent. Youngstown tonnage destined for Cleveland, a large market for Mahoning Valley mills, is affected by this increase. In all cases, the seller is obliged to meet the higher rates rather than the buyer, because of keen competition for going business.

Youngstown steel makers say they have been discriminated against for many years in the matter of freight charges on limestone, which is used in large tonnages in the manufacture of pig iron.

DEFICIENCY BILL BEFORE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—The House received from its Appropriations Committee the final supply bill of the session, recommending a direct outlay of $66,211,884 for deficiencies in this year's operating funds of various government departments and agencies.

The measure carries authority for the Secretary of the Treasury to expend $51,000,000 to settle claims of German, Austrian and Hungarian nationals under the mixed claims and tri-partite commissions. In addition to reappropriating the unexpended balances, a bill provided $250,000 for the Hoover Law Enforcement Commission.

It set aside $25,000,000 for public building projects, and $4,037,840 for administrative and other expenses.

The committee recommended $10,660,000 for initial work on the $165,000,000 Boulder Canyon Dam project on the Colorado River.

GREETING CARD FOLLOWS DEATH

An Easter greeting sent from Cleveland to the late Dr. Aime Leteve, noted Pittsburgh physician, was evidence for his widow that, in spite of all her efforts, Dr. Leteve's sister, Mrs. Marie Leteve Baptiste, had not heard of his death several months before. Mrs. Leteve tried vainly to get in touch with Mrs. Baptiste in Cleveland, but her address was unknown and the telegrams and messages were never delivered.

Mrs. Baptiste

Finally, through the postmaster in Cleveland, Mrs. Baptiste was located and it was not until last Saturday that she heard of her brother's death. She came to Pittsburgh then and has been spending the past few days with Mrs. Leteve at her home on Lang avenue. She was greatly shocked at the news of her brother's death and grieved that she was unable to be here for the last rites.

Works Resigns at Connecticut Aggies

STORRS, Conn., June 12.—(AP.)—Dr. George Allan Works, who less than a year ago came here from Chicago to become president of Connecticut Agricultural College, announced his resignation today. He will sever his connection with the college at the close of the regular term and return to the University of Chicago as a professor.

Broaddus To Give 40 Scholarships

PHILIPPI, W. Va., June 12.—(AP.)—Trustees of Broaddus College today decided to grant 40 scholarships to high school students next term and to cut tuition from $75 to $60 a semester. A budget was adopted calling for the reduction of outstanding debts by $40,000 during 1930-31. All present members of the faculty were invited to return.

Dying Telegrapher Sets Signals, Saves Wreck

MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—Stricken with a heart attack, Evan Protheroe, a Reading Railroad telegrapher, set the signals on his block before he fell to the floor dead. His action was credited with preventing a wreck.

"I am ill," Protheroe wired from his tower at Mount Carmel Junction to the train dispatcher at Shamokin. The dispatcher quickly sent back a plea to "set the signals."

Some minutes later when a freight train pulled to a stop at the junction in response to the signals, the crew found Protheroe dead in the tower. Another freight pulled up a few minutes later. Had the signals not been set, railroad men said, the two trains would have collided.

CHURCH HONORS DR. KERR

Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, who recently was elected moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, was honored at a reception last night in the church rooms. Members of the congregation, prominent clergymen of the city and friends of the clergyman gathered to honor him. The reception was sponsored by the Men's Club and the Session of the church.

H. A. Nomer, headmaster at Shadyside Academy, made the principal address. Other speakers were Dr. James A. Kelso, president of the Western Theological Seminary; the Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan, of the Third Presbyterian Church; Dr. C. B. Weible, moderator of the Pittsburgh Presbytery, and Dr. Kerr. The speakers were introduced by Eugene L. Connelly, president of the Men's Club, who presided.

Former Bank Clerk Gets 10-Year Term

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(AP.)—Joseph E. Heath, Jr., former clerk at the Continental-Equitable Title and Trust Company, who recently pleaded guilty to four indictments charging embezzlement and two charging him with making false entries in books of account, was sentenced to 10 to 20 years in Eastern state penitentiary. The embezzlement involved the theft of $17,000 from the bank.

SISTERS RESIST EVICTION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 12.—(AP.)—Two sisters, who defended with guns what they believed was their right to their home, were in jail today after their arrest by a squad of policemen who stormed the house with tear gas bombs.

The women, Miss Leonore Smyth, 38, and Miss May Smyth, 40, had disregarded a court order to vacate the Pacific avenue house in which they lived for many years.

Two constables and an under sheriff attempted yesterday to serve a writ of eviction. May Smyth opened fire on them with a revolver. They ran from the place, and, reinforced by five police officers, returned again.

VOLCANO QUIET; LOSS SMALL

TOKIO, June 12.—(AP.)—The eruption of Asama volcano, near Karuizawa, which startled the countryside yesterday and threatened considerable damage, ceased early today, and the forest fires, started by the flowing lava in the forests on the lower slopes of the mountain, were brought under control.

Observers said the loss would be small.

Boy Hunter Drags Gun, Fatally Shot

PINEVILLE, W. Va., June 12.—(AP.)—A hunting trip with a shot-gun secretly taken from his grandfather's home ended in the death of Winford Jackson, 11, near here yesterday. The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Jackson, of Itmann, was visiting his grandfather, and slipped from the house carrying the gun. It was discharged when he dragged it behind him while climbing through a fence.

PRESS SEARCH FOR YOUTH

The ninth-month search for young James F. Manning, Jr., 15-year-old boy scout who disappeared from home last October, continues today with no fresh clue as to his whereabouts.

James Manning

The lad vanished shortly after his father, a railroad worker, was forced by a transfer of his work to move from Aspinwall to the South Side. James did not like the change, his father says, and the Mannings fear he ran away from home because of it.

Radio broadcasting, police efforts—all attempts to find the lad have been futile. When he disappeared, he wore a blue lumber jacket, green shirt, light trousers, small red hat with initial "U" upon it.

He was 5 feet 4 inches in height, had light hair, blue eyes, and weighed about 130 pounds.

His mother and father await news of his whereabouts at their new home at 410 S. Atlantic avenue.

Arnold Graduation Scheduled Tonight

Silver Coins Fill Street as Two Cars Crash

BLOOMFIELD, Ill., June 12. (INS.)—Bloomfield's 15 policemen today finished their unaccustomed task of keeping a crowd back with one hand, figuratively speaking, and picking up a flood of dimes and quarters with the other.

A Brink's money express, making the rounds of the suburb's theaters, was struck by an automobile and knocked over on its side, tossing the money bags all over the street. Within a few minutes a big crowd was at the scene, scrambling for the coins.

DUTCH APPROVE PACT WITH U. S.

THE HAGUE, June 12.—(AP.)—The first chamber of the states general today approved the arbitration treaty concluded between the United States and the Netherlands January 13 in Washington.

The chamber also adopted bills regarding revision of a statute of the permanent Court of International Justice, and concerning adhesion by the United States to a protocol of the court, adopted by the assembly of the League of Nations last year.

CASTE IN ARMY HIT BY HURLEY

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 12.—(INS.)—Addressing the "future generals" from this year's graduating class at West Point today, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley admonished them not to consider themselves "in the regular establishment as an organization standing apart."

Inferentially he was warning them against "caste" in the greater military organization since the war, comprising civilian components as well as "regulars." He lauded the West Point training, but said the purpose of the institution was not to create militarists, but leaders to preserve the safety of the nation.

LEAGUE COURT ISSUE BEFORE CLUB WOMEN

Denver Delegates to Hear Report of Committee on International Relations

DENVER, June 12.—(AP.)—Turning from the diversion of a "play day" in the Colorado Rockies, west of Denver, delegates to the twentieth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs prepared for the discussion of the possibility of United States entrance into the League Court.

The nearly 2,000 visitors toured the Denver mountain parks, stopping at the summit of Lookout Mountain after a drive over the winding lariat trail to pay homage at the grave of Col. William Cody (Buffalo Bill).

Historic Bergen Park, further back in the mountains, was the scene of an informal luncheon and the delegates returned to Denver down scenic Bear Creek Canon.

The delegates met at Convention Hall last night for a program presented by state presidents and the junior organization.

The report of election of officers is scheduled for today, the polls having been open all day Tuesday.

Mrs. Ben Hooper, of Oshkosh, Wis., chairman of the committee on international relations, will present her report and lead discussion of the proposed step to throw the influence of the federation behind the League Court movement. In an interview she said:

"The Federation has heretofore gone on record and worked for the entrance of the United States into the League Court. The time has come when more intensive work must be added to words. The general federation has asked for the entrance of the United States into the court and we will ask again and again if necessary."

Revenge Blamed In Firing Of Auto

BUTLER, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—The automobile of Alex Shott, who said his life had been threatened, was stolen and was found along a side-road five miles from here with the interior destroyed by fire. State police are striving to unravel the mystery, which had its inception recently when Shott is said to have pocketed money found in his car after it had been stolen the night before. Later he received a note signed "a desperate man" in which it was said Shott would be killed or his sons stolen and taken to New York.

AIR VOYAGERS TO VISIT ERIE

DETROIT, June 12.—(AP.)—Twenty-six towns and cities in six states and the province of Ontario will be visited by the seaplanes of the Great Lakes Air-Water Cruise, August 8 to 17, Wayne J. Sheldon, cruise commander, announced today.

The cruise will start at Detroit, visiting the following cities: Toledo, Conneaut, O.; Erie, Pa.; Buffalo; Hamilton, Ontario; Toronto, Barrie and Little Current, Ontario; St. Ignace, Sault Ste Marie and Munising, Mich; Port Arthur, Ontario; Duluth, Minn.; Houghton and Marquette, Mich.; Green Bay, Sheboygan, Milwaukee and Racine, Wis.; Chicago; Muskegon, Traverse City, Petoskey, Alpena, Bay City and Port Huron, Mich., and return to Detroit.

PLANES TO FLY AT VETS' MEET

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Twelve fighting planes from Quantico, Va., will fly over Wilkes-Barre June 19 and 20, Representative C. Murray Turpin, of Kingston, announced. The event will be in connection with the Pennsylvania Encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Arrangements for the plane visit were made by Representative Turpin after he and James E. Van Zandt, Altoona, commander of the Department of Pennsylvania, Veterans of Foreign Wars, had called on President Hoover and Rear Admiral William H. Standley, assistant chief of naval operations, and Lieut. Commander R. E. Davison of the Bureau of Aeronautics.

An additional request made by Representative Turpin, which Commander Davison said he hoped to be able to grant, was that the planes be commanded by First Lieut. Clarence F. Schilt who was decorated for heroism by President Hoover for meritorious service at Ocotal, Nicaragua.

COUNCIL IN ROW IN NAMING ENGINEER

New Job Created, Pay Raises Voted; Marsh's Assistant Gets Support

While officers of the Better Traffic Commission are seeking to increase the pay of the city traffic engineer to attract a man to the vacancy, 37 out of 52 members of the commission have urged Donald McNeil, present assistant engineer, for the post according to Councilman Robert J. Alderdice.

Alderdice when the matter came before council yesterday declared the 37 members had signed a petition urging McNeil for the post with the salary increase mentioned.

Council, however, voted to approve an ordinance increasing the pay of traffic engineer from $5,000 to $7,500, and of the assistant engineer from $3,900 to $4,000 and to create a new job as traffic planner at $4,000 a year.

WANT PITT PROFESSOR

Burton W. Marsh recently resigned the post of traffic engineer to accept a similar position in Philadelphia at $7,400 annually. The man the officers of the Better Traffic Commission hope to get is L. W. McIntyre professor of engineering at the University of Pittsburgh.

Frank L. Duggan, chairman and Edward Snodgrass, vice chairman of the commission appeared to urge approval of the ordinance, Duggan saying:

"I believe we are raising the standard of the position."

Alderdice told of the McNeil petition and told of the advantage of advancing men already working for the city. Snodgrass answered:

"I have the highest regard for McNeil. He is a very capable man and eventually he will be ready for an executive position, but the man we have in mind is nationally known and has had more experience."

ARGUE OVER PETITIONS

Alderdice insisted:

"But 32 members of your commission signed McNeil's petition."

Snodgrass' come-back was:

"You know how petitions are signed. Probably if McNeil had asked me to sign the petition I would have done so myself. We did not have another man in mind then."

Then said Alderdice:

"I've asked a lot of people to sign petitions for me. Big business men, too. When they signed I took it for granted that they meant it."

HERRON INTERVENES

President John S. Herron interrupts:

"We don't want to affront Mr. McNeil. His name wasn't even mentioned until you brought it up here, Alderdice."

The councilman retorted:

"They shouldn't have signed the petitions if they did not mean for this young man to have the job."

Herron's last word was:

"The Mayor has the appointment."

$500,000 Granted To Provide New School Tests

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—If the bobby-sox set of the next generation may find more fun than worry in their examinations in school, Charles H. Marsh, director of the American Council on Education, announced today receipt of a $500,000 grant from the general education board for 10 years' support of the council's research on objective tests.

When objective tests of achievement are available, Marsh said, officials will be able to promote students on a basis of proficiency rather than on the present basis of time credits.

FUMES DEATH HELD ACCIDENT

Accidental death was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest today for the death of Mrs. Evelyn Lipke, of 514 Edmond street, who died June 5 from inhaling hydrocyanic gas being used in fumigating an apartment next door.

This recommendation was included in the verdict by the jury:

"We recommend that those in authority in the various government units of Allegheny County investigate practices carried on in fumigating dwellings, factories, etc., with the purpose of creating proper ordinances to control those who might be carrying on a business using poisonous gas or other chemicals to destroy bugs, etc."

Harry P. Reiser, of 1027 Semple street, representative of the Hi-Power Fumigating Company, testified that Mrs. Lipke had been warned twice by her landlady that the fumigating was to take place.

BOYS HERE WIN CULVER HONORS

Five Pittsburghers were among the graduates who received diplomas at the commencement exercises at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., yesterday.

They are Leo D. Hochstetter, 5439 Baywood street; John G. Holmes, 705 Devonshire street; Elliott E. Perritt, Jr., 214 North Linden avenue; Andrew McM. Wright, 231 Steuben street, and William J. Young, 1130 Negley avenue. Hochstetter and Holmes were elected to the Cum Laude Society for high scholarships. Young won a gold medal for horsemanship and Perritt was second in the riding contests.

Jenny Dolly Wins $80,000 in Night At Baccarat

LE TOUQUET, France, June 12.—(AP.)—Jenny Dolly, American dancer, had a run of luck at a new baccarat table in the Casino today, carrying off winnings which other players estimated at 2,000,000 francs, about $80,000.

She left at dawn after an all-night session at the table and took the banknotes with her.

Pennington Files Padlock Petitions

Judge R. M. Gibson in Federal Court today granted preliminary liquor padlock injunctions against two places on petition of Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, pending a final hearing September 9. The places and alleged proprietors are a saloon at 600 Evergreen avenue, Millvale, Leo Rheam, named, and a restaurant-confectionery at 2310 Brownsville road, Harry France, named.

Accused Ex-Banker Dies of Gas Fumes

WILKES-BARRE, June 12.—(AP.)—George Yesko, former bank official who was found dead today in a garage at the rear of his home. The motor of his automobile was running and the garage was filled with carbon monoxide fumes. Yesko was formerly treasurer of the Liberty State Bank of this city and had been cashier of the Miners Bank at McAdoo.

POTTSVILLE, June 12.—(AP.)—George Yesko was to have gone on trial here next Monday, charged with embezzling $72,000 from the Miners' Bank at McAdoo.

Mexico Threatened By General Strike

MEXICO CITY, June 12.—(AP.)—The General Confederation of Workers, with members in the federal district, the southern district of Lower California and six states, has voted a general strike of all workers of the government, does not release 19 workers arrested recently in Sonbania, Lower California. The strike was fixed for June 22.

The states included in the call are Vera Cruz, Puebla, Michoacan, Guanajuato, Sinaloa and Yucatan.

Joyous Foot Bath, Then Lift Out CORNS

Root and All—Out to Stay!

Two tablespoonfuls of that amazingly refreshing and foot invigorating Radox to one gallon of water makes a foot bath, which, after 3 to 4 nights soaking, lifts out aching, maddening corns, callouses, too—root and all.

Radox softens the hard outer layers of tissue and oxygen, which Radox liberates, obtain the prize, each night penetrating further and further, carrying the salts right to root of corn, which can be lifted out bodily.

Wonderful to take out pain and burning and refresh tired feet.

Get a package of Radox at Mayflower Drug Stores or any drug store and know the joyous comfort of corn and callous free feet—Radox is the modern, scientific method to remove corns, which completely eliminates old-fashioned plasters, dangerous cutting, skin-destroying acids and obsolete methods.

Hey you!

MIND if a stranger asks a question? It's just this—how are things coming? Getting the breaks?

Or are you puzzled, exasperated, maybe a little scared, trying to figure out what to do in this tangled world of today? Trying to find YOUR "place in the sun"—

Well, suppose somebody told you how to find it?

Suppose somebody gave you a straight tip that would show you how to steer a straight course and crash the gates into happiness and success—what would you give for a tip like that?

WOULD YOU GIVE A FEW CENTS?

No, I'm not kidding. And this isn't a come-on for a patent medicine or a correspondence course. It's the real goods. Would you really be willing to give a few cents for a tip like that, stranger?

THEN GET YOUR PENNIES READY!

FOR THAT TIP WILL BE HERE, WAITING FOR YOU, NEXT MONDAY MORNING.

What's the big idea? This—SALLY'S COMING!

Guess again, partner. TELL IT TO SALLY is none of these.

TELL IT TO SALLY is LIFE AS IS.

This world as it is today—with all its rumpus and racket.

Your life as it is today—with all its secret hungers and fears, rebellions and tears.

PROBLEMS that touch every department of man and woman life.

Questions no one has dared ask or answer before—questions the world has never faced before. And a new answer for every problem. A special answer for YOUR problem in words that are powerful—poignant—merry—teasing, tender and wise—all in a breath.

WORDS THAT WILL COME TO YOU LIKE THE STRONG, KIND HAND OF A FRIEND AND HELP YOU, WHATEVER YOUR NEED.

That's TELL IT TO SALLY!

The column that sizzes instead of sobs!

The column that wises you up, peps you up, TIES YOU UP WITH THE BIG PARADE!

Want it? Need it? Who doesn't?

Then get ready with that few cents admission for

TELL IT TO SALLY

RUM RING GRAFT QUIZ NEAR END

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—The special grand jury continued to take testimony behind closed doors here in pursuance of its investigation into the workings of an upstate rum ring and of graft charges preferred in connection with the ring's activities.

It was intimated indictments might be returned today or Friday. The investigation appeared to center about a former government official in Philadelphia and about a number of men from Scranton and points upstate.

Among the witnesses who appeared before the grand jury since the investigation are Max Newman, Scranton poolroom and dance hall proprietor; R. J. Hubbard, cashier of the Dime Bank and Lincoln Trust Company of Scranton; George Daniels, manager of the Scranton Western Union office, and S. R. Cook, manager of the Postal Telegraph Company of Scranton.

The investigation grows out of a raid conducted by agents of Col. Samuel Wynne, prohibition administrator, upon the brewery located at Lockport, Pa., and operated by the Mountainside Manufacturing Company.

"KONJOLA WHAT I NEEDED," SAYS THIS HAPPY MAN

Meadowlands Resident, 70, Finds Prompt Relief Through Use of New Medicine.

Age is no barrier to the powers of Konjola. Men and women in the seventies and eighties are eagerly offering their grateful endorsements of the merit of this super-compound. Konjola may also be given to the infant with speedy and thorough results. It is, in fact, a medicine for all the family. Compounded of 32 ingredients, 22 of which are the juices of roots and herbs, Konjola is free from alcohol, nerve-deadening drugs, or heart-depressing chemicals. Its record in the relief of ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and rheumatism, neuritis, and nervousness, has made it the most talked-of medicine in America.

Consider the case of Mr. James Cunningham, Meadowlands, near Pittsburgh. Mr. Cunningham's experience is in common with that of thousands of other sufferers, many of them your friends and neighbors, who have found relief through the use of this great master medicine. See the Konjola Man at the Dow Drug Store, Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, and learn all about Konjola. Now read the experience of Mr. Cunningham:

"Konjola is the medicine I should have had long ago. I am seventy years of age, and have lived in this section many years. I read of the good results an old friend was getting from Konjola, and I began taking it. I had suffered for about two months with stomach trouble. I took a heavy cold from which I could not rid myself. Solid foods caused nausea and vomiting and I bloated terribly after meals. My system was badly weakened and rundown.

"Just a ten-day treatment of this wonderful medicine has proved that it is just the medicine my system needed. The gas and bloating have passed and now I can eat just about what I want. My health has been generally built up and strengthened. I have been recommending Konjola to many of my friends and customers. I think it is a wonderful tonic and strength-builder after a severe cold."

Although Konjola works more quickly and thoroughly, most cases require a systematic treatment over a period of from four to eight weeks. Ailments that have been months, and even years, in developing cannot be swept away as though by magic, but a few weeks' treatment will surprise you. Try Konjola today.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store, Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where he is meeting the public daily, explaining the merits of this new and different medicine. FREE SAMPLES GIVEN by the Konjola Man. Konjola is sold by all Dow Drug Stores in Pittsburgh and vicinity.

FEDERAL PRISON FUND BILL UP

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(Universal)—Funds totaling $4,766,497 to start work on a new Federal prison in the northeastern section of the country, for prison camps and jails, and to provide employment for prisoners are carried in the second deficiency appropriation bill reported to the House.

For the new penitentiary the bill provides $1,700,000, which will be used to buy a site and start actual construction of the building. The prison is to cost $3,850,000 and accommodate 1,200.

One million dollars is provided to establish Federal jails at Detroit and El Paso, Tex., and to acquire facilities at other points where jails for temporary lodging of prisoners are needed.

For construction work and the maintenance of Federal prisoners at prison camps, the bill carries $750,000. There is also allotted $500,000 for prison industries.

The Baltimore sessions will be but half of the semi-annual meeting, the physicians going from here to Washington for the second half.

Obscene Literature Brings Man Fine

PHILADELPHIA, June 12.—(AP)—Federal Judge Oliver B. Dickinson fined John Shade, Jr., $2,500 on a charge of sending an obscene publication to other states by express. A similar indictment against George Shade, the defendant's brother, was nolle prossed.

Federal agents testified that after the Postoffice Department had refused permission to send the publication through the mails, three parcels were sent by express to West Virginia, Missouri and Ohio towns. These parcels were intercepted.

OFFICERS HELD IN DRY RING

TOPEKA, Kan., June 12.—(AP)—Henry C. Knipe, chief of police of Leavenworth, and four deputy sheriffs at Wichita, were arrested in a roundup of persons indicted by a Federal grand jury here, which investigated liquor law violations in Kansas.

Chief Knipe was named with five other residents of Leavenworth, alleged to be bootleggers. He is accused of having accepted bribes in a conspiracy to defeat the national prohibition laws.

The deputy sheriffs arrested are Fred Dickinson, James Cox, Charles Temple and George Odrowsky. They are charged with having informed Marcus Gorges, alleged head of a Southern Kansas liquor ring, of an impending raid on a still last April.

S. J. Soper, head of the Wichita Vinegar Works, was arrested charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition act by the sale of paraphernalia for bootlegging purposes.

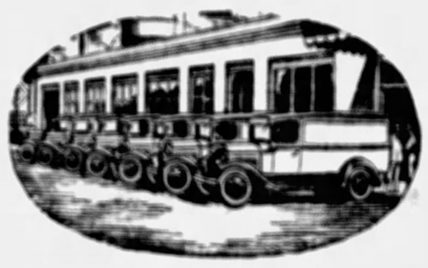
SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford



A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter & Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks.

The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

SHRINERS HOLD GOOD WILL CEREMONY

United States, Canada, Mexico, Cuba Join in Services; Officers Elected

TORONTO, June 12.—(AP.)—An international good will ceremony, in which representatives of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba had a part was the central feature of the convention of the Ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine today.

At the session of the imperial council yesterday, Esten A. Fletcher, of Rochester, N. Y., was elected imperial potentate, and Cleveland, O., was chosen for next year's gathering. Fletcher, who has been deputy potentate for the past year, succeeds Leo F. Youngworth, of Los Angeles, Cal.

DATE NOT FIXED

In naming Cleveland as the next convention city, it was specified that the date to be chosen should not conflict with the date of the grand encampment of the Knights Templar.

Senator Joe T. Robinson, of Arkansas, and Representative John T. Buckbee, of Illinois, both nobles, attended yesterday's exercises of the imperial council.

An illuminated parade in which thousands of gaily uniformed nobles marched to the strains of more than 50 bands last night was the climax of a day of colorful exercises.

The parade got under way at 11 p. m. and it was early this morning before the last unit passed the reviewing stand.

Uniformed drill teams from the various shrines thrilled the spectators with the machine-like precision with which they executed intricate formations, resolving their ranks into figures of stars, crescents, circles and crosses.

The ranks of the nobles were interspersed with a number of magnificent floats decked out in brilliant colors.

NOTABLES TO SPEAK

The program for the goodwill ceremony included the unveiling of a peace monument in Oriental Park and speeches by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Premier Mackenzie King, of Canada, President Machado, of Cuba, and Gen. Tapia, representing Mexico. The speeches will be transmitted over telephone wires and broadcast here.

Walter D. Cline, of Maskat Temple, Wichita Falls, Tex., was elected imperial outer guard of the order yesterday over Julius Heil, of Tripoli Temple, Milwaukee, Wis.

This was the only contest, all other officers ascending a notch toward the imperial potentateship except in the instance of the Imperial Captaincy of the Guard. This post, occupied by the late Clifford Ireland, of Peoria, Ill., was filled by election of Andrew S. Rahn, of Zurah Temple, Minneapolis.

A proposal that the imperial council meet triennially, instead of annually, was referred to a committee, which will report on it at the Cleveland conclave in 1931.

OTHER OFFICERS NAMED

Other officers chosen were: Deputy potentate, Thomas F. Houston, Chicago; chief rabban, Earl C. Mills, Des Moines; assistant chief rabban, John M. Sebberell, Norfolk, Va.; high priest and prophet, David S. Williams, Portland, Me.; Oriental guide, Leonard P. Stewart, Washington, D. C.; recorder, James C. Price, Richmond; treasurer, James C. Burger, Denver; first ceremonial officer, Clyde J. Webster, Detroit; marshal, Walter S. Bugden, Wheeling.

Morrow Gives Aid To Senatorial Opponent

HACKENSACK, N. J., June 12.—(AP.)—Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the Republican nomination for New Jersey, introduced one of his opponent's, Joseph Frelinghuysen, to his neighbors of Bergen County.

Mr. Morrow addressed an open air rally outside the courthouse and then went inside to meet Mr. Frelinghuysen, who was campaigning in the same district. They shook hands, and later Morrow introduced Frelinghuysen to a crowd assembled in the courtroom.

"I am sorry I cannot ask you to vote for Senator Frelinghuysen," said Morrow, "but I can ask you to accord him a full and respectful hearing so he can discuss any question he pleases fully and frankly."

TEXAS LYNCHING ENVOY SAILS

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—Capt. Tom Hickman, Texas ranger, sailed on the Leviathan as unofficial ambassador to London from the state of Texas.

Tom has been commissioned by Gov. Dan Moody of the Lone Star State, to set Londoners right on that lynching at Sherman, Tex., a few weeks ago, by telling London newspapers just what happened.

One London newspaper telephoned to Gov. Moody and asked him if that sort of a thing happened often. The Governor said no, but reports have reached Texas that London papers printed accounts of the lynching which told of women tossing fuel into the flames.

Tom will assure London that nothing of that sort happened.

He sailed with the Simmons College Cowboy Band of Abilene, Tex., a 40-piece musical outfit which will spend six weeks playing in England and on the continent.

ANTI-DRY LAW MEET CALLED

NEW YORK, June 12.—(AP.)—A national convention will be held at St. Louis this fall, under the auspices of the National Temperance League of America, to consider repeal or "other lawful disposition" of the Eighteenth Amendment, John J. Bradley announced today.

The convention also will memorialize congress to submit the question of prohibition to popular vote. Gen. Bradley is chairman of the league's board of directors.

The convention will probably be held in the St. Louis Coliseum between September 17 and October 2.

Golfer Gets 'Birdie' But It Doesn't Help

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., June 12.—Bert Cook, Leechburg golfer, made a long drive on No. 4 fairway at the Hill Crest Country Club. The ball struck and killed a robin perched in the grass.

GIRL MISSING FROM CIRCUS

Police throughout Western Pennsylvania today were searching for Grace McPherson, 16, an employe of the Johnny Jones Circus, Exposition Park, North Side, reported by her mother to have disappeared in an auto last night with four men and two women.

According to the mother, the auto bore an emblem carrying the name of Beaver Falls.

3 Cross-Country Air Records Sought

DETROIT, June 12.—(AP.)—William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee took off from Jacksonville, Fla., today, flying the plane in which they hope to shatter three transcontinental flight records.

The fliers plan to take off from Jacksonville at dawn with San Diego, Cal., as their objective. They hope to return to Jacksonville at dawn the following day, thus making the round trip transcontinental flight in 24 hours. If successful, they will have broken eastward, westward and round-trip records.

New Way Closes Ugly Pores

—blackheads disappear!

Whenever I see a face that would be beautiful—if it weren't for disgustingly large pores, blackheads and oily skin that spoils make-up—I feel sorry.

For out in Hollywood they have a wonderful recipe for a lotion that so easily corrects these flaws and quickly makes the skin nice and smooth.

The very minute you pat it on the face and neck it gets down deep into the skin and cleans out the dirt. It removes blackheads, closes the pores and erases tiny tell-tale wrinkles. Soon the skin becomes silken in texture, youthfully fresh and healthy. There is no oiliness to fight or perspiration to damage make-up and make you look done-in.

Just get 3 ounces of Orchard White from any druggist, mix it with the juice of 2 lemons and you have a full quarter-pint of a lotion far finer and more effective than any special soap, cream or liquid you have ever used.

Note: In the summer this Hollywood recipe keeps the skin free of freckles and guards against that leathery look caused by wind and sun.

On the newsstands now!

A new, better, longer-life phonograph record for 15 cents

THINK of it! . . . Fifteen cents now buys the latest and most up-to-date dance record, played by one of Broadway's most popular dance orchestras!

Get it. Play it. That's all we ask.

The price is only 15 cents, but you'll say its tone is as fine as that of the costliest record you ever heard.

Lift it. It's light as a feather.

Scratch it with the needle as much as you like. You can't spoil it.

Why we can sell it for 15 cents

This marvelous new Hit-of-the-Week Record is made of a revolutionary new material called Durium.

Durium is the invention of Dr. H. T. Beans, professor of chemistry at Columbia University.

It enables one man with one machine to make 70,000 perfect records in a single day. By the old method one man with one machine makes 700 records per day.

How a trio of experts selects dance hits for you every week

Every Thursday noon from now on, a brand new Hit-of-the-Week Record will go on sale at every newsstand in this city.

Each record is a popular hit, played by a famous Broadway orchestra, and the music will be selected by the Hit-of-the-Week Music Jury composed of Florenz Ziegfeld, Eddie Cantor and Vincent Lopez.

Without bothering to listen to a lot of records you don't want, to find one that appeals to you, you can buy each new Hit-of-the-Week Record as it appears on the newsstand, certain you have the latest sure-fire success that the country will be whistling and dancing to for many weeks to come.

Think of the convenience. Think of the saving. Think of the enjoyment that can be yours every week.

This week's Hit-of-the-Week Record, played by a famous Broadway orchestra, is on sale today.

THIS WEEK'S BIG HIT

"Song of the Dawn"

Played by Phil Spitalny and his Orchestra

Hit-of-the-Week Music Jury

VINCENT LOPEZ —in one playing he can tell whether or not a song's a hit.

Their job is to pick the biggest hit for you each week

CHARGES 'REDS' MEDDLE IN U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Interference in American domestic affairs by the Russian Communists leaders in Moscow was detailed before the special House Communist Investigating Committee by Robert P. Kelly, chief of Eastern European affairs of the State Department.

Behind closed doors, Kelly said:

"This interference in American domestic affairs is carried out primarily through the Communist Internationale and its affiliated organizations, the basic policies of which, just as those of the Soviet government, are determined by the Russian Communist leaders.

"Stalin himself has taken a very active part in the settlement of the factional strife in the American Communist party."

Representative Fish (Rep.), of New York, chairman of the committee, said Kelly declared:

"The Communist candidates for president and vice president, Foster and Gitlow, were summoned to Moscow after the election of 1928 to give a report on the factional dispute in the Communist party."

RAISE ALTOONA P. O. FUND

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—The recommendation of the House Appropriations Committee that the allotment for a new Federal building at Altoona be increased from $574,000 to $775,000, was interpreted as the most advanced step taken toward realization of a project advocated by civic and commercial organizations in that city.

The Federal Public Building Commission last February admitted to Representative J. Banks Kurtz, and residents of Altoona who called at the Commission, that the original estimate appeared too low. A comparative study of realt, values in cities approximating Altoona's population and business activity, revealed that the Pennsylvania municipality maintained a higher market value than other communities.

After Congress acts on the deficiency appropriation bill, which carries Altoona's increased estimate, the building commission, it was said, will proceed in the acquisition of a site.

Volunteer Firemen Meet in Baltimore

BALTIMORE, June 12.—(AP.)—Volunteer firemen from all sections of the state poured into the city by the hundreds for the annual convention of the Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Association, some of them riding on their own fire-fighting apparatus.

The latter, with additions to arrive later, are to be in a parade tomorrow expected to have more than 1,900 firemen, the Marine Band from Quantico, Va., and 69 pieces of apparatus as participants.

MACNIDER VOTE FACES DELAY

WASHINGTON, June 12.—(AP.)—Opposition which may prevent a vote being taken at this session upon the nomination of Hanford MacNider, of Iowa, as minister to Canada was announced by Senator Brookhart (Rep.), of Iowa.

Brookhart wrote the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the Iowa Republican leader was "personally offensive" to him. The committee put the nomination before the Senate "without recommendation."

With congressional leaders planning an adjournment by the end of next week, little hope was held out that a vote could be taken on MacNider before then. All nominations die with adjournment, but President Hoover could make a recess appointment.

Cambria County Has 3,000 Census Gain

JOHNSTOWN, June 12.—Cambria County had a gain of 3,000 during the last 10 years, according to census figures. The population of the county is now above the 200,000 mark.

Despite losses in many coal mining towns and in Johnstown, large gains in other districts brought the county total above the population of 1920.

William Pfarr,
On Vacation.
Dear Bill:

It seems logical that "American Youth," a statue now being shown in Carnegie Institute, eventually will come to be known as the "Sheik of Schenley Park," for it will be the only youthful figure in bronze to stand in that sylvan area. Part of the Westinghouse memorial, it was modeled by Daniel Chester French, dean of American sculptors, who is past 80.

French was a friend of Andrew Carnegie and a student of May Alcott, the "Amy" in the fine book, "Little Women." He did the gigantic statue, "Seated Lincoln," in Washington, and "The Angel of Death and The Young Sculptor," a cast of which is shown in the Institute here.

But—he also did "The Studious Blacksmith," who rests in front of the North Side Carnegie Library and whom they used to vote under the name of "James Anderson"—until the authorities found out that he had voted against them.

In one of those glittering pawn shops on Water street, one window was occupied with cigaret cases. On them were pasted pictures of women in questionable attire. In the opposite window display, engagement rings shared honors with musical instruments. Within a short time, 14 men stopped to look at the rings, two at banjos and none at the cigaret cases.

Natalie Moorhead may be added to the list of Pittsburghers who have distinguished themselves in the movies. She played opposite William Powell, another home town boy, in a recent picture. Reared in Lawrenceville, Miss Moorhead attended Peabody High School.

and many an East End youth still languishes when he thinks and thinks. And not to change the subject, Walter Brown Roger, former Carnegie Tech drama student, and Vin Barnett, the jokester, appear in the saddest of all war pictures. * * *

Many of you may remember that plump sergeant who sat behind the desk in any number of police stations during the past 20 years, but lately at Central. There was something about his eyes that always made you feel that he had seen you there before—but that you were welcome. Just kindly like—the sort of a fellow who gives you a 51-card deck to play solitaire.

Well, that was Al Jones, now lieutenant of the city's baby police stations, 15 and 16, at Hays and Overbrook. And Al has a complaint. Accustomed to the Hill and downtown, he fears there are not enough law violations out there to really make it worth while. His greatest worry is keeping the cows off the station house lawns.

When Al left downtown, the newspapermen sent him a box of lawn seed. In the fall, Al promises a vegetable dinner.

Bill, Al should really be a captain. So Long,
ED PRENDERGAST.

Will Rogers Says:

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 12.—Just been over to Northampton and had a fine visit with Mrs. Coolidge. She showed me their lovely new home and grounds. Mr. Coolidge had gone down to New York to attend the monthly insurance directors' meeting. I asked her if he ever missed one. She laughingly said not for $70. I asked her what he did about the meetings when he was in California. She said he sent in his double. I hated to have missed him but I wouldn't have found out anything if he had been there. In fact, I think I got a great break. Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

I was up there getting an honorary degree from Smith College.

The Eatons Reach Perilous Period of Marriage

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Larry Eaton, president of the Eaton Advertising Agency, is puzzled by the strange actions of his secretary, Janet Andrews, who has been in his employ for five years. When Miss Andrews starts to cry while taking dictation from him, Eaton allows her to go home for the rest of the day. Eaton then decides to get a new secretary. He plans to give Miss Andrews a long leave of absence and get pretty Anne Murdock to work in her place. Miss Murdock is secretary to the vice president of the concern. When Anne hears about the proposed change she is delighted. Anne proves that she can do the new work efficiently. Anne's sister, Kathleen, announces to the family that she has a new job as chorus girl. Her father disapproves. Ted O'Hara, who works with the agency, loves Ardeth and wants her for his wife. She explains to him that she prefers a business career. When Janet sends in her resignation Anne accepts the secretarial position.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VII.

Lawrence Eaton's New York home was the duplex penthouse on the roof of an upper Fifth avenue apartment building overlooking the Park and the blue waters of the reservoir. Eaton, who had been brought up in an old brick house at the lower end of the avenue, and whose early married life had been lived in the same district in one of the Brides' Row houses, had yet to accustom himself to an apartment.

But Linda liked her home, and, after all, it was Linda who really lived in it. He slept there, he entertained there, but he did not live there in the intimate sense in which Linda did.

Shortly before Christmas Dick Jameson dined with the Eatons. Another woman was present, Edith Lucien, an attractive widow, one of Linda's close friends. After dinner the four played bridge.

Linda Eaton was at her best as hostess. She had a genius for making people comfortable, and was, by nature, amiable and gay-hearted. And she was handsome.

At the time of her marriage to Eaton, she had been a raw-boned girl, with masses of blue-black hair and brown eyes. Born Linda Schuyler, she was the fourth daughter of an impoverished family.

Mother Love
Linda Educated Through Parent's Sacrifice

Her father had been a bookish gentleman who failed to keep his visionary eyes upon investments and the property rights of Dutch and American ancestors.

Her mother, left a widow in Linda's childhood, had been a brisk, worried woman, eternally contemplating with affection and exasperation the mild inefficiency of her husband. She had saved and sacrificed and battled to educate her girls in good private schools, to clothe them becomingly, to take them to Europe for a final polish, to permit them to follow their particular interests — in Linda's case, golf and tennis, horses and dogs—and eventually to marry them to money.

Lawrence Eaton had fallen in love with Linda when he entered his uncle's advertising agency, after some newspaper experience and a period of salesmanship. The other girls were safely and happily married, and Mrs. Schuyler—seeing the drive in Eaton, the urge forward which would make him a money-maker in his own right, though he had inherited a small fortune from his father, and also counting on the fact that Eaton would be his uncle's heir—encouraged the match.

Linda Injured
Long Period of Invalidism Follows Mishap

Linda, at 22, had been as much in love with young Eaton as her nature permitted — a breezy, affectionate sort of love which had reached the clean heights of a wholesome and normal passion. Now, at 32, she liked her husband enormously, admired him, was proud of him and went her way, amiable and serene.

Linda was much handsomer than she had been in her girlhood. She carried herself magnificently and was beautifully gowned. She knew how to spend money—well; she was neither parsimonious nor extravagant.

The Eatons had an established place in the more conservative walks of Manhattan society, and Lawrence Eaton was fond of Linda and proud of her.

At 27 he had been very much in love with her. Her out-of-door wholesomeness, her clarity of outlook, her lack of frets and fevers, held a tremendous appeal for him. So, loving her, he had married her. This he had never regretted, although he was not aware that his affection for her was so settled and unstimulating as if they had been 40 years married.

There was no child. Not long after her marriage Linda had been thrown in the hunting field, and for a long period of invalidism had been forced to possess her soul in patience. She had recovered completely, but Eaton's early inarticulate dreams of husky, splendid sons and pretty wheedling daughters had, perforce, to vanish forever.

So, they were fond of each other now, but they had outgrown each other. They had little in common; their interests lay apart. And that first sunny passion no longer existed.

Perilous Period
Eaton and Wife Outgrow Each Other

Each was too busy to give much time to heart-searching. Yet each had reached a perilous period in development. The man was nearing 40; the woman had passed 30. The rose-bloom flush of youth was gone; they stood on the threshold of their prime—their second blooming.

Now and again, Eaton, hearing of some amazing volteface of a contemporary—a violent secret love affair that had been unearthed given all the pitiless sardonic publicity of the times; a headlined divorce; a complete betrayal and repudiation of old vows—heading the whispers, "Harrington! Who could believe it of him, with a wife and children!" beneath his astonishment and contempt would feel a keen pang of—could it be envy?

He never inquired into the nature of these inexplicable experiences. Yet involuntarily he would wonder what it might be like to be caught up by a devastating force which swept everything before it, which knew no law save the fulfillment of its lawlessness, which scorched and tormented, harrowed and hunted, and which contained its own punishment—and its own reward.

If he had ever heard strange gods—or, more accurately, goddesses—calling, he had not followed their alluring voices—far. He had not been guiltless of minor, passing attractions and relaxations. But technically, at least, Eaton had kept to the letter of his public vow to Linda.

Sometimes he wondered at himself; at his quick, if temporary, response to the turn of a head, the fall of an eyelash, the murmur of a phrase; wondered whether he would have been rendered immune from—well, from the visualizing of colorful and fragrant gardens lying beyond the highroad and over the high walls of his own

BANDIT SEARCH PUSHED HERE

Police today continued search for three armed bandits who escaped with the $2,363 payroll of the American Coat and Apron Supply Company, after kidnaping A. H. Silverberg, 43, of 2333 Tilbury street, in front of the company's plant at 1005 Chateau street, yesterday.

Silverberg had just returned from the Provident Trust Company, at East Ohio and Chestnut streets, where he obtained the money and was bringing his automobile to a stop in front of the plant when the three men leaped aboard. One struck him on the jaw and forced him from the driver's seat.

The robbers drove the car to Riverview Park, where the money was taken from Silverberg. He was then thrown from the machine. Several hours later Wagonmen Robert Purvis and John Conley recovered the machine in the Woods Run district.

Police said descriptions of the three tallied with those of the three bandits who Tuesday obtained a similar amount in the holdup of three bank messengers in front of the Baur Baking Company plant, 6448 Penn avenue.

Select Inscription For Sacred Heart

This is the biblical quotation from the One Hundred and Forty-seventh Psalm, chosen by Miss Genevieve Blatt, 384 South Highland avenue, which will be inscribed on the pulpit of the new Sacred Heart Church. The quotation won honorable mention in a prize contest for the inscription. The winning quotation, submitted by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Martin Ryan, of St. Brigid's Church, was considered too long to be used.

Insurance Leaders Leave For Session

Five home office executives and one Pittsburgh representative of the Reliance Insurance Company of Pittsburgh were to leave today for Victoria, B. C., to attend the convention of company representatives in the Western division June 16 to 19. The Pittsburgh party included Vice President E. G. McCormack, Assistant Treasurer W. J. Snodgrass, Assistant Secretary T. J. McKenna, Underwriter B. L. Sichelstiel, R. C. Knell, secretary to the senior vice president, and P. F. Sheedy, a Pittsburgh general agent.

Bride, 15, Wins Freedom for Husband

Streiner was on trial charged, under an act of 1886, with a misdemeanor by the girl's father, Charles Harb, of 275 Wick street, in that he "took a child under 16 for matrimony."

"Are you satisfied with your bargain?"

Judge Thomas J. Ford asked the bride, who was wed April 9 at Wellsburg, W. Va.

She replied:

"I'm delighted."

The court ordered the jury to return a verdict of acquittal for the bridegroom, which was done.

ASK OFFICIALS TO LAUNCHINGS

Invitations have been extended to state and government officials and industrial leaders to attend the launching of the first of a series of four sister boats at the Dravo Contracting Company yards on Neville Island, at noon Tuesday. The boats are the most powerful and modern of their kind and are to be used for service on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

The first boat to be launched will be the twin screw tunnel towboat Ohio. Among the guests invited are Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley; Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont; Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of government engineers; Gen. Samuel Hof, United States Army; Secretary of Labor James J. Davis; former Governor Gifford Pinchot; Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Patrick E. Crowley, president of the New York Central Railroad.

GAIN IN THRIFT SHOWN HERE

An increase of more than 7 per cent in the exchanges through the Pittsburgh Clearing House Association in a year is shown in a bulletin issued to Chamber of Commerce members by H. W. Correll, statistician of the chamber. The bulletin states that in 1929 the exchanges amounted to $10,162,939,970, or an increase of $710,268,190 over the previous year.

An evidence of increasing thrift as pointed out in the bulletin is that the savings deposits in the national and state banks and trust companies in the country today is $470,236,529, Pittsburgh's share being $342,290,437.

Correll points out that there are 124,[illegible] depositors in Christmas club savings in the Pittsburgh district, or 42 per cent more than two years ago. The number of youngsters subscribing to the school savings funds at the close of the past year was 189,944, a 23 per cent gain over 1927.

The bulletin points out the following figures representing the savings in adjunct county banks—national and state and trust companies: Armstrong, $19,306,396; Beaver County, $17,179,593; Butler, $11,824,537; Fayette, $31,001,058; Washington, $40,622,140; Westmoreland, $65,405,378.

Farewell Banquet For Dr. Kammerer

The Trinity Cathedral Service League will tender a farewell banquet to Dr. and Mrs. Percy G. Kammerer, in Trinity House, tomorrow night. Dr Kammerer leaves next week for Avon, Conn., where he will become provost of Avon, Old Farms, a school for boys. He will preach his last sermon in Trinity Church Sunday.

RIVER DRAGGED; QUIZ SUSPECT

While police were dragging the Allegheny River today at the foot of Chesbro street for a man believed to have been drowned, Marcie Connors, 33, of 885 Saw Mill way, was questioned by the homicide squad.

Connors was arrested when a watchman on a coal barge notified police that he had seen two men fighting on the river bank at 4 o'clock this morning. The watchman said that both men had fallen into the river and that one of them had failed to come out.

Connors' clothes were wet and he had a deep laceration on his forehead when police arrested him. He told Magistrate John J. Sweeney in North Side Police Station today that his companion was Abe Woods, of 1208 Ocala street, a brother of George Woods, 24, sentenced to from three and a half to seven years in the workhouse last Friday for shooting his mother, Mrs. Mathilda Woods, 64, during a drunken fury, and paralyzing her for life.

Connors declared that Woods did jump in the river, but that he went in after him and dragged him out, Woods then left, Connors said.

Light Firm Meet Slated Tomorrow

The fifth acquaintanceship meeting of the Duquesne Light Company section of the National Electric Light Association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow at 8 p. m. C. W. Lepper, general purchasing agent of the Philadelphia Company, will deliver an address, and E. W. Judy, vice president and general manager of the light company, will announce winners to the annual convention at Bedford Springs, to be held during the summer.

236 Duquesne Students Receive Their Degrees

Degrees were conferred upon 236 seniors at commencement exercises of Duquesne University, last night, in Soldiers Memorial Hall. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Moran Corrigan, of Philadelphia, made the commencement address. The degrees were conferred by the Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, Bishop, of the Pittsburgh Diocese of the Catholic Church.

Three honorary degrees were conferred, one to Eugene Bonn Strassburger, local attorney and a member of the university law school faculty. The Very Rev. Louis Lena, missionary and explorer of Southern Africa, and Rev. Corrigan also were honored.

The valedictorian address was made by Charles B. Gearing and the salutatory speech was made by Harry E. Felich. The Very Rev. M. A. Hehir, president of the university, presided.

LAIRD BARES HARVEST OF HOTELS

Official, Opposing Permit For Rival, Says Pennsy Grabs Cabs for Station

Inside workings of taxicab operations in Pittsburgh were exposed with startling frankness in testimony yesterday before Public Service Commissioner Samuel Walker in a hearing on the application of the Highland Taxicab Company for a certificate of public convenience to establish service in the city and suburbs.

Some of the facts that came to the surface were these:

The hearing was continued until June 18.

1. The Yellow Cab Company paid at the rate of $60,000 a year for concessions to property owners for permission to use street frontage for cab stands. The Green Cab Company expended from $3,000 to $4,000 a month for the same purpose.

2. The William Penn and Fort Pitt hotels were the big beneficiaries, and it was testified they received $18,000 a year from the Yellow Cab Company alone. All this, according to the testimony, occurred after the famous police order several years ago making the streets "free."

RAILROAD DICTATES

3. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company held the whip hand and the Yellow was obliged to concentrate its vehicles at the Pennsylvania station to accommodate incoming travelers to the detriment of the service of patrons in other parts of the city. If the cab company had failed to provide for the station arrivals, it was testified, competing cabs would have been let in for the exclusive privilege.

4. Previous to the taxi strike last January, the annual turnover of drivers employed was 100 per cent. This was attributed to the low earning power of the men as a result of competition and was followed by discontent and a lowering of the morale of the employes. Drivers dismissed from the Green company were hired by the Yellow, and vice versa. This condition also increased the accident hazard.

SERVICE RATE LOW

5. Pittsburgh, with an average of 60 taxicabs per 100,000 population in the city and suburban area, has a lower percentage of service than any large American city.

6. As a result of the strike and industrial conditions, it was testified, the taxicab business here is less than 70 per cent of normal.

Walter S. Laird, Jr., president and general manager of the Yellow Cab Company, and chief local official for the Parmalee Transportation Company, operating the Green and Yellow cabs, was on the witness stand two hours while Commissioner Walker brought out the foregoing points. Laird testified in opposition to the application of the Highland Taxicab Company, of which E. W. Ennis is president and J. J. Kilroy, Jr., is secretary and treasurer. The city of Pittsburgh, through the Better Traffic Committee and the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, also are protesting the application.

Stipulations in a petition of intervention presented at yesterday's hearing by the city were agreed to by counsel for the Highland company.

Stipulations referred to the cruising of the cabs and establishing of stands on principal streets.

McKees Rocks Man Dies Following Fall

A fall on the street caused the death early today of John Moore, 69, of 13 Singer avenue, McKees Rocks. Moore died in the Ohio Valley Hospital from a fractured skull, according to the coroner's report. The report states that he fell while walking in Bell avenue, McKees Rocks, yesterday.

NEW RAILROAD PROMISES CITY LOWER FREIGHT RATES

CUTS ASSURED IF GRANTED CHARTER

Promoters of N. Y. P. & C. Will Operate at Low Cost And Stimulate Business

Lower freight rates on shipments from this district to eastern points would naturally follow the construction of the proposed New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago Railroad, it has been intimated in the evidence placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission by L. F. Loree and his attorneys.

The road, by the elimination of grades and the use of the most modern transportation equipment, would operate for costs from 30 to 40 per cent lower than other eastern lines, according to evidence submitted in the case. Lower freight rates greatly stimulating the business of this district, would be logical results of these economies.

AID TO SHIPPERS

In addition to improving the position of the Pittsburgh mines and manufacturers in competing for important markets in the East the line would help this district in selling at points which must be reached by combination rail and water routes, it was said. These would be export markets as well as those at Seaboard points in the South.

Evidence submitted at recent hearings before the commission indicated that the proposed 283-mile line across Pennsylvania would be able to keep costs down to about 40.47 per cent of its gross income from hauling freight. The nearest approach to this in 1928, with an operating ratio of 54.67 per cent and the Pittsburgh and West Virginia with 56 per cent, reports show.

Ratios of the principal railroad systems of the East ranged from 71 to 80 per cent.

OPPOSED BY RAILROADS

Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad and representative of the Harriman interests, said he has been trying to secure permission to build the line from the Interstate Commerce Commission since the war. He claims his plans have been vigorously opposed by all the railroads which would compete with the new line, and he says he has had no support from individual shippers of the Pittsburgh district or from civic organizations here, in spite of the enormous advantages which this city would gain by the construction of the line.

Henry Oliver Evans and H. C. Newcomb, attorneys for the new railroad, last week asked the commission for additional hearings and filed objections to the report of C. V. Burnside, assistant director of finance for the commission, recommending that the road's petition be denied.

Family Gets Most Of Foley Estate

Miss Anna M. Foley, of the Eighth Ward, leaves $10,000 by her will filed for probate today. The Rev. W. J. McMullen, of St. Paul's Cathedral, is given $1,000 for masses; a grandnephew, Lawrence Conor, receives $500. After making bequests of jewelry and household articles she gives the remainder to her brother, Bart Foley.

$16,000 ASKED IN AUTO CRASH

Two suits totaling $16,000 were filed in Common Pleas Court against Harry Stern, as a result of the injury of two persons, when the defendants car collided with the car of Herman O. Papencordt, Lowrie street, North Side, August 4, 1929.

It is averred that the Stern car struck the rear of the Papencordt machine, forced it against a concrete culvert, injuring two of the three occupants of the Papencordt automobile. The Papencordt's ask $13,000 damages and Mrs. Davis $3,000.

Camera Question Box

The Sun-Telegraph's "Camera Question Box" each day will ask a question of public interest to Pittsburghers and will photograph those interviewed.

Today's question: A girl can live comfortably, be attractively attired and keep herself in good health on $20 a week in Chicago, Y. W. C. A. directors say. What does it cost in Pittsburgh?

Mrs. Stein

MRS. STEIN, secretary, Squirrel Hill: I think any girl can live quite comfortably on $20 a week anywhere. She ought to be able to keep herself on that in any city.

Miss Altshuler

MISS M. ALTSHULER, secretary, Squirrel Hill: A girl can easily keep herself on that amount of money in Pittsburgh, even though she lives at the Y. W. C. A. and boards out. She can keep herself dressed nicely too.

Miss Adler

MISS LORRAINE ADLER, secretary, Squirrel Hill: Any girl with a slight knowledge of economy can live on $20 a week. If she lives at the Y. W. C. A. it ought to be particularly easy because of the diversions furnished and because of the slight expense of rooms and board there.

A. Wm. Gatto

A. WM. GATTO, steamship agent, East End: I see no reason why any girl should not be able to support herself on that salary in Pittsburgh. Any girl, that is, who realizes the value of money and tries to live reasonably.

D. J. Allesio

D. J. ALLESIO, general district pressagent, downtown: Any girl who is willing to deprive herself of luxuries and unnecessary expenses should be able to manage rather successfully on $20 a week.

Mrs. Allesio

MRS. D. J. ALLESIO, Pittsburgh: In my opinion, a working girl in Pittsburgh ought to live reasonably and comfortably and keep herself in good health without much difficulty, if her wages were no more than $20 a week.

The commencement exercises have been set for Wednesday, Miss Mary Lippert will be valedictorian, Miss Mary Costello salutatorian, and the Misses Mary C. Kiernan, Marie Kretz and Clara Kiesel will speak.

The annual alumnae banquet will be held Saturday, June 21, with a reception for the graduating class.

WIRE KILLS SON, $25,000 ASKED

James W. Eakin and his wife, Sarah E. Eakin, of Penn Township, have entered suit against the West Penn Railways Company for $25,000 damages for the death of their son, Raymond Eakin, who came in contact with a live electric wire of the defendant company.

The wire carrying 4,000 volts of electricity was broken off by a limb of a tree coming in contact with it July 7, 1929. The accident happened near the Olympia-Oakford Park, where the deceased had been employed. The young man was the support of his invalid father. Langfitt & Langfitt represent the parents.

KIN OF SUICIDE HERE SOUGHT

Morgue attaches today were making efforts to communicate with relatives o John Fredericks, 40, of 518 Sixth enue, who was found a suicide d in his room last night, they reported. Fredericks used a necktie to hang himself, it was said. One end of it had been looped around his neck and the other attached to a bed post. Fredericks, whose home was believed to have been in Kentucky, had been rooming at the Sixth avenue address for a short time.

He evidently had been a follower of race horses, deputy coroners said, as a number of racing sheets were found strewn about his room.

Horse Thief Hunt On in East End; Hoofprints Clue

The novel record of a horse theft was entered on the books of the East End Police Station today. Charles C. Miller, of 226 Gladfield street, reported that last night some person entered his stable in the rear of his home by forcing open a window and stole his riding horse Bill.

Hoof prints enabled Miller to trace his horse toward the Penn Township line. Last Thursday night, the bridle was stolen, he said. He values the horse at $200.

Old Soldiers Answer Roll Call at New Castle Meet; Lancaster Gets Convention

By AL GOUGH,
Staff Correspondent.

NEW CASTLE, Pa., June 12.—The convention of the G. A. R., Department of Pennsylvania, in session here since Monday, was brought to a close today. The department was presented, by various auxiliaries, with a $3,000 fund to carry on its work.

John R. Steel, of Oil City, was named department inspector and George W. Gillette, of Philadelphia, chief of staff.

Following are the results of elections by auxiliary organizations:

AUXILIARIES ELECT

Ladies of G. A. R.—Mrs. C. B. George, New Castle, vice president; Mrs. Mary Barclay, Uniontown, treasurer; Mrs. Maybelle Riley, Gettysburg, registrar.

Sons of Veterans Auxiliary—Mrs. Nellie Wentzel, Uniontown, president; Mrs. Jennie Lightcap, Philadelphia, senior vice president; Mrs. Mary K. Seipp, Philadelphia, treasurer.

The age old remnants of an Army of Blue that rallied to the flag when civil war rent the Union asunder "rallied once again" yesterday marching under banners of their sons and daughters in one of the most impressive gatherings in the history of the commonwealth. They came from far and wide throughout the state, their dimming eyes glistening, their weary tread stiffening to the passing years — but ever young in the spirit of victory which carried them through nearly 70 years ago.

AND HOW THEY MARCHED

They marched — these hardy veterans in blue—with their valiant sons and daughters representing half a dozen auxiliary and affiliated organizations, and New Castle turned out en masse to pay its respects. There were Sons of Veterans, the Women's Relief Corps, the Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary, Ladies of the G. A. R., Daughters of Veterans and the field encampment of the Sons of Union Veterans Reserves.

A Pittsburgher was chosen senior vice department commander—R. N. Spohn, a member of Post 157, who was elevated from the position of chief of staff, to which he had been appointed last year by the retiring commander, Phil Engelskirger, of Franklin. Charles W. McConnahey, of Philadelphia, was chosen department commander. W. A. McKay, of Franklin, was elected junior vice commander, and Dr. J. E. Silliamn, of Erie, was re-elected medical director, and J. H. Pershing, of Greensburg, was re-elected department chaplain. The full council of administration including W. F. Hambright, of Lancaster; Dr. L. F. Arensberg, of Uniontown; Benjamin L. Myers, of Philadelphia; Jacob Barron, of Philadelphia, and George W. Gillet, of Philadelphia, also was re-elected.

Lancaster was chosen as the next encampment city, the choice having been made by a small margin of votes over Huntington which bid strongly for the honor. A Pittsburgh woman, Mrs. Margaret Lindsay, was elected department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R.

BOROUGHS RAP SERVICE BOARD

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—The State Association of Boroughs today unanimously adopted a resolution condemning the practices of the State Public Service Commission and advocated its immediate abolition. A second resolution directing that a copy of the resolution be sent to every borough in the state with a request that the data be placed in the hands of proper representatives in the Legislature also was adopted.

Speakers on the floor asserted that the period of usefulness of the commission was at an end and that its abolition would be to the advantage of the smaller boroughs.

Charles H. Young, Public Service Commissioner, will speak at the boroughs convention tomorrow morning.

Benjamin E. Eynon, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, addressed the delegates this morning. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis will address the delegates tonight.

DRIVES 3,000 MILES, DIES

The strain of driving an automobile nearly 3,000 miles from California to Pittsburgh is believed to have superinduced heart failure which caused the sudden death last night of George Volk, 46, of East Main street, Carnegie.

Volk, who had been in the blacksmithing business in Carnegie for 25 years and formerly was president of the John Sauter Company, wagon builders, Duquesne way, arrived home with his brother, Paul Volk, Tuesday night.

Last night George Volk was observed lying on his bed by Joseph Cunningham, with whom he roomed. Volk asked that a physician be summoned. A short time later he died. He was unmarried.

Woman Leaves Land To 3 of 9 Children

Only three of nine children of Mrs. Jane McKim, of Swissvale, are named in her will, filed for probate today, disposing of an estate valued at $17,500. Real estate in Swissvale, comprising the estate, is given to her sons, Matthew M. and Samuel T. McKim, with the proviso that her daughter, Anne, gets $500. Six other children joined the three named in signing a request for naming of a daughter, Mrs. Maud Reynolds, as administrator.

15TH WARD ASKS TRAFFIC LIGHTS

An investigation into a request for a number of "stop and go" signals in the Fifteenth ward was ordered by Council yesterday. The request was made by Leo J. Kirch, recently re-elected Republican ward chairman.

He suggested lights at Hazelwood and Second avenues, Elizabeth and Second avenues, Irvine and Greenfield avenues and Lydia and Greenfield avenues. He also stated complaints had been received against the lack of such a light at Beechwood boulevard and Browns Hill and Hazelwood avenue.

Charges Cruelty, Wife Asks Divorce

She says her husband choked her when she asked him for money and refused to provide for her and her children, so Clara M. Kennett, 23, of 240 Mosgrave avenue, has asked Judge James B. Drew to divorce her from George Kennett. She was married to Kennett in 1924 when she was only 17. The couple separated in 1929.

Pupils' Lobby Wins Council To Order Improvements

Pupils of the Fort Pitt School yesterday taught Council a few things about lobbying that Senator Joseph R. Grundy never learned.

They won their points, too.

As a result Council ordered steps built at the rear of Fort Pitt Hill, trees and flowers planted around the school and an investigation started on the feasibility of opening Hillcrest street.

The demonstration of the pupils ended a long effort to improve the bare knoll at the head of Winebiddle avenue, on which the Fort Pitt school and the Garfield recreation center are located, and on which citizens of Pittsburgh erected earthworks when they heard that Lee had invaded Pennsylvania during the Civil War.

The boys carried into the Council chamber a heavy model of the hill and school, built by the arithmetic class on a scale of 25 feet to one fourth of an inch. Unprompted by Miss Louise B. Wright, the principal, and Mrs. May Morrison and Anna Starz, teachers, they spun a rapid-fire dialogue in which about 50 participated.

Then the bare model was transformed into a garden as girls and boys planted trees, named after Abraham Lincoln, George Washington, Mayor Charles H. Kline, the members of Council, "Patrolman Uncle Bill," who taught them lessons in safety, "Black Prince," star horse of the traffic squad, P. J. Donahoe, Republican chairman of the Tenth Ward, and many others.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Miss Clarissa Howe Reed, Bride-Elect, Guest at Numerous Events

Among the much feted brides of June is Clarissa Howe Reed, daughter of the Samuel Clarke Reeds, of Murrayhill avenue, whose marriage to Paul Robbins Haviland, son of the Walter W. Havilands, of the Knoll, Landsdowne, Pa., will be an event of June 24 and will take place in Calvary Episcopal Church.

A week from this Saturday Mrs. William Booth of Sewickley, will give a breakfast in her home for the bridal party. On Sunday night, June 22, John Fisher, who'll be an usher at the wedding, will entertain the bridal party at a supper in the Pittsburgh Golf Club.

On Monday evening, June 23, the bride's sister, Ellinor Reed, will give the rehearsal dinner in the Pittsburgh Golf Club.

Bridal Party

Though most wedding dates for June have been announced earlier in the month or even in May and April, I still hear of additional dates and of plans for weddings.

The William Booth Millers, of Sewickley, have issued invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Nancy Shaw Miller, and Robert Upjohn Redpath, Jr., son of Mrs. Robert Upjohn Redpath, of Maplewood, N. J., on June 28.

Only the members of the two families and a few intimate friends will be present at the home ceremony, to be followed by a reception.

And Nancy has named her bridal party. Her two sisters, Elizabeth Booth Miller and Margaret Campbell Miller, will be her bridesmaids, and small Carolyn Woods will be the flower girl. John S. Redpath will be his brother's best man.

Elizabeth and Dorothea Jenkins, daughters of the Thomas Clifton Jenkinses, of Morewood avenue, will give a luncheon June 20 in the Longue Vue Country Club in honor of Betty McCullough, daughter of the William T. McCulloughs, of Bennington avenue, whose betrothal to Henry Mason Reed, son of the George Reeds, of Bayard street, has just been announced.

Another event varying the social life of the month of festive June is the tea that Mary Thorne White, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Collord White, of Sewickley, is to give in the White home tomorrow afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

Sharing honors at the event will be Elizabeth Patterson, daughter of the W. W. Pattersons, of Sewickley, who's a senior at Highland Hall, and Alice Davison, daughter of the John E. Davisons, of Pittsburgh, who's a junior at Winchester.

Aiding the young hostess will be her sister, Mrs. John Gardiner Woods; Helen Robinson, Peggy White, Barbara Merrill, Ruth Pitcairn, Jane Noake, Dorothy Rose and Nancy and Louise Lippincott.

Paul Mellon, son of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, will be an usher at an eastern wedding, that of Marka Truesdale, daughter of the Joseph R. Truesdales, of Westbury, L. I., and Grover Loening, of New York, to take place June 28 in the Church of the Advent at Westbury. A reception in the Truesdale country home, Road Edge, Westbury, will follow.

Edith Crawford, daughter of Mrs. Charles Sumner Crawford, of South Fairmount avenue, and Clarence Howard Vant, of Ithaca, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, were married yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the Crawford home with the Rev. Dr. Albert E. Day, of Christ Methodist Episcopal Church, as the officiant.

The bride wore her mother's wedding gown of cream colored silk, with a tight-fitting bodice having a round neckline and puff sleeves outlined with lace, and a full skirt, faced in crinoline, cut long in the back to form a train. Her veil was of deep cream tulle arranged with clusters of orange blossoms. And she carried a prayer book with a marker of flowers.

Ruth Crawford, her twin sister, as maid of honor, wore yellow chiffon and hat of yellow horsehair braid, and carried an arm bouquet of summer flowers. Edgar H. Vant was his brother's best man.

Following a western wedding trip, the Vants will be at home in Severn street after July 1.

On Wednesday, June 4, Miss Lyola Mary Mellott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson B. Mellott, of Center avenue, Aspinwall, became the bride of Robert Lawrence Melville, son of Mrs. A. K. Melville, of Baltimore, Md., in St. Mary's Church in Forty-sixth street. Officiating was the Rev. Justin Gallagher. James Bridgeman sang.

Church Wedding

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a princess gown of white satin with a brief train. Her veil of tulle was arranged in cap shape with clusters of lilies of the valley. She wore lace mitts and carried white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss La Verne Mellott was her sister's maid of honor and wore peach dotted net. Miss Carolyn Melville, of Baltimore, sister of the bridegroom, wearing green chiffon; Miss Anne Griffin, in yellow chiffon, and Miss Lillian Baker, in orchid chiffon, were the bridesmaids.

Leo J. Mellott, brother of the bride, was best man and the ushers included John Maloney and John Fess. Robert Zepuhhar was the ringbearer. Inez McCoy, Helen Kork and Helen Groffwege, flower girls, wore pink, blue and peach ruffled organdie frocks and carried baskets of spring flowers.

The bride's mother wore beige chiffon with a horsehair hat and the bridegroom's mother wore black satin with a matching hat.

There was a reception in the home of the Mellotts. After a short trip Mr. and Mrs. Melville will live in Center avenue, Aspinwall.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. A. K. Melville, Miss Carolyn Melville and Miss Anna Rainey, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. George S. Calderwood, of Tyrone, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Flowers, of Blairsville.

On Thursday evening, June 5, Miss Dorothy Mae Hopper, daughter of Mrs. James G. Hopper, of Belmont avenue, became the bride of Cleon M. Musser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Musser, of Columbia, Pa., in the Canonsburg United Presbyterian Church at 8:30 o'clock. Officiating was the Rev. H. Ross Hume. The ring ceremony was used. Mrs. Glenn McIlvaine, of Bridgeville played the wedding music.

Bridal Party

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, B. M. Hopper, of Oakdale, wore a princess gown of white satin and tulle and, a veil of tulle was arranged about her face in cap effect and held by a coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Harry K. Brown, of Bluffton, Ind., as matron of honor, wore green lace and chiffon, and another matron of honor, Mrs. Raymond N. Croker, of Canonsburg, wore pink chiffon. They both carried roses and blue delphinium. Mrs. W. Burrell Pinney, of Winsted, Conn., a cousin of the bride, was a bridesmaid and wore yellow point d'esprit, and another bridesmaid, Mrs. Arch Dodds, of Slippery Rock, Pa., wore embroidered orchid net. They carried Dresden bouquets. Katherine Van Eman, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Van Eman, was the flower girl, and wore a frock of peach organdie and carried a basket of spring garden flowers.

Claude Rupp, of Steelton, Pa., a classmate of the bridegroom, was the best man, and the ushers included Charles Campbell, of Canonsburg; Harbaugh Miller, of Pittsburgh, and Hilliard Smuck, of Red Lion, Pa.

A wedding dinner and reception in the home of the bride followed the ceremony, and the bride's table, laid for 14 guests, was centered with yellow roses, delphinium and lace flower, and pink tapers. The bride's mother wore creme net over orchid satin and the mother of the bridegroom wore blue chiffon.

STYLISTS PRESENT LATEST MODE IN BEACH COSTUMES

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, JUNE 12.—The shifting sands of fashion move to reveal a beach decorated with delightful young things dressed in the most elaborate and colorful ocean outfits. No longer is a bathing suit surmounted by a beach robe considered correct or sufficient. We must wear pyjamas and bathing ensembles if we would do right by Father Neptune—and our vacation. Once again Mary Nowitzky and Schiaparelli, beach decorators par excellence, have outdone their previous efforts, in some new and novel models riotous with color and pleasantly complicated in design for clothes dedicated to ocean and sun bathing. In assembling your beach ensemble don't forget the hat and shoes, both of which should be closely related either in fabric or color to the rest of the suit. Just any old hat or a pair of espadrilles won't do any more in these days of formal informality.

TO GIVE YOU a fair idea of how we go down to the sea at the Lido, Dinard, Cap d'Antibes and other delectable spots, we are sending you sketches of two beach suits. The gaily checked affair is by Mary Nowitzky. Over a chocolate and white striped woolen jumper with white jersey collar and cuffs is placed gaily plaided pajamas in large chocolate and white checks. They are set on a close-fitting yoke, buttoning in front, and fall in a group of unpressed pleats at each side. The wide hat of coarse brown straw has a scarf and binding of plaided crepe, matching the pattern of the flannel pajamas.

SCHIAPARELLI'S bathing ensemble is most practical, complete and colorful. Over the black hand-knit one-piece suit is worn a wrap-over shirt of rubber. A black woolen jacket is faced and cuffed with the yellow waterproofed material and has large patch pockets lined with this fabric and closing with a zipper fastening.

BRYN MAWR FARMS CLUB CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Pageant Showing Seven Ages of Woman Given At Birthday Party

Its tenth anniversary was celebrated yesterday by the Bryn Mawr Farms Woman's Club. Seventy members and guests gathered in the Penn-Lincoln Hotel for the celebration, which was marked by appropriate ceremonies. There was a huge birthday cake on which each past president or her representative lighted a candle as she told briefly of her administration.

Mrs. Edgar R. Sampson, the first president, at whose home the club was formed, recalled the days when Bryn Mawr was just a little corner of Wilkins Township, a community of about a dozen families, mud roads, few autos and no radios, and the residents were dependent upon themselves for their entertainment. Many congratulatory messages were read from absent members and several who had moved away came back to voice their good wishes.

Mrs. Chester P. Johnston, drama chairman of the Congress of Clubs, gave a delightful reading of her "Seven Ages of Woman," the episodes of which were illustrated by Mrs. Stanley Byerly and her adorable year-old daughter, Hilda Jean; Mrs. R. W. Leukhardt, Mrs. E. Hill Turnock, Mrs. Dana R. Staples, Mrs. George R. Hurrell, Mrs. William Hasselman and Mrs. Mary E. Cannon.

Fitting music was supplied throughout the pageant by Mrs. C. T. Eakin and Mrs. Dayton Ulrey, who sang, accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Wakefield. Just before the close of the meeting Mrs. T. A. McDowell, the new president, named her committees for next year.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the Bellevue Methodist Episcopal Church held a joint social meeting in the church last night. Members of the Rose Leake Missionary Society and the Young People's Missionary Society and Mrs. H. S. Metcalfe, young people's secretary of conference work, were special guests. Vocal solos by Mrs. C. R. Noll, with Mrs. H. B. Walker as accompanist, and violin numbers by Miss Muriel Dils, with Miss Marion Urmy as accompanist, made up the program. The committee in charge of refreshments included Mrs. S. Frank Richards, Mrs. Harry J. Stern, Mrs. Richard R. Rose, Mrs. R. E. McClanahan, Mrs. Fred Diffenderfer and Mrs. W. B. Rodgers.

Mrs. James McFall, president of the Southern Club, entertained her official family and executive board at a charmingly appointed bridge luncheon in her home, Ellsworth avenue, yesterday. Covers were laid for 24 at the card tables, which were centered with bud vases of red roses and blue stocks.

Mrs. McFall has named her committee heads for next year, as follows: Program, Mrs. William O'Lee; altruistic, Mrs. Charles B. Ellis; social, Mrs. Walter Close; charity ball, Mrs. Robert F. Metcalfe; annual card party, Mrs. T. B. H. Anderson; visiting, Mrs. Fanny Loney Hooff; publicity, Mrs. J. William Rese.

Mrs. James E. Umbstaetter will give a luncheon at her home in Shields Saturday preceding the Flag Day celebration of Pittsburgh Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at Mrs. James B. Oliver's home. Mrs. Umbstaetter's guests will be Mrs. William D. Hamilton, retiring regent of the chapter; Mrs. Henry Clay McEldowney, regent-elect; Judge Theodore G. Risley, of Washington, speaker for the afternoon; Miss Margaret B. Barnett, corresponding secretary general of the National Society; Mrs. Adam M. Wiant, of Wardman Park, also a national officer; Mrs. John Brown Heron, past vice president general, and Mrs. Thomas W. Phillips, of Butler.

The program will be given in the annex to Mrs. Oliver's home, Judge Risley speaking on "American Ideals," Mrs. Hamilton introducing Miss Barnett, Mrs. Wiant and Mrs. McEldowney and Anna Laura Cree leading in assembly singing of the national anthem.

Covers were laid for 65 at the annual dinner given last night in the Congress of Clubs by the Dormont Mothers' Club. Mrs. John Snyder, on behalf of the club presented the president, Mrs. A. H. Gale, with a basket of flowers and a beaded bag. Mrs. Donald Price Maxwell was in charge of the program, which was given by the Gypsy Trio, Dorothy Ryan Nesbitt, piano; Frances E. Young, violin, and Bessie Hinebaugh, flute. Pins were presented to each of the six past presidents and Mrs. Gale announced her committees for next year.

Postal Men to Open Membership Drive

A membership drive will be launched by members of the Pittsburgh Branch of the National Alliance of Postal Employes, at their monthly meeting Sunday afternoon, in the Center Avenue Branch of the Y. M. C. A. The drive will last two months. Lewis B. Dorcus is in charge.

Canned Vegetables

—so rich in vitamins
—are more appetizing when Seasoned

with Sugar

SCIENTIFIC methods used by packers and canners insure a higher, uniform vitamin content than can be obtained on the home range.

IF YOU could watch and study the great canning companies at work you would make these amazing discoveries. First, the vegetables chosen are as fine as any fresh vegetables that ever came into your kitchen. Second, the scientific methods of cooking and packing conserve more of the vitamins and minerals than you can on your home range.

To get the utmost from these pure, wholesome canned vegetables, heat them rather than boil them. They don't need to be re-cooked. Then season to taste and serve.

A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is an ideal seasoning for all vegetables—canned or fresh. The sugar in this mixture heightens their flavor and makes them more enjoyable. And food that pleases the taste promotes the flow of gastric juices.

Doctors and dietitians approve the use of sugar as a flavor in the preparation of food for children and adults. For sugar makes most foods, which are carriers of roughage, vitamins and minerals, more enjoyable. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

GIRL UNAFRAID

By GLADYS JOHNSON

Ardeth Arranges to Take Ken to Mountains

CHAPTER LV.

Ardeth's eyes rested anxiously on Ken. He was painfully thin. There were deep hollows about his eyes, and the eyes had a strained look as though the man were pushed to the limits of endurance.

The sight of the girl was a shock to Ken. After the first outburst he was like one stunned. He slumped down in his chair and rested his head wearily on his hands, sunk in an indifference which was almost a stupor. He was content to let others take the reins, all his strength went to holding himself together.

"Sure. Harry Knowles. He's known Ken for years and his office is only a couple of blocks away."

"Get him now. Have him come at once."

Ken did not lift his head when Tom left the office. Ardeth was here beside him, that was all which seemed to matter.

His voice came muffled by his hands. "Awfully sorry—you saw. End of the trail I guess. Weak as hell I know, but why should a man go on living in prison—"

Sanitarium Advised

After a moment he struggled up in panic and sweat spangled his forehead. "Ardeth—you're not going! Don't leave me—"

"I'll never leave you again."

A quiet finality in that which soothed him. He subsided, satisfied, like a sick child. Not even Tom's return with the doctor awoke interest in him.

Dr. Knowles pursed his lips when he looked at Ken.

After a brief examination he announced to the other two in a low voice. "Can't say I'm surprised. A man can't go on outraging mind and body forever. Ken's been living on edge for months. And he's sensitive by nature. His nerves are entirely shot."

"What's the thing to do, Doc?" Tom asked.

"Sanitarium. And at once. If he keeps his sanity, he's got to rest. Put him straight to bed. Pump all the milk and eggs and nourishing food that he'll take into him. And no worry. That's all the medicine he needs."

Ardeth's Request

"A sanitarium will drive him insane," said Ardeth quietly.

The doctor eyed her with hidden curiosity while he answered. "But rest is all he needs. This is a case for time and nature to cure. His wife should be notified."

Ardeth's voice cut clearly across his own. "There's no use of us deceiving ourselves. The worst thing that could happen to Ken is to have Cecile take care of him—even if she would do it. No. Not that. Nor a sanitarium."

"What then?" asked the doctor, and his glasses flashed as he turned to look squarely at her.

The girl turned to Tom and spoke earnestly. "I have a plan. I thought of it while you were gone, Tom, because I felt sure of what the doctor's verdict would be. Will you let Ken have your mountain cabin for a few months? There's everything he will need there. Quiet and privacy and pure mountain air. And I'll see that he gets the rest and the peace of mind he should have."

"You!" Tom's face went so white with astonishment that the freckles stood out on it unnaturally large and dark. Behind his glasses the doctor's eyes appeared to narrow.

"Yes," she returned simply. "I'll give him care no hired nurse could supply. You said all he needed was to give time and nature a chance," she appealed to the doctor. And when he nodded she went on, still with that air of quiet conviction.

"He'll be quieter with me, because he'll be content."

Tom's voice shook. "Ardeth, you mustn't do this! Oh, my dear, can't you see—it will set every old gossip's tongue in the place clacking!"

Tom Loses Hope

Her eyes silenced him. "As though I cared! Tom, I feel that Ken's very life depends on this."

"Ardeth, you mustn't! A professional nurse will do. I'll supply everything."

She shook her head. "Ken needs me." There was a lift to the girl's chin, a look in her eyes which told them it would avail nothing to argue.

Nevertheless, the doctor was moved to protest. "It's a fine thing for you to offer, Miss Carroll, but, as Tom pointed out, it is bound to cause talk."

The contemptuous gesture of her hand was their answer.

She turned to Tom. "You'll drive us?"

"Of course! But—the shop, Ardeth. What about that?"

She made a slight motion with her hands. "You'll look after that? Sell it, of course. It will be months"—

The dogged hope which had dwelt deep down in Tom's heart died in that moment. Tom drew a deep breath.

Cecile's Claim Empty

She took quiet command of the situation. "We'll start—at once. Before—before others step in to complicate things. There are enough things to manage with in the cabin?—blankets—and linen?" She refused to leave, to go for her own clothes.

"Send Ah Ling to pack later. If I go away now it will agitate Ken—he'll think I'm not coming back."

They were in Tom's car crossing on the ferryboat before the reality of the thing dawned on the girl. By what a sudden swerve had her life changed. Last night she had been in the groove of duty which had held her through the years. A breath of time and all that was suddenly changed. She and Ken were together. They would always be together now, she resolved in her heart. Cecile? Cecile had no claim on Ken now other than the empty legal one of his name. Ken was her own. Her own as he had never been. In spite of the world.

With her decision a blessed peace had fallen upon her. She need not struggle to keep herself from loving him . . .

She sat quietly beside Ken in the tonneau as the boat plowed its way across the bay. Holding his relaxed hand in her own, and her eyes were deep and very lovely.

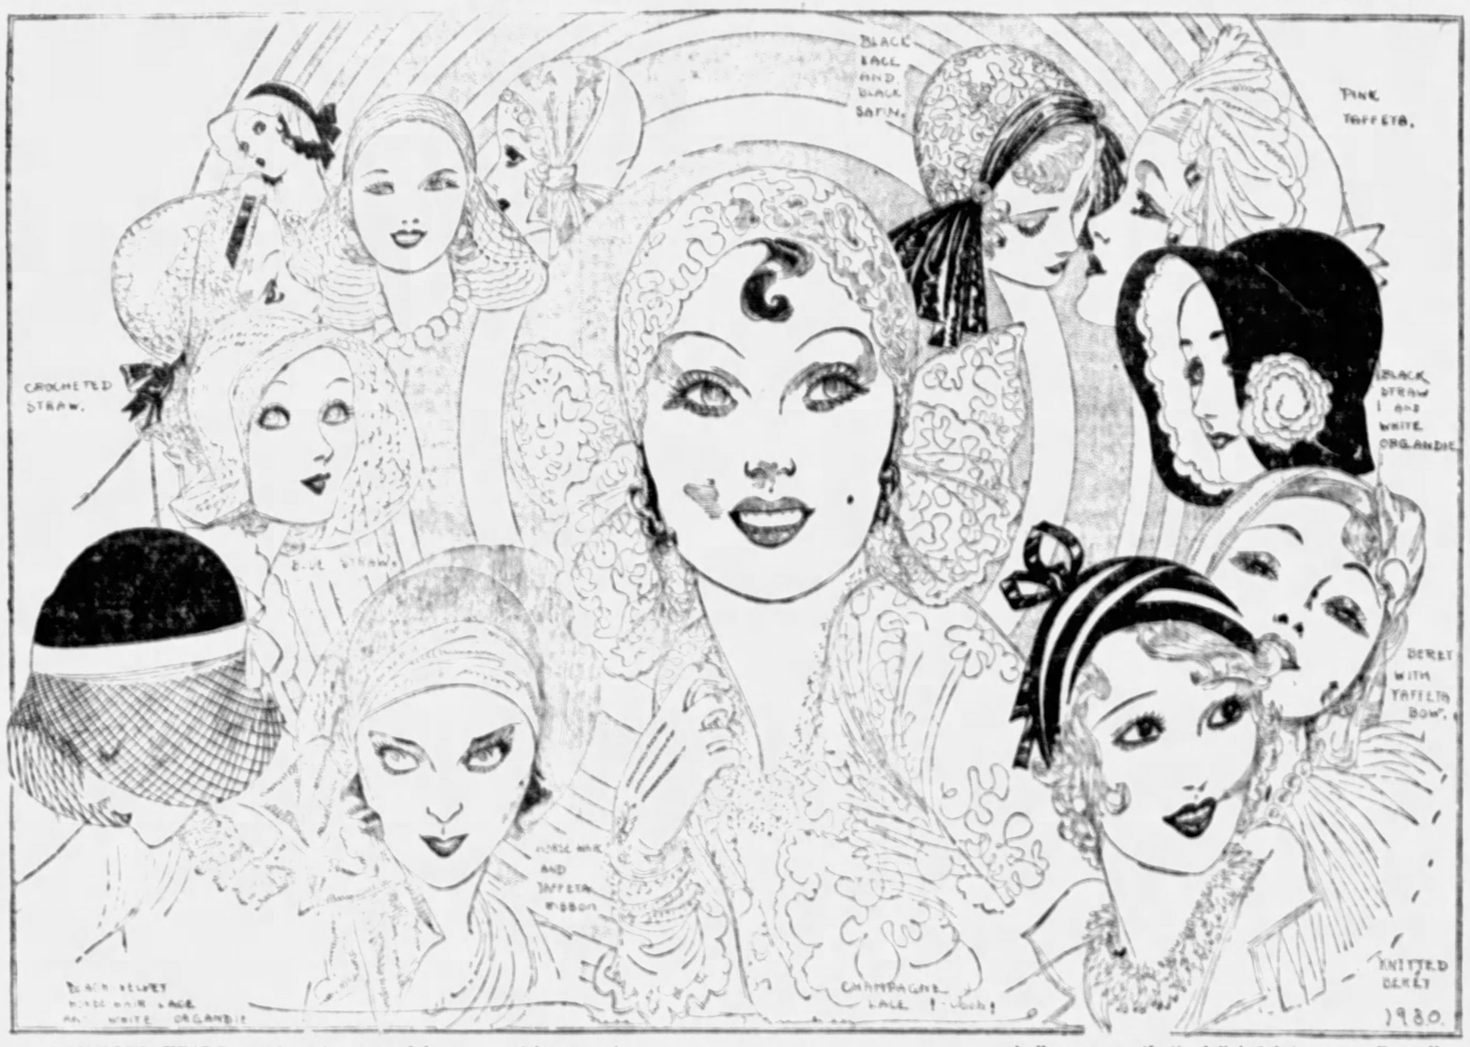
CHAPEAUX FOR CHERIE

Drawn by NELL BRINKLEY



YOU BOYS' HEADS may be going around from getting glimpses of fashion articles, insinuating "ads" in the daily newspapers, and the shreds of conversation of your girl friends on millinery—going around with WORDS. But girls' heads are clear on the subject, you can assure yourself. YOU may be in a daze with "exotic lace," "linene," "galyak," "baku," "magdala crepe," "shantung straw," "celanese," "grosgrain, ballibuntl horsehair!" But the girls are not.

They know what is what for the dear little head. George may be calling celanese Pekingese! But georgette has them all docketed on her little pink, or is it Nile, orchid, or Chinese red, fingertips.

At last, after a long struggle, for girls were really tired, TIRED, of the undying "cloche," it has really passed on. "More headroom" is the slogan this year, and it feels fine, thank you. There's a shallow crown that's delightful to own. Even the skull-shells are more comfortable. And there is a demureness, a chipperness, a charm, about the ribbons of organdie, the bows, the bits of flowers, the fine straw, the shapes, the lace, that are, oh, so welcome, oh, so pretty, oh, so wide in choice for every type, and, oh, so intriguing to the Georges.

How to Keep Well

By DR. COPELAND

Building for New Baby's Future Health

Motherhood is one of God's greatest gifts to the world. There isn't a home that can function properly without a mother. If she is sick, the whole family is handicapped. Motherhood means unselfish sacrifice, suffering and very often ill health.

Young mothers have a better chance today than they had 50 years ago. Scientific care has greatly lessened the dangers of childbirth. No greater advance in the conservation of health and life has been made than in this field. Prenatal care has done much to lessen the dangers. Modern methods of obstetrics are making safe the life and health of mother and child.

The expectant mother needs expert attention and the best of care. Doctors have learned that she must have exercise, out-of-doors life and recreation. These are just as vital or even more important than at any other time of her life.

She should be protected and assisted in her family cares by every member of the family. It is the duty of husband, relatives and friends to give every aid possible in the most unobtrusive way.

It is best that the expectant mother should plan her own diet, just as she would at any other time. This must be done in order to preserve full health and vigor. She should eat such food as will give adequate fuel value, as well as body-building material.

After the fourth month there should be an increase in the amount of food taken. It is important to meet the demands made upon her by her burden. Body changes are carried on at a greater rate, and she must have more protein food. Milk is of the highest value in this respect, while meat and eggs, because of their special qualities, are also very valuable.

Milk is rich in lime, an element often lacking in the diet. It is particularly important that the expectant mother, as well as the nursing mother, should take milk in liberal quantities, at least a quart every day.

Milk is lacking in iron, which is a very necessary mineral in the system. This may be had by eating meat, eggs and green vegetables.

We must consider the vitamins also. Unless the food contains an abundance of the vitamins, mother and child are sure to suffer. To get these, if the child is to be healthy and strong, the mother must include in her daily diet one or more salads, and two liberal helpings of green vegetables. Among such vegetables are spinach, lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, peas and beans.

She should eat, too, liberal amounts of bread and butter. She may well include preserves, honey and simple desserts. It is a good thing to take some refreshments between meals in order to make up the required food intake. These may include an orange, a whole grain cereal with cream, bouillon with egg yolk or milk and graham crackers.

All these things, together with a cheerful and calm spirit, should make for your well-being and that of your child. Calmness of spirit is half the battle. Modern enlightened care of mothers brings returns in life and health.

Love's Reawakening

Continuation of Loves Awakening

By ADELE GARRISON

Inmates of Farmhouse Disturbed by Young William

As young William Harrison's murmur concerning guns and hunting came to my ears I thanked my particular little joss that my hearing always has been acute.

I was careful to make no movement, to utter no sound which should betray my knowledge of William's promise to "get out the old gun tomorrow," as there "ought to be some awful good hunting around here." But I brought my mind up with a jerk from the soft cushion where it had been resting for the last few minutes, lulled by the apparent innocuous appearance of Dicky's nephews whom we were entertaining during the Christmas holidays. There would be no more rest for my faculties. I told myself—not with these boys in the offing.

I should have to tell Dicky before morning what I had overheard. I knew that the matter of guns and hunting was his province, not mine. But I meant to put off that particular little task as long as possible and gave my whole attention to the three boys, trying to make them feel thoroughly at home.

They were Harrisons, every one of them, I decided as I watched the three faces with their blue eyes and light brown hair, so like those of their dead father. I hoped with all my heart that they inherited that father's sterling qualities also, for from their mother, Dicky's sister, they had not nearly so good an inheritance. Brilliance of mind, certainly surpassing that of her loyal, sturdy but somewhat stolid husband. But I knew none better, the inability to think straight, the actual deceit which coiled through her soul like a cancerous growth. She had been a strange throwback, this sister of Dicky's, for she was utterly unlike my temperamental but highly honorable Peter Pan, or her elder sister Harriet, the soul of rectitude and high thinking.

I did not want to remember Elizabeth Harrison's peculiarities as I watched her boys in this, the first evening of their visit. But I could not get her memory out of my head, and I was painfully conscious that the thought of her was injecting a tinge of suspicion into my attitude toward them.

It was a feeling, however, which I resolved they never should suspect, no matter what possible unpleasantness might arise from their visit.

By Katherine's strict orders I had said nothing to them of there being a convalescent in the house. But I wished I had disobeyed her when after dinner Henry, the second of the two boys, spied the radio and spoke to Dicky courteously but with evident expectancy of an affirmative answer:

"Oh, you have one just like Uncle Edwin's. Do you mind, sir, if I try to get some jazz on it?"

I could have laughed aloud at Dicky's face, for the lad had stepped upon two of his uncle's prejudices at once. He loathes jazz except as an occasional accompanient of a dance, and he dislikes to have any one save himself manipulate his radio. But he also bends backward in his sense of what is due a guest.

"Of course, Henry. Which station do you want? I'll get it for you."

But Henry was before him, his stubby fingers busy with the dials, his face intent as a devotee's. William glanced at his uncle, then spoke carelessly:

"Hank won't hurt it, sir. He's a nut on it, that's all. He's always fussing with 'em as much as Aunt Harriet will let him—says he's going to make 'em when he grows up."

His revelation of Henry's predilection—and of his Aunt Harriet's reaction to it was suddenly punctuated by a blaring blast of jazz which fairly lifted me to my feet. I saw Dicky wince and wondered how long he would be able to bear the raucous noise. But it lasted only a minute or two when from above our heads sounded the imperative rap-rap of a cane.

Vamps and Other Women

Vamping is no longer a specialty practiced by a few highly skilled women; it is just a "side line" which every woman carries, along with her lipstick and her vanity case.

Most men are good husbands, fathers and citizens until they happen to acquire so much money that they have leisure to run around in high-powered cars with ladies of low-powered mentality and low-geared morale.

THE OFFICE WIFE

By FAITH BALDWIN

particular matrimonial estate, if that first passionate devotion to his wife had held through the years, with its initial mystery and glamour.

And he extended his wonder to all men. Did they, too, look over the walls; those, that is, who still refrained from jumping them entirely? It was not, he reasoned, that he was a sensual man.

Sometimes he wondered about Linda. How did she feel toward other men? What were her unfathomable thoughts? How well did he know her after 10 years of intimacy?

And now, over the bridge table, waiting for Mrs. Lucien to return from her conversation on the telephone, Jameson asked:

"Have you decided about the club, Larry? We have things well under way now, but I didn't want to rush you. I did drop in at the office one day when you were out."

Eaton said: "I know. I'm sorry. Yes, I'll go in with you, Dick, but I can't promise to use the place much."

"How about wives?" Linda asked in her deep, lazy voice. "Am I permitted to invade these sacred premises?"

"As far as I am concerned you are not only permitted but urged and welcomed," Jameson told her gallantly.

Linda smiled across the table at him. She liked Jameson. He was such a "good sort." And also, quite without vanity, she suspected Jameson liked her—more than a little. They'd been thrown together often in the last two years on house parties, at various resorts, at dinners—and Jameson had sometimes acted as her escort in Eaton's stead.

It would not have occurred to Linda to indulge in a cheap flirtation with any man of her acquaintance; that was not in her code. But as long as she did not exhibit her knowledge of Jameson's preference for her, she reasoned that she neither encouraged him nor imperiled herself.

"By the way," Jameson told his host, "I noticed at the office the other day that you have a new secretary."

His eyes were amused, quite without malice, and Eaton answered:

"Yes. Miss Andrews sent in her resignation some time ago. Her health—"

But Jameson's amusement was becoming a trifle too marked and Eaton was glad when Linda interrupted with a rush of words.

"Andrews gone? You didn't tell me. Poor old thing! What was wrong? She was so devoted to you, Larry!"

Now Jameson was grinning openly. He said, before Eaton could answer his wife: "The change is for the better, old man. That's a pretty little Cerberus you have slaving for you now."

"Larry, I'm amazed at you!" Linda laughed. "I thought you couldn't stand dolls around the office."

"Well, you won't keep this baby long," Jameson warned him. "She's too darned good-looking. Some smart lad will snatch her away from you. Wonder it hasn't happened before this!"

"Lord, I hope not!" exclaimed Eaton, and was conscious of an instant inner rebellion at the thought. "She's becoming far too valuable."

THE BEAUTY BOX

Certain hair dyes not only so change the structure of the hair shaft that it will not take the permanent wave, but they make the wave hazardous; the hair may come out any color from green to taupe, from red to purple. Pure henna does not disqualify the topknot from contact with the hair-boiling machine; neither do certain restoratives. A test curl will settle the question, with no harm done.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

A Young Hostess' Guest List

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

I am going to give a party soon, and as I am a girl, mother says I should invite girls and let them bring their boy friends. I think just the opposite. I suppose I am wrong, but the reason I don't agree with her is I only know a few girls around here whom I really want to invite. Another thing is, I know a group of boys whom I should like to have come because I know that if these boys come the party will be gay and not dead. These boys would feel hurt if they are not invited. And the girls I know don't know these boys, so I'm sure they could not ask them.

My girl friend had a party recently and she invited the boys, and we had a wonderful time. I told mother this, but she says it isn't right. Please advise me what to do. BOOTS.

The finest way of all is for you to do all the inviting, especially when it can be such a felicitous invitation-list as this. Invite the group of girls whom you wish to invite, and too invite the group of boys whom you like so much and who are so attractive and amusing. Then the girls will get to know the boys—and all of your guests will. I am sure, consider you the perfect hostess in the combination of your guests.

Gifts of Jewelry

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been going about with a young man for two years. I am not engaged. Would it be correct for me to give him a watch and chain for his birthday? I am troubled about this problem, as my friend says it is not proper to give jewelry unless engaged. J.

Household Hints

Furniture has taken a lot of hard knocks during the winter months when the family has been deprived of outdoor recreation. A good stain will cover up the scratches and make it like new for summer. An inexpensive and reliable treatment may be given wood by dissolving permanganate of potash crystals in cold water. Then apply the liquid with a pad of cotton-wool or an old, but clean, brush. Finish with a coat of clear varnish or with wax polish, or with both, if exceptional beauty is an inspiration to industry.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Friday, June 13

According to the astral testimonies, this day may well be in line to deserve its opprobrious reputation, as there are several signs of disruption and menace in those angles relating to business and ordinary affairs. Fortunately, larger enterprises and purely personal associations and activities are under excellent sway for expansion, advancement and personal gratification. Social, domestic and particularly affectional affiliations are under a very happy sign of prosperity and happiness.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for some sort of opposition or sudden disruption to business plans, or there may be a sudden change of work or environment, but other matters should thrive and bring much personal gratification. Romantic affairs should react to great happiness and success.

A child born on this day should be excellently endowed to overcome many sudden visitations in life despite restless and nervous tendencies, eventually rising to high position and much personal happiness.

WOMAN GUILTY IN SLAYING

READING, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—A wife was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in the killing of her husband, while in another part of the courthouse another woman went to trial for murder, charged with slaying a man with whom she and her child had been living.

The verdict, under which the woman may be sentenced to 12 years in prison, and $1,000 fine, was delivered against Mrs. Johnnie Jones, mother of three children, who on February 26 fatally wounded her husband in the bedroom of their home, when, she testified, he tried to beat her.

The other woman is Ruth Cramp, 29, who on May 9 was found in a Penn street apartment unconscious from gas, while in another room police found the body of Ralph Homan, 35, shot to death. Both the men had been operators of clubs here, Jones' place being raided several times by Federal agents.

Bellevue to Hold Graduation Tonight

Bellevue High School will hold its annual commencement exercises tonight in the school auditorium, when 115 seniors will receive diplomas. Dr. W. Charles Wallace, of Westminster College, will deliver the commencement address. Orations will be given by Elizabeth VanKirk, John Miller, Virginia Brooks and Seth Galbraith, of the graduating class.

12 MEN INJURED IN OIL BLAST

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., June 12.—(AP.)—Twelve men were severely burned and damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000 was caused by a fire which raged for several hours before being brought under control at the plant of the Texas Company Oil Refinery, just outside the city limits here.

All of the injured were employes of the refinery. Leonard Hatch, the most severely burned of the 12, was in a critical condition.

The fire started with an explosion from an undetermined cause in one of the treating units, quickly followed by lesser blasts in five other units. The treating units, known as agitators, handle the oil in one step of the refining process.

At the first blast, pieces of metal and sheets of flaming oil were thrown for hundreds of yards, setting up a conflagration which within a short time was consuming all of the refining equipment within an area about the size of a city block.

Mace Will Speak On 'The Cross Road'

James C. Mace will speak on "The Cross Road" to men at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. at 12:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The address will be broadcast over Station KDKA.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—E. C. Hartwell, superintendent of Buffalo, N. Y., schools, delivered the commencement address for 221 seniors of South High School, one of four high schools in Youngstown.

Westminster Guild Meets at Bellevue

The Westminster Guild, of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church, will hold a business and social meeting at 6 p. m. tomorrow in the church parlors. Mrs. J. L. Gerber has charge of reservations.

Emsworth Picnic Set for Saturday

Emsworth's annual community picnic will be held Saturday in West View Park. Special street cars will leave the borough hall at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Robert Graham is general chairman. Her aides are all women of the borough.

4 HURT IN RAIL, AUTO CRASH

TOWANDA, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—The Rev. W. C. Winch, of Towanda, an Evangelical minister, and three other persons were injured in a railroad crossing accident near here.

Mr. Winch drove to the crossing just as a freight train approached. The fender of the automobile struck the guard rail, and the machine dashed uncontrolled up the track. Finally the car hit a signal pole, and the four persons scrambled out just as the train struck the machine. With the Rev. Winch were his wife, his mother, Mrs. Laura M. Winch, and Miss Meigs Barrett. They were taken to a Sayre hospital. Mrs. W. C. Winch, who suffered a broken left arm and severe cuts, was believed the most seriously injured.

AFRICA FLIGHT DELAYED

NATAL, Brazil, June 12.—(AP.)—After trying 18 times to lift his seaplane from the waters of the Potency River since Sunday night, Jean Mermoz and officials of the French Aero-Postal Company decided to try another port for the take-off to Africa.

Mermoz, noted French aviator, carried European mail from the West Coast of Africa to Natal in a fast flight last month, but has been obstructed by much trouble in his plans to cross the South Atlantic with South American mail.

Aero-Postal officials decided today to send the mail accumulated for Mermoz's return, now three days late, to Senegal by the next regular dispatch boat.

Meanwhile, Mermoz flew a land plane to Parahyba, south of here, and probably will take off from there for Dakar, Senegal, next week.

Volunteer Firemen Holding Carnival

WEST BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Annual benefit street fete of the West Brownsville Volunteer Fire Department opened last night. Featuring the affair, which will last for 10 days, is a parade scheduled for next Monday evening.

Franklin Man Ends 2,000 Mile Flight

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 12.—Roscoe L. Trow, clerk, attained distinction of being the first Franklin resident to make a 2,000-mile airplane flight. He flew from Dallas, Tex., to Cleveland, O., as passenger in a Fokker plane.

Child, 9, Killed By Motor Truck

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 12.—June Massie, 9, was killed when struck by a motor truck driven by Jerry Belt. Witnesses absolved the driver from blame.

HELD IN AUTO 'RIDE' MURDER

BALTIMORE, June 12.—(AP.)—John Marciano, owner and driver of the automobile in the rear of which police found the body of Salvadore Vassalo, believed the victim of a "gang ride," was formally charged with the man's murder when he was presented by the grand jury.

Marciano was arrested when he returned to the machine, carrying a can of gasoline he said he had gone for when his tank ran dry.

Marciano told police he had agreed to take Vassalo, whom he knew, and two strangers on a delivery of liquor. One of the two strangers, he told police, shot Vassalo through the head from the back seat and forced him to drive to the point where the murder was discovered. Marciano is being held without bail.

LEAKING PETROL AFIRE ON CREEK

LANCASTER, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—Gasoline which had leaked into a creek beside the United States Asbestos Company plant at Manheim became ignited and the fire traveled for a mile up the run to a small building of the works. A gasoline tank housed in the building exploded, but the flames did not reach the main section of the plant. Firemen from six nearby towns kept the fire from reaching several other tanks of gasoline.

Francis Plaster, 39, an employe, was seriously burned.

Firemen expressed the opinion a smoker had tossed a cigaret into the water as he crossed the creek a half-mile from the plant.

FREE! A NEW KELVINATOR

See this Amazing Proof of WORLD'S Fastest Freezing

Watch Kelvinator Remove 100 Degrees of Heat in Five Minutes

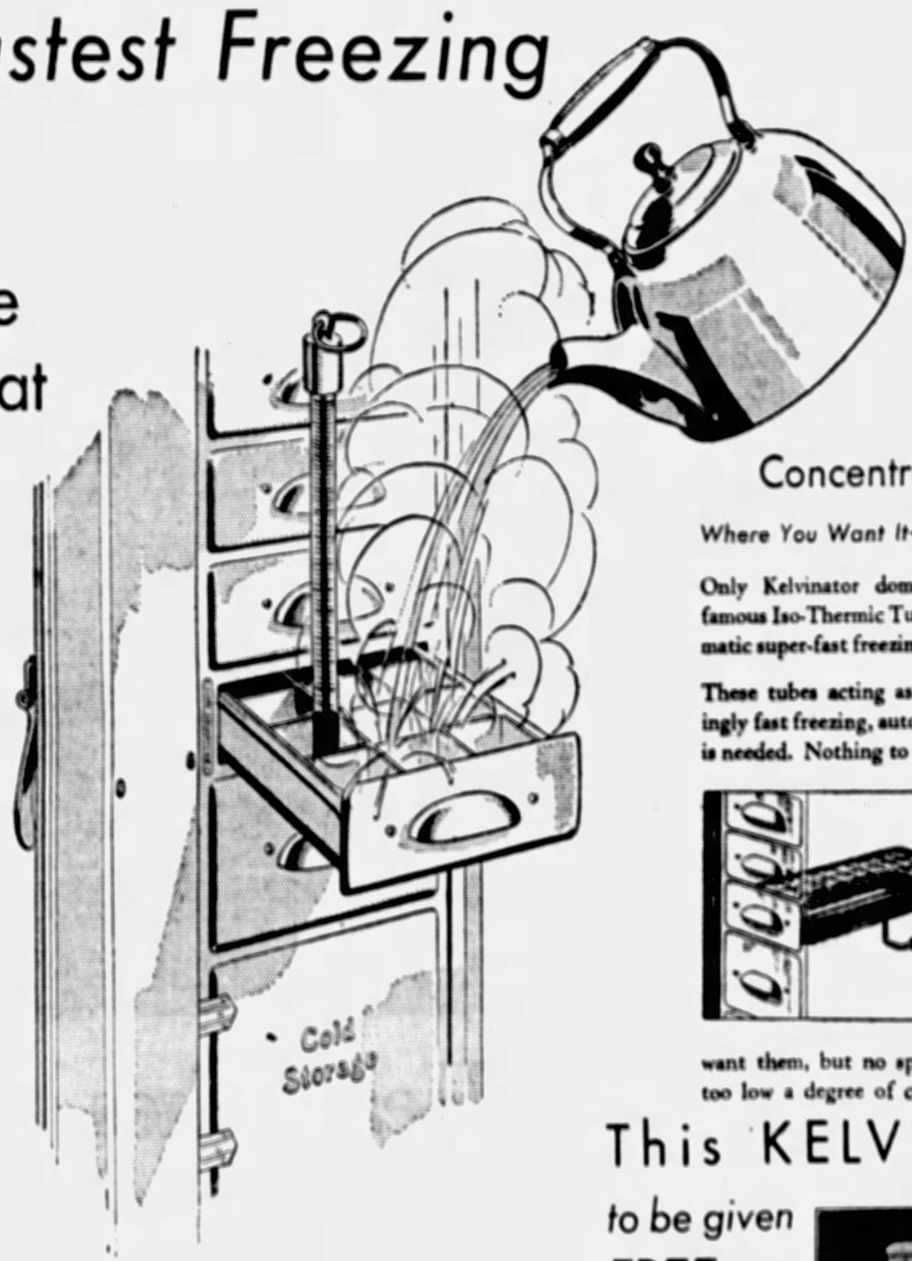
BEGINNING tomorrow at our showrooms, Kelvinator-Leonard Corp., 205 North Highland Avenue, will conduct a 10-day demonstration of Kelvinator's new Automatic Super-Fast Freezing—the most remarkable advance ever made in electric refrigeration.

Be sure to obtain a Kelvinator Coupon during this demonstration. At the close of the demonstration a new Super-Automatic Kelvinator will be awarded. Presented and installed absolutely Free of Charge. Coupons will be distributed throughout the entire period of the demonstration.

Whether or not you are immediately interested in electric refrigeration for your home, you will be well repaid for your visit by the scientific marvels you will witness at this demonstration.

You will see boiling water at 212 degrees temperature poured into Kelvinator's exclusive Fast-Freezing Tray. Within 5 minutes you will see 100 degrees of heat extracted from this water. You will see the Kelvinator freeze water to solid ice in less than 80 minutes.

You can inspect at your leisure the new de luxe Kelvinators that provide four separate degrees of cold: (1) for extremely fast automatic freezing of ice and desserts; (2) a special Cold Storage Compartment with below-freezing cold for keeping meats, fish, game, ice cream, etc., indefinitely; (3) steady cold for freezing ice at Kelvinator's fast speed; (4) controlled cold in food compartments always below 50 degrees.



Concentrated Cold

Where You Want It—When You Want It

Only Kelvinator domestic models have the famous Iso-Thermic Tubes, without which automatic super-fast freezing is impossible.

These tubes acting as a cold plate give amazingly fast freezing, automatically. No regulation is needed. Nothing to tax the memory.

Only with Kelvinator can you freeze ice rapidly without lowering the temperature in food compartments. Ice cubes and frozen desserts when you want them, but no spoilage of foods through too low a degree of cold.

Special Offer During Entire Demonstration

This handsome, three-coated porcelain Kelvin Cooler, with close-fitting lid and chromium faucet, adaptable to the cooling of water or freshening of vegetables, will be given to every purchaser of a Kelvinator Electric Refrigerator during the period of the demonstration. An attractive accessory for your refrigerator. See it on display at our showrooms.

This KELVINATOR to be given FREE . . .

A full-size family refrigerator, including the new Automatic Fast-Freezing feature. Nearly 9 square feet of shelf space. 42 ice cubes at a freezing. French Gray Porcelain outside and all porcelain interior. Equipment includes improved rubber Flexo tray for quick ejection of ice cubes. Be sure to obtain your coupon during Kelvinator Fast-Freezing Week.

Own a Kelvinator on Easy Payments

With warm weather just ahead, you need not postpone your enjoyment of Kelvinator's many advantages a day longer.
A low down payment and easy monthly terms are provided by Kelvinator's attractive ReDisCo monthly budget plan. Get the facts on it today.

KELVINATOR ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION FOR HOMES, OFFICES, STORES, FACTORIES AND INSTITUTIONS

BRIDAL COUPLE SAIL ABROAD

NEW YORK, June 12.—Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rickertson III, who were married on Monday in the Unitarian Church of Pittsburgh, sailed for Europe on their honeymoon last night in the S. S. Mauretania.

Mrs. Rickertson was Miss Anne Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James King Scott, of Doven road. Mr. Rickertson is the son of John H. Rickertson, Jr., of Ridge avenue, Pittsburgh. Before embarking, the newlyweds said they planned an extensive motor trip through England and the continent.

Other Pittsburghers sailing in the Cunarder were Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Bailey and son, Albert Bailey, Mrs. Margaret B. Kelly, Miss Margaret E. Hurt, and Mr. and Mrs. John Jedlicka.

The Pittsburghers had as fellow passengers a number of social prominents of this country and Europe, the list including Lady Morvyth Benson, Lady Patricia Ward, Miss Harriman Russell, Baroness Mary Bornemisza and Capt. R. Gordon Munro, son-in-law of Hon. Stanley Baldwin, former premier of Great Britain.

3,310 JOBLESS IN 3 COUNTIES

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 12.—Of the 201,820 persons in Belmont, Harrison and Jefferson counties, 3,310 reported to census enumerators they have no jobs. Steubenville, largest city in the area, with 35,412 population, has the largest number of jobless, 569. Bloomfield Bergholz and New Alexandria, and Ross Township has no unemployed.

Belmont county, the largest in the area, has 1,592 unemployed out of 94,710 population. Bellaire has the greatest number of jobless, 341 out of a population of 13,327. Martins Ferry, with 14,525 has 258 jobless. St. Clairsville, with 2,440, has only six such inhabitants and Barnesville, with 4,602, reported 26.

Harrison County's 18,831 include 444 seeking jobs. New Athens has 21 out of 464. Cadiz 52 out of 2,595.

Vocational Training At Sacred Heart

Vocational guidance is to be a regular part of the course of studies at the Sacred Heart High School beginning with the September reopening of the school. It is hoped that students will be able to leave the institution with a clear idea of what they wish to do in the future, according to Rev. Howard J. Carroll. It has been decided to exclude boys from the school.

Grocers Here Will Attend Convention

The national convention of retail grocers in Dayton, O., June 16 to 19, inclusive, is to be attended by a number of Pittsburghers. Among them are H. M. Wonn, president; Louis Bonahire, vice president; Michael Saville, director; J. V. Loughran, secretary; Aron Canter, I. W. Edgar and C. A. Pilgrim, of the Retail Grocers' Association of Allegheny County.

Porker 'Squeals' On 'Jim,' He's 'Pinched'

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Jim Storer, 54, doesn't mind being arrested, but when he's "squealed on" it's an entirely different tale.

Yesterday morning Jim was hungry so he crept into a small barn on the property of Clement Constantino here. A gang of young porkers were playing around in the building and Jim picked one up and stuffed it into a burlap sack.

The pig squealed. Out from the house came Mr. Constantino. Scenting an attempted robbery he locked the door of the stable and summoned police. Jim was placed in jail for a hearing.

Police Seeking Lost Diamond Bar Pin

MONESSEN, Pa., June 12.—Police in Pittsburgh and elsewhere have been notified to watch pawn shops for a diamond bar pin valued at $1,000, lost by Mrs. Gertrude A. Crotty, of near Butler, when she attended commencement exercises at Monessen High School.

Man Faces Trial For Wife's Murder

BEAVER, Pa., June 12.—Harry Foltz, Aliquippa, goes on trial today, before Judge Frank E. Reader for the murder of his wife, Maizie, in an Aliquippa department store, where she was employed following an estrangement.

UNUSUAL SHEEP TEST MADE

POMEROY, O., June 12.—An unique test is being conducted at the Ohio State Experimental Farm at Carpenter, Meigs County.

About six years ago officials of the farm selected sheep from flocks on the farm, segregated them and fed one flock a balanced ration, while to the other they gave only certain foods. The sheep on the "diet" seemed to lose ground almost immediately while the others prospered. But to make sure, experiments were continued until now the third generation is on the test.

The balanced ration sheep have more lambs and they are healthier, while the others have much fewer and are sickly. In fact, the flock has become so depleted that it was necessary to bring in new stock to perpetuate the "get" of the original sheep, a short time ago.

Boy Hit by Auto Dies in Hospital

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Ralph Wendell Swords, 5, son of Alex Swords, of West Brownsville, R. D., died in the hospital here, yesterday, the indirect result of injuries sustained May 4, when struck by an automobile operated by Harry Fleming, of Parkersburg, W. Va.

The loan companies who advertise in the Classified Section operate in strict accordance with the law. They will be glad to help you with your financial problems.

Woman Catches 'Hog' In Home Garden

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., June 12.—Young, tender groundhog was the the main dish served the P. T. Nobel family here yesterday, and the game didn't originate in Punxsutawney either. While working in the garden Mrs. Nobel espied the animal nibbling vegetables. With a broom she held him captive while a neighbor cracked him on the head with a stone.

60th Anniversary Of Wedding Honored

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 12.—Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Byers, of Venus, celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary at their home. Both are in good health. Mrs. Byers is in her seventy-ninth year and her husband is 83.

Man Awarded $800 In Bridge Collapse

MONONGAHELA, Pa., June 12.—William H. Smith, of Monongahela, was awarded $800 in his suit against Washington County for damages resulting to his truck when a county-owned bridge at Frye Station collapsed.

Couldn't Be Jailed But They're There

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 12.—Two Youngstown men who boasted "that the whole Pennsylvania state police force can't put us in jail," were sent to Venango County jail today, one for four months, the other for 30 days.

Felix P. Jachin drew three months and $200 fine for driving while intoxicated, and an additional 30 days for resisting an officer. Robert J. Epley, his companion, was sentenced to pay $100 and spend a month in jail.

One way to win is to look like a winner

THE man who scorns good grooming makes a big mistake. Torn fingernails, cracked and grimy hands, a careless shave or an unclean skin, spoil a man's chances for success.

A clean healthy appearance is worth everything. And you need only one simple, old fashioned familiar preparation to have them all. "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly. You'll probably find it right in your bathroom. If not, get a tube or jar from the nearest store.

To keep the hands in good condition, scrub with a stiff brush and soapy water. Then apply "Vaseline" Jelly liberally and massage your hands (exactly as if you were washing them). Work the Jelly into the base of the nails. Then wipe off and wash quickly. Your hands will emerge looking clean and fresh, like the hands of an executive, not a day laborer.

In the morning apply a film of "Vaseline" Jelly to the face before lathering. It not only gives you a clean, close, comfortable shave, but it cleanses the skin. Improves its texture. Try these two simple things.

ONLY NORMAL FIGHT BY GOB REQUIRED

AS THE HOUR of battle draws near, the opinion sticks that Jack Sharkey has only to put up a normal, intelligent fight to defeat Max Schmeling tonight, to become heavyweight champion of the world, and keep the highest of all fistic titles from leaving America and drifting across the Atlantic. True, a normal, intelligent fight is something that Sharkey cannot always be depended upon to produce. Guessing how he is going to perform is pretty much like picking a picnic date. Maybe he'll be good, but it's only maybe.

Jack Sharkey

There are times when the erstwhile tar packs all the class of a world-beater. You can't see where any opponent would have a chance against them. But there are other times when he acts like a novice and makes you wonder how he ever won a fight. On one occasion he will show the cool calculation and smart judgment of a master ring workman, and on another he will give a stupid exhibition that would shame an amateur. You never can tell about Sharkey. The only thing consistent about him is his inconsistency.

BUT WITH SO much at stake tonight, it seems a bit safer than usual to anticipate that Jack will be somewhere around his best. To give him due credit it must be said that, barring the Dempsey fight, which he could have won with average thinking if it may be taken for granted that he was in there to win, he has come closest to form when the biggest and hardest jobs confronted him.

The Loughran, Godfrey and Wills bouts were examples. The trimming of those three citizens was not the work of any third-rater. All of which seems to indicate that when something extra is required, Sharkey is able to come through with it. That being the case tonight, the Boston battler seems likely to have one of his good spells, and in that event it is hard to see how he can lose.

FOR IN THE matter of all-around fistic equipment, backed by the paramount item of experience, the former sailor appears to have an edge on his German opponent that ought to be sufficient to bring victory.

Max Schmeling

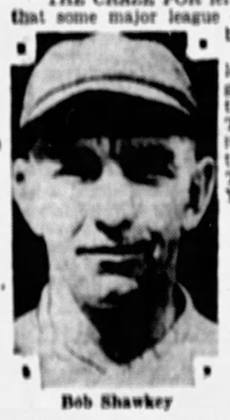
In boxing skill, Sharkey easily gets the award. In speed and hitting power he has none the worst of it. He is a better puncher with two fists. He owns what might be called an essential to championship success, a great left hand, whereas Schmeling is none too accomplished in the use of that important member but is forced to depend largely upon his right.

EXPERIENCE, THE MIGHTIEST factor of all, will also be in Sharkey's corner. Jack knows, if he doesn't forget it in one of his spasms of temperament and rattles, a lot more about fighting than does Schmeling, because he has fought longer and oftener and has met a greater number of good men than Max has faced. He fought Tommy Loughran last September and Phil Scott in February, enough to keep him on a good fighting edge. Schmeling has not fought in a whole year, enough to make even a champion become rusty. And finally, at the age of only 27, Sharkey is still young enough to have everything that he ever had, and to escape being placed at a disadvantage by the youth of his opponent, who is only 24.*

CLEARLY, THE WEIGHT of the dope favors the Boston man and makes him look like the probable winner if he is close to being right. Of course, it is not to be denied that Schmeling has a chance, the chance that must be conceded to a fighter who is young, strong, fast and able to sock with the kayo power that Max carries in his right fist.

But the German's chance hinges on the possibility of his being able to land that right on a man who is skilled in the use of both hands. Without speculating on his ability to take it, which has never been proved, it is questionable if Schmeling knows enough or is in sufficiently good form after a year of idleness to cope with a fighter of Sharkey's caliber. Whether it ends in a knockout or a point decision, Sharkey looks like the winner unless he's away off his stride.

THE CRAZE FOR left-hand pitchers has reached such a height that some major league clubs now are grabbing young southpaws before the latter have finished high school.



Bob Shawkey

Throughout the spring, several big league scouts were present regularly at the games played by the English High School team, of Boston, to watch the work of Vito Tamulis, 19-year-old forkhander, but now it develops that Bob Shawkey's agents beat the rest of them to the prize and that Tamulis has been under contract to the Yankees since May 17.

PROFESSIONALIZING A BOY while he is still playing on a school team may be proper and ethical in the eyes of some major league clubs, but in fairness to the school and all others concerned it would appear that the proceeding ought to be made public at once instead of being kept a secret. A year ago, the Yankees signed Bots Nekola while he still was pitching for Holy Cross, with the result that Holy Cross dropped the hurler from the squad as soon as his signing was discovered. English High has now declared Tamulis ineligible, making the action retroactive to May 17, apologizing to rival schools and forfeiting games won from Boston Trade, St. James High and Latin High.*

TAMULIS refused all big league offers until the Yankees came through with figures that he could not resist. He says he did not realize that the mere signing of a contract would professionalize him. He plans to remain in school until June 26 and to return next term to work for a diploma.

Tamulis averaged 14 strikeouts to a game in contests last year, and fanned 58 in his first four games this season. He was also his team's best hitter and is considered a good outfield prospect on account of his batting ability if he fails in the big show as a pitcher. Tamulis is a Lithuanian and will be one of the first of his race to try for a job in the majors.

THE LAW OF average, if nothing else, would seem to make the

MAX SCHMELING
This is the manner in which Jack Sharkey, American heavyweight champion, and Max Schmeling, Germany's contender for the most prized of boxing crowns, will square off when the opening gong sends them into battle in their scheduled 15-round bout for the world heavyweight championship at the Yankee Stadium, New York, tonight. A crowd of 70,000 is in prospect for the title contest.

Sharkey Predicts Win By Knockout Over Max

By JACK SHARKEY, American Heavyweight Champion.

NEW YORK, June 12.—I am ready for the sound of the gong which will send me into action against Max Schmeling in our 15-round bout for the heavyweight championship of the world at the Yankee Stadium tonight.

I believe I shall win by a knockout.

It is not my intention to try to name the round when I shall send Max down to defeat. I have 15 rounds in which to reach my objective and I do not intend to leave any openings for the German champion.

TO USE LEFT

My battle plan for Schmeling is much like it was for my winning contest with Tommy Loughran. I shall use my left hand to its fullest advantage and when the opportunity presents itself I shall blaze away with my right duke.

Never before in my career as a boxer have I been in such splendid physical condition as I am in right now.

I expect to enter the ring weighing around 198 pounds. This will mean I shall have all of my strength and vitality when I start letting my punches breeze. In the event it should be a long fight, I shall be able to work off four or five pounds without losing any of my vitality.

I expect a hard, tough fight when I tackle Schmeling. The German champion has beaten Risco and Paulino. In each of these contests he displayed a heavy punch.

Max is also young. He is only 24. He is also ambitious as he has been fighting his way to the top. One would be unwise to consider such a type of opponent too lightly.

RATES MAX HIGH

When I tackle Schmeling, I shall be prepared to battle one of the greatest heavyweights to come to the front in the past decade. By considering the bout in this light, there will not be any danger of my easing up and leaving an

BUCS IN NEED OF CAPABLE RECEIVER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE, Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, June 12.—With Charley Hargreaves gone, the Pirate catching staff is down to two players, which is O. K. with Manager Ens, provided the two remaining receivers keep their health. Nevertheless, the Pirate scouts, Chick Fraser and Bill Hinchman, are combing the bushes in quest of players, especially a catcher, so that the news of the acquisition of a third maskman may be received any time.

Two dependable catchers are sufficient for any club, but it is the policy of most teams to have a third boy around for emergencies. The job of catching in the batting practice is justification for having the third receiver.

SMART CATCHER

Hargreaves was a dependable, smart fellow under the bat, but the Trenton player was unfortunate in that he was not a good hitter or runner. Charley didn't have much power at the barrier and thus he was prone to hit into a double play. These things are ruinous to any team.

Manager Ens is somewhat divided in his opinion regarding Relly Hemsley and Al Bool. The latter has been doing most of the catching recently, but Ends decided to switch to Hemsley again with a view of getting the club out of its slump.

Bool does not begin to have the grace and class possessed by Hemsley. But he is a hustler all the time and he can drive the rocket far. He seems to be an improved player.

Hargreaves spent most of his major league career with the Robins, but he was not the first-string catcher. In the middle of the 1928 race, Manager Donie Bush saw a need of a catcher who batted right handed. The Pirate officials wanted to trade Johnny

Kopf Hoch, Says Mamma to Her Maxie

BERLIN, June 12.—(INS.)—Mamma Schmeling, nervous and excited over the outcome of her son's fight tonight with Jack Sharkley, sent the following message to Maxie through International News Service today:

"Kopf hoch, mein lieber junge. Wir glauben an dick und bitten fuer dich."

"Keep your head high, my boy. We believe in you and are praying for you."

Tremendous interest in the event has been aroused in Germany where all cafes will be open all night tonight. Shortly after the fight is over a dirigible will soar over the countryside in Germany displaying lights that will indicate the result. If Schmeling wins red lights will be displayed; if he loses white lights and if the bout ends in a draw the lights will be yellow.

HEAVYWEIGHTS ON EDGE FOR TITLE GO

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, June 12.—In an international battle that will see one man send his ring earnings soaring over the million-dollar mark and the other push his over the quarter-million mark, Jack Sharkey of Boston, the American champion, and Max Schmeling, the German champion, will vie for the vacant heavyweight championship of the world over the 15-round route at the Yankee Stadium here tonight.

Gene Tunney, whose retirement left the title hanging in the air, will be a ringside spectator.

A crowd of 70,000 will sit in on the spectacle and the gate will total between $700,000 and $750,000 at the most reasonable prices in recent heavyweight championship history, ringside seats selling for $25 plus tax. Ideal weather conditions are in sight for the show, which will be for the benefit of the free milk for babies fund, of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst is chairman.

SHARKEY FAVORITE

As ring time approached, Sharkey still ruled a favorite at odds of 9 to 5 and 2 to 1. Considerable Schmeling sentiment was crystalizing among the so-called experts, but it was not reflected in the betting of the fans. The great dearth of Schmeling money that has persisted from the start remained.

Meanwhile the rivals were champing at the bit, awaiting the bell that was to send them into action. Both spent the night before the fight in the city, Sharkey at the Bretton Hall Hotel, uptown, and Schmeling at the home of a friend. Each took a walk this morning as his final training gesture. Sharkey weighed in this afternoon at 197.

Each man will receive approximately $150,000 for his night's work. This will shoot Sharkey well beyond the $1,000,000 figure for his nine years in the ring and will be his second largest purse, his top sum having been $210,000 for his bout with Jack Dempsey, a few years ago. Schmeling's earnings will go up to close to $300,000, most of which has been earned during his short career in this country.

JACOBS GETS LICENSE

Good news was received by the Schmeling camp yesterday, when the boxing commission, although refusing to license Joe Jacobs, American mentor of the German, as a manager, agreed to allow him to act as the invader's chief second tonight, to be aided by Max Machon, trainer of the European standard-bearer.

If Jacobs had been kept out of the corner, Billy McCarney, partner of Joe, would have been Maxie's chief second. Manager Johnny Buckley will be behind Sharkey.

The identity of the referee will not be known until the men enter the ring. Four referees have been ordered to report for duty at the show, but their names are shrouded in secrecy. They are believed to be Kid McPartland, Arthur Donovan, Jack Denning and Johnny McAvoy. Lou Magnolia is out definitely as a result of the mixup in Sharkey's fight with Phil Scott at Miami last February, and it is said the commission regards Eddie Purdy too old to move around speedily, although the vet-

ROBINS WIN OVER REDS; CUBS DOWN PHILS

TRIBE UPSETS A'S; TIGERS TOP YANKS

Associated Press.

Despite a nine-game winning streak by their dread rivals, the New York Giants, Wilbert Robinson's amazing Brooklyn Robins continue to show their heels to the rest of the National League field and confidently look forward to their first pennant since 1920.

Nothing could better illustrate the fast pace the Robins have been setting than the fact that the Giants, despite their long string of wins, still are five games out of first place.

The Giants took Pittsburgh over the hurdles, 9 to 2, yesterday, but gained not one inch of ground as the Robins, behind Dazzy Vance's great pitching, nosed out the Cincinnati Reds, 2-1.

LOPEZ' HIT WINS

Vance held the Reds to four hits but it took a pinch single by Al Lopez in the ninth to bring the Robins victory. Curt Walker's pinch home run in the eighth had tied the score but in the ninth the Robins filled the bases and Lopez batting for Vance, broke up the ball game with a single.

Charley Root's fine pitching enabled the Chicago Cubs to break their losing streak at Philadelphia's expense, 6 to 2. Cuyler's homer with two on in the third gave Root all the runs he needed to win. The victory left the Cubs in second place, three and a half games behind the Robins and a game and a half ahead of the Giants.

In the American League, Washington's Senators advanced to within a game and a half of first place by whipping Chicago, 2 to 1, while the Philadelphia Athletics were bowing to Cleveland, 6 to 2.

GROVE LOSES AGAIN

Lefty Grove, Athletics' left hand ace, went nearly two months without losing a game but was charged with his second defeat in as many days yesterday. He was no puzzle to the Indians and retired in favor of Ernie Shores after the seventh inning with Cleveland leading 3-1.

Washington scored the winning run against Chicago in the ninth inning. Hadley, Washington pitcher, allowed only two hits for seven innings but was removed after Smead Jolley's triple with Kerr on tied the score in the eighth. Braxton held the Sox safe thereafter.

Detroit put on a seven-run rally in the seventh to trounce the New York Yankees, 13 to 7. Ownie Carroll, former Tiger pitcher traded to New York, was driven out of the box in the fifth inning and Gomez, McEvoy and Johnson were not much better.

Other scheduled major league games were postponed.

Gooch, so a deal was negotiated with Brooklyn.

DIVIDED WORK

The Robins gave Hargreaves for Gooch and Joe Harris. Hargreaves jumped in and caught some nice ball for the remainder of the season. He and Hemsley divided the work last year.

The Giants increased their winning streak to nine games yesterday so they took the measure of the Pirates in the first game of the series. The score was 9 to 2.

Carl Hubbell held the Buccos to eight hits. Heinie Meine was impressive for five rounds, but he had to come out for a pinch-hitter in the sixth and the appearance of Percy Jones on the slab was the signal for a fresh advance by the New Yorkers.

Ott's two-run homer in the eighth put the game on the ice for the home team.

Brick Owens' Knee Sprained; Struck By Liner

DETROIT, June 12.—(AP.)—Ex-ray examinations tonight disclosed that no bones were fractured when Clarence (Brick) Owens, American League umpire, was hit by a batted ball during the Detroit-New York baseball game at Navin Field yesterday.

Physicians diagnosed the injury as a slight sprain of the knee and predicted he soon would be out of the hospital.

Owens was struck by a hard drive from Harry Rice's bat in the seventh inning and had to be carried from the field.

COLTS DIVIDE TWIN BILL

Johnstown and Cumberland, in the thick of the fight for the Mid-Atlantic League lead, split a double bill at Johnstown yesterday, the Johnnies winning the second game, 5 to 3, after losing the first, 8 to 4.

At Clarksburg, the Generals twice walloped Wheeling, 9 to 7, and 5 to 3. Scottdale lost two to Fairmont at Fairmont, dropping the first, 4 to 2, and the second, 7 to 0.

Jeannette defeated Charlerol, 5 to 3, at Charlerol.

Pirates about due to turn on the Giants. In their last 11 games with New York (six last fall and five this year), the Bucs have been beaten 10 times, their lone victory being the 16-to-8 win which they registered here on May 7.

The Ensmen have lost five games out of seven played on the Eastern trip up to today. To come home with a margin on the right side they would have to win five of the six bouts remaining to be played with the Giants and Phillies.

Bill Amos

WHILE NO OFFICIAL announcement has yet come from either institution, it is said that W. & J. and Lafayette have practically reached an agreement whereby their annual football game next fall will be played in the Atlantic City Auditorium, at night. Coaches Bill Amos and Herb McCracken have inspected the auditorium and approved the suggestion that the game be played there, it is reported, and only the signatures of the athletic authorities at the two colleges are now needed to clinch the arrangements. Football coaches of several other big schools plan to attend the game if it is played under the conditions proposed in order to get a first-hand line on how the experiment works out.

THE ONLY SURPRISING feature of the release of Charley Hargreaves, Pirate catcher, who goes to the Buffalo International League Club, was that it didn't come sooner. It was clear last fall that Hargreaves had outlived his usefulness here, and he would have been dropped during the winter but for the fact that uncertainty as to how Al Bool would shape up made it advisable to retain the veteran as a sort of insurance policy.

That there was no foundation for the reports of several days ago that the Boston Braves were after Hargreaves is shown by their refusal to take him at the waiver price of $4,000. Hargreaves came to the Bucs from the Brooklyn club on June 8, 1928, in a trade for Johnny Gooch and Joe Harris. The release brings the Pirates roster down to the limit of 25 players that will be enforced in the major league after midnight next Monday.

JUNIOR EVENT ENTRY LIST GROWING

The field for the third annual Western Pennsylvania junior amateur golf tournament for the William Randolph Hearst Trophy, to be staged at the Schenley Park municipal links on Monday, July 7, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, is growing with leaps and bounds with each day. With the time for the entries to close, July 2, drawing near, boys from throughout the tri-state district are rallying around the banner for a bigger and better tournament.

The Hearst event is open to all amateur golfers, 19 years of age and under, who are not attending institutions of learning higher than preparatory school grades — which includes all caddies 17 years of age and under.

CADDIES TO QUALIFY

Caddies, of course, must qualify preliminary to the tournament at Schenley—if their club is within 20 miles of Pittsburgh. Eight boys from each club are to qualify, the four low scorers to represent the club for the club caddie team championship.

High and preparatory schools also are lining up for the big competition, for the school trophies and medals, and prospects are bright for their inaugural tilting.

There is no entry fee—but every boy must provide his own clubs and balls.

STABLE LANDS TWO WINS

Closing like a whirlwind, Busy Baggot, from the Davidson Kennels, won the eighth and best event on the program at the Bridgeville Kennel Club's Speedway last night. The place and show were strongly contested and only noses and necks separated the second, third and fourth dogs at the finish. The Davidson Kennels also furnished the winner in the seventh race, Daily Joy.

At New Kensington, Ahane Boy, running against a crack field, scored his second victory of the meeting by taking the eighth race, a quarter-mile event, in 28 4-5 seconds. Sarcastic Aggie paid the long price of $34.40 to win the second race.

Johnny Risko tells me he underestimated Schmeling's ability and as a result was knocked out. I shall not make this mistake.

Gene Tunney told Johnny Buckley, my manager, that if I utilize all of my boxing ability I should win from Schmeling. You may be sure I shall do this.

The bout with Schmeling is the great opportunity of my boxing career and I intend to make the most of it.

I am confident I shall keep the heavyweight title in America.

BREAKS FISH RECORD

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., June 12.—(AP.)—It pays to be Louche family of Jacksonville, Fla., to break fishing records. Yesterday George Louche hooked a muskellunge weighing 18 pounds, 2 ounces, the largest catch ever made in Cheat Lake. He broke a record established Monday by his 13-year-old son, Fred, who landed a muskie weighing 16½ pounds.

HERRERA FACES WORTHY FOE

Tony Herrera, Mexican lightweight, a headliner in Ray Alvis' immense stable of boxers, comes back to this city again Monday night to show the local fans his entertaining style of leather pushing. And once again his wares will be displayed at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock.

Eddie Elkins

Tony on his previous visits here, fought mostly home lads, but now he will engage Eddie Elkins, a hard-hitting New Yorker, who should stand an excellent chance of taking Tony's local stock down a few points.

Elkins is not very well known here, but after the readers scan the following paragraph regarding Eddie's recent activities, he is likely to make them sit up and take notice.

On the night of March 29, Elkins entered the St. Nicholas Rink ring with the odds 5 to 1 against him. His opponent, Billy McMahon, regarded as a sure-shot to beat him, received the surprise of his life from Elkins, who carried every round by a wide margin with his clever boxing and hard punching to win the decision over McMahon.

Johnny Chiodo, of Johnstown, and Johnny Willis, of Erie will be and Johnny Willis, of Erie, will be rounds. Georgie Bretsch, hard-hitting North Side welterweight, and Freddie Edwards, of Chester, W. Va., are in the second six-round bout, with Al Iovino, Swissvale southpaw, boxing Sammy Paris, of the Hill, in the six-round opening number. The show is scheduled to start at 8:45 p. m.

Between Rounds

Ted Tarras, of Monaco, and Young Rudy, of Charleroi, are in the 10-round main bout at Jefferson Park, New Brighton tonight in the first outdoor show of the season. Harry Spencer, Washington middleweight, is paired with Nick Polis for the six-round semi-final. Six three-round bouts make up the rest of an all-ty five cards.

Bud Taylor will square off with Pee Wee Kaiser in a bout of 10 rounds at Springfield, Ill., tonight.

North Side boxing fans will have the opportunity to hear the broadcast of the Sharkey-Schmeling fight tonight in New York, through the courtesy of J. H. Fichtner, of the North Side, who is erecting an amplifier for the benefit of the customers calling to go by the Twenty-second Ward A. C. grounds for the returns.

WILSON DRAWS WITH SOLMEN; GIZZY WINS

After being down for the counts of six and nine in the first round, Jackie Wilson, courageous middleweight of the North Side, came back to even up matters and get a draw with Mickey Solomen, hard-hitting New Castle scrapper, in the eight-round semi-final at Hickey Park last night.

The bout, billed as a supporting number for the main event, stole the show completely.

Solomen started as if he was going to duplicate his feat accomplished a few months ago at the Moose Temple of knocking out Wilson, when he sent Jackie sailing through the ropes with a hard right to the chin a few seconds after the bout started. Wilson, however, staggered to his feet at the count of six, groggy and all set for the finishing punch, when Solomen nailed him with another right and again Wilson dropped to the canvas, this time for a nine count but managed to get to his feet and bluff Solomen out of scoring a knockout.

WILSON RALLIES

In the second round, Wilson came out of his corner much refreshed and began popping left jabs into Solomen's face with machine-like rapidity. He continued this method of attack to completely out-general Mickey and win the round.

The next round also went to Wilson, who brought his heavy guns into play and pounded Mickey around the body, forcing Solomen to hold on.

Wilson, flashing the style that made him a local favorite when he first showed in this city, came out in the fourth round and began throwing rights and lefts in to Mickey's body and head. A right to the jaw in this round drove Mickey through the ropes for the count of nine. Solomen arose just in time to be floored with another right to the same section that kept him on the canvas for an eight count.

This tells of the most hectic action in the fight. From the fourth round until the finish, both fighters, tired and arm weary, kept plodding along the best they could. Referee Al Grayber voted a draw, while Judge Simco gave his ballot for Solomen. The other judge, Henderson, voted for Wilson.

The decision met with the approval of the fair crowd that attended the show.

The main bout, a very unsatisfactory one after the hectic semi-final, was won by Battling Gizzy, the Donora windmill, over Steve O'Malley, of Bellaire, O. O'Malley, once a fairly good fighter, appears to have lost most of his punching ability and the speed he once had, and thereby lost to the ever swinging Gizzy. Referee Kealy voted for Gizzy, along with Judge Henderson, but Simco, the other judge, called the fracas a draw.

CARPENTIER WINS

In the second bout, U. S. Carpentier, of New Kensington, defeated Frankie Moran, of Homewood, who subbed for Muscle Scholes, of the North Side, when Scholes reported with a case of pleurisy. Moran weighed 135, and Carpentier 133½.

Mose Butch, of Oakland, won from the more experienced Jimmy Thomas, Negro, of the Hill, in the curtain raiser. Thomas tipped the scales at 121, with Butch coming in a half pound heavier.

Dr. Acker Scores Ace at Edgewood

Dr. R. B. Acken scored a hole in one yesterday at the Edgewood Country Club. He was playing in a foursome with C. W. Harding, L. W. Yingling and Dr. F. L. Sunhurst. Acken scored the ace on the 155-yard No. 3 hole.

SOCCER BODY OPENS ANNUAL CONVENTION

ALL OFFICERS IN LINE FOR RE-ELECTION

By TOM BIRKS,
Staff Correspondent.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 12.—Delegates from Maine to the far western state of Washington are assembled in Haddon Hall here for a three-day convention of the United States Soccer Football Association, which opens today and winds up Saturday evening with a banquet given to the officers of the body by the Eastern Pennsylvania Football Association and the New Jersey Football Association. Sunday, the United States Referees' Union will hold its annual meeting, with a banquet following, and gossip around the convention hall seems to indicate that plenty of fireworks will be on tap before the gathering concludes.

Sam Parks, of Pittsburgh, former secretary of the West Penn Football Association, who recently was reinstated into soccer, arrived here armed with an alternate delegate's vote for the state of Washington.

PARKS ON HAND

Western Pennsylvania delegates who have ideas along holding office may run into a snag with Parks having something to say on the floor.

All of the officers are on deck, and while smouldering fires in the Cahill camp indicate trouble, inside workings seem to point to all of the officers being re-elected. Thomas Cahill, the stormy petrel of American soccer, resigned the national secretaryship two months ago, and this was followed by a statement aimed at the president. However, President Patterson, of Detroit, has made many friends by his skillful handling of the American League outlaw question, and he should easily weather any fight that may start.

MAY OUST GILGANE

In the referee ranks, there is a movement to remove Peter Gilgane, the president, and elect John Woods, of Chicago. Gilgane made things tough for the referees by questioning the orders of a national vice president, and there is more than a chance that the tie that binds the two organizations together will be cut before the convention is over.

The status of Gallatin, Western Pennsylvania's champion soccer club, will probably be aired, since the Pittsburgh club refused to travel to Fall River for the amateur final replay. While nothing has been officially announced, the Boston club will probably be named national amateur champion, taking up the toga now worn by Heidelberg.

Questions of an international nature will also be aired. Woolwich Arsenal, winner of the English cup, was under contract to play in the United States and ran out of the agreement. President Patterson has expressed himself freely regarding the attitude of the English club, and a discussion will be started regarding a communication to the English football association on the affair.

GOLF
As Champions Play It

Under what conditions would you use a putter in making a shot out of a bunker?

Answered by
LAURIE AYTON,

Oftimes a putter can be used to good advantage in making a shot out of a bunker. This is particularly true when the face of the bunker is sloping from you. When the face of the bunker is overhanging, never use a putter, for a pitch shot is necessary.

It may be interesting to golfers to know that traps and bunkers on 75 per cent of the golf courses in America are comparatively easy to play out of. What would you do if you had to play out of a sand trap where the embankments are from 50 to 100 feet high? That's what you will find on most of the better courses in Scotland.

U. S. WIGHTMAN TEAM FAVORED

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 12.—(AP.)—The eighth Wightman Cup tennis series, to be played here tomorrow and Saturday, finds the United States strongly favored to win its fifth victory in the competition begun in 1923.

On paper at least, the American team headed by Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, appears much more formidable than the English squad, and expert observers will not be surprised if the invaders win by a greater margin than the 4-3 advantage they held last year.

The series consists of seven matches, five singles and two doubles. Two singles and one doubles match will be played tomorrow and three singles and one doubles on Saturday. The pairings follow:

Friday—Singles, Mrs. Moody vs. Joan Fry; Helen Jacobs, United States, vs. Mrs. Halliwell Watson; Doubles, Edith Cross and Sarah Palfrey, United States, vs. Miss Fry and Miss E. H. Harvey.

Saturday—Singles, Miss Jacobs vs. Miss Fry; Mrs. Moody vs. Mrs. Watson; Miss Palfrey vs. Miss P. Mudford; Doubles, Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs vs. Mrs. L. A. Godfree and Mrs. Watson.

Grade School Nines Advance to Finals

By defeating Beechwood, 2 to 0, yesterday, Beltzhoover grade school earned the right to play the Oakwood team, which defeated Shodgrass, 15 to 13, for the South Side district baseball championship Monday afternoon in Olympia Park.

In the Central-North Side district, Holmes defeated Greenfield, 4 to 2, while Forbes downed Conroy, 10 to 9. If Greenfield wins over Frick today it will play Forbes for that section's title on the Schenley diamond Monday afternoon.

Fulton won from Rogers school, 3 to 0, and Fort Pitt scored a 12-to-5 win over Garfield in the East End district. Fulton will play Lawrence today at Leslie Park, while Swisshelm battles Fort Pitt at Westinghouse. The winners of today's games will play for the section championship on Tuesday.

15 Games Listed For W.-J. Cage Team

WASHINGTON, Pa., June 12.—Wash-Jeff's basketball schedule for 1931, comprising 15 games, includes contests with all leading sectional opponents as well as with four Eastern Pennsylvania colleges and two in Ohio. Allegheny and Grove City are old opponents that do not appear on the card. Pitt, West Virginia, Carnegie Tech, Geneva and Bethany occupy usual places with home and home contests. The schedule follows:

January 14, Bethany at Bethany; January 17, Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh; February 3 or 4, Pitt at Washington; February 10, Carnegie Tech at Washington; February 13, Dickinson at Carlisle; February 14, Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster; February 17, Temple at Allentown; February 21, Muskingum at New Concord, O.; February 25, Wittenberg at Springfield, O.; February 28, West Virginia at Washington; March 2, Pitt at Pittsburgh; March 4, West Virginia at Morgantown; March 10, Geneva at Beaver Falls.

Diegel and Smith Beat British Pros

NOTTINGHAM, England, June 12.—(AP.)—Leo Diegel and Horton Smith, American professional golf stars, beat Archie Compston and C. A. Whitcombe, British pros, in a four-ball match today at the Beeston Fields course, 3 up and 2 to play.

Compston was the weak link in the English combination. Both of the Americans played well.

WILLIE DAVIES WINS

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 12.—Willie Davies, of Charleroi, Pa., scored a three-round knockout over Jackie Coogan here last night.

SEC. I WOMEN TEAMS CLASH TODAY

By VERN SWARTSFAGER

Two tournaments are in progress over local golf links today—one at the Shannopin Country Club, where Section I, of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania Team League is staging another contest, and the other at the Nemacolin Country Club, where the first and second rounds of match play in an invitation tournament are being held.

Shannopin started play against the Chartiers Heights team at 10:30 this morning; Fox Chapel is playing Stanton Heights, having started at 11 o'clock; Oakmont and Edgewood teed off at 11:30 and the Pittsburgh Field Club at noon.

THREE IN OFFING

Tomorrow the National Linen Supply Golf Association stages a contest at the Alcoma Country Club, and a one-day tournament of the Women's Golf Association of Western Pennsylvania will be held at the Pittsburgh Field Club. An invitation tournament for men, with a small field playing, also is scheduled to begin tomorrow at the Allegheny Country Club, continuing until Friday.

Yesterday three district tournaments were played, the Grogan Cup match, between Highland and Shannopin, on the latter's course; a Section II women's team league match at the Country Club of Pittsburgh, and the qualifying round of the Nemacolin Country Club invitation event.

Shannopin regained possession of the Grogan Cup in yesterday's play by defeating Highland, 148 to 70. Highland won the cup a year ago, and in a preliminary setto about a month back indicated that the strength was there to retain possession of the trophy. Shannopin, however, was invincible on its own course yesterday.

ALCOMA GAINS

In the Section II competition yesterday of the Women's Team League, Alcoma's team, scoring an 18-0 victory over South Hills, climbed from fourth to second place in the section standing.

Longue Vue, leaders in the section, defeated St. Clair 13 to 2 and Westmoreland nosed out Pittsburgh Country Club, 9 to 8.

At Nemacolin, Jock Graham, of South Hills, led the field in the 18-hole medal play with a card of 71. Sam Parks, of Highland, was second with a 77. Graham's score set a new amateur record for the course. Match play in four flights will begin today.

Frank Ryman and W. L. Ryman tied for the low gross with 88s in the annual University of Pittsburgh Alumni Tournament yesterday at the Valley Heights Golf Club. They also had the low net scores, being 73.

Nick Altrock Says:

CHICAGO, June 12.—I don't see what keeps that Brooklyn team up at the top. Robbie must be feeding them helium gas. When I saw the Brooklyns play during the training season they were ragged enough to join the Salvation Army and when Robbie said it was the best club he ever had, I sent that in and got a dollar from the cute sayings from the kiddies' editor. He asked me for more cracks like that. Now the Robins are the class of the league and I take off my re-painted straw hat to Robbie.

JACK FAVORED TO DEFEAT SCHMELING

Sports Editor

eran's work in the Tunney-Heeney bout a few years ago was flawless.

Thousands of fans kept flocking into town today and the city is a beehive of fistic enthusiasts speaking their own peculiar language. Included in the throng are hundreds of Pittsburghers.

TO BROADCAST BOUT

The main bout is scheduled to go on at 10 o'clock eastern standard time, but, if there are knockouts in the preliminaries, the men may enter the ring as early as 9:30. Arrangements have been made to broadcast the radio description of the battle in both English and German on both long and short waves and Germany and England will sit up and await the tidings as eagerly as every city and hamlet in this fair land.

If a knockout is scored either way, it will not be the first such defeat for the victim. Schmeling has been stopped three times and Sharkey twice. Max Diekman won by a technical knockout over Schmeling in four rounds in Berlin in 1924; Larry Gains duplicated the feat in two rounds at Koln, Germany, in 1925, and Gypsey Daniels stopped the German in one round at Frankfort, Germany, in February, 1928. Sharkey was stopped by Quintin Romero-Rojas in nine rounds in 1924 and by Dempsey on that fluke in seven rounds in 1927.

Schmeling is 24 years old and Sharkey 27. The German has had a meteoric rise since his first appearance here, in November, 1928. Almost unknown at the time, he took on Joe Monte, in Madison Square Garden, and knocked out the Bostonian in eight rounds. In 1929, he defeated Joe Sekyra in 10 rounds, knocked out Pietro Corri in one round and Johnny Risko in nine and then won over Paulino in 15 rounds.

He has not boxed since the Paulino bout, June 27 of last year, which means that he is facing Sharkey after almost a year's idleness except for what training he has done. In the meantime, Sharkey has knocked out Tommy Loughran and Phil Scott in three rounds each.

GOB'S RECORD BEST

Sharkey pickers are naming him on his greater experience against formidable opponents, taking into consideration the fact that he defeated both George Godfrey and Harry Wills, Negro giants, when all of the other heavies were ducking them, and also has boxed Dempsey, Tom Heeney, Johnny Risko, Young Stribling, K. O. Christner, Mike McTigue and Jim Maloney, among others. He has not boxed Paulino, a victory over whom landed Schmeling tonight's title chance.

With the exception of the 10-round semi-final, which will go on after the main bout, all of the preliminaries stand as arranged. Arthur DeKuh and Walter Cobb were the original semi-finalists. When DeKuh withdrew, Al Fay, of Charleroi, Pa., was substituted for him. On Tuesday, Cobb pulled out, and as a result, George Hoffman, former national amateur champion, who has boxed Tom Heeney and other good ones, has been substituted against Fay. Fay, a protege of Jack Kearns, holds a three-round knockout victory over Hoffman, scored in Boston last year.

Marty Fox, of New York, and Piet Brand, of Holland, will enter the ring for the first bout, a six-rounder, at 8 p. m. They will be followed by Raoul Bianchi, of Cuba, and Stanley Parada, of Jersey City, in another six-rounder, and then Henry Lamar, of Washington, D. C., pairs off with Mateo Osa, of Spain, for 10 rounds. The main bout is fourth on the program.

Who'll win? Make your own choice. We're stringing along with Sharkey, counting on him to fight one of his good fights this time, his brand being too good for any of the other heavies in the field. If he foozles again, we're off the inconsistent big guy for life.

VERONA MEETS WILMERDING TODAY

SANDLOT GAMES TODAY

WEST PENN LEAGUE
Wilmerding at Verona.
CENTRAL LEAGUE
Soho Board of Trade at Lincoln Civics.
Fintex at Beckmans Motors.
Etna at Y. M. H. A.
C. & I. LEAGUE
Joseph Hornes at Mine Safety.
CITY LEAGUE
Jimmy Smiths at North Side Civics.
Pleasant Valley at Stowe Civics.

A number of interesting sandlot games are carded this evening. One game will be staged in the West Penn circuit, this finding Wilmerding tangling with Verona at Community Field.

Three games will be flashed in the Central loop, which can be classed as the finest loop in the Pittsburgh district. Soho Traders will go to Hartman Park to meet Lincoln Civics, this game should settle the titular aspirations of at least one of the clubs.

Fintex and Beckman Motors will stage a battle in the South Hills and Lutton is looking for a banner crowd when the teams take the field. Pickles has strengthened Fintex and a real battle should be waged.

The third game finds Etna doing its stuff at Etna Field opposing Y. M. H. A. The Bellfielders have the reputation of having the hardest hitting club in the loop.

In the City League two games will be played. The Jimmy Smith club goes over to Manchester to hook up with the North Side Civics, while the Pleasant Valley Smilers go to Stowe to meet Pop Gear's Civics.

One game will be played in the Commercial and Industrial League. Joseph Horne meets Mine Safety at Homewood playgrounds. Joseph Horne has made a great showing in the first half, considering the club has played all of its games on the road.

Featured by the Homestead Grays 8-0 win over Beaver Falls, in which Cooper, Gray hurler, came within an ace of hurling a no-hit game, the sandlotters enjoyed a full program last evening.

In the City League, Stowe defeated St. Johns, 4 to 2, and the North Side Civics won over W. O. W., 10 to 3. Dravo walloped the Reick-McJunkins in the C. and I. League, 10 to 0 and in the Central circuit, the Beckmans downed Etna, 9 to 7.

Homestead Aces and Dan Heeps tied, 1 to 1, in the Greater Pittsburgh loop and in the Major League Iroquois won over St. George's Lyceum, 16 to 1.

FAMILY DOCTOR MADE MILLIONS OF FRIENDS

Fifteen years after his graduation, Dr. Caldwell became famous for a single prescription, which now, after forty years, is still making friends.

Today Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the world's most popular laxative. Millions of people never think of using anything else when they're constipated, headachy, bilious, feverish or weak; when breath is bad, tongue coated, or they're suffering from nausea, gas, or lack of appetite or energy.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made today according to the original formula, from herbs and other pure ingredients. It is pleasant-tasting; thorough in the most obstinate cases; gently effective for women and children. Above all, it represents a doctor's choice of what is safe for the bowels.

We Now Present

By DARRELL V. MARTIN,
Radio Editor.

THE WORLD WILL listen-in tonight when Mr. Jack Sharkey meets Herr Max Schmeling in the Yankee Stadium, New York.

A battery of microphones will convey a description of the championship bout to a full NBC network and short wave stations of KDKA and WGY.

Starting at 9:30 the full proceedings will come to Pittsburgh via KDKA and WCAE.

Graham McNamee will be assisted at the ringside by Billy Benedict, society editor of the New York Journal, and Miss Carmen Ogden of Rochester, N. Y. They will identify social leaders and describe frocks of women in choice box seats.

Schumann-Heink

Plans for the broadcast were made by M. H. Aylesworth, president of NBC, after a series of conferences with Damon Runyon, representing Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, chairman of the New York Milk Fund Committee.

Immediately following the fight broadcast, WCAE will pickup the RCA Hour featuring Madame Schumann-Heink and other prominent artists. The great contralto will sing several numbers for which she is famous among them Nevin's "The Rosary," Arditi's "Bolero" and "The Lord Is Mindful of His Own," from Mendelssohn's oratorio, "St. Paul."

Richard Crooks, young American tenor, will include the "Flower Song" from Bizet's "Carmen" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," by Victor Herbert.

Darlin' Denny, charming wife of Jack Denny, drove 713 miles from Montreal to Pittsburgh in less than 36 hours—then lost two hours crossing bridges in our metropolis trying to locate a certain down'own hotel.

Desertion Charged In Husband's Suit

Soon after his wife was caught in his home with another man she left him, Herbert J. Hause, Brackenridge, testified before Judge James B. Drew in asking for a divorce from Grace Hause. The couple was married in October, 1919, and separated in 1928. Hause charged his wife with desertion.

500 Boy Scouts To Run Theaters

Five hundred boy scouts will slip into executive and other positions in the local Warner Brothers' theaters Saturday, running them for a day as part of the Warner Brothers' June Family Month. All Pittsburgh theaters of the chain are to be turned over to the boys.

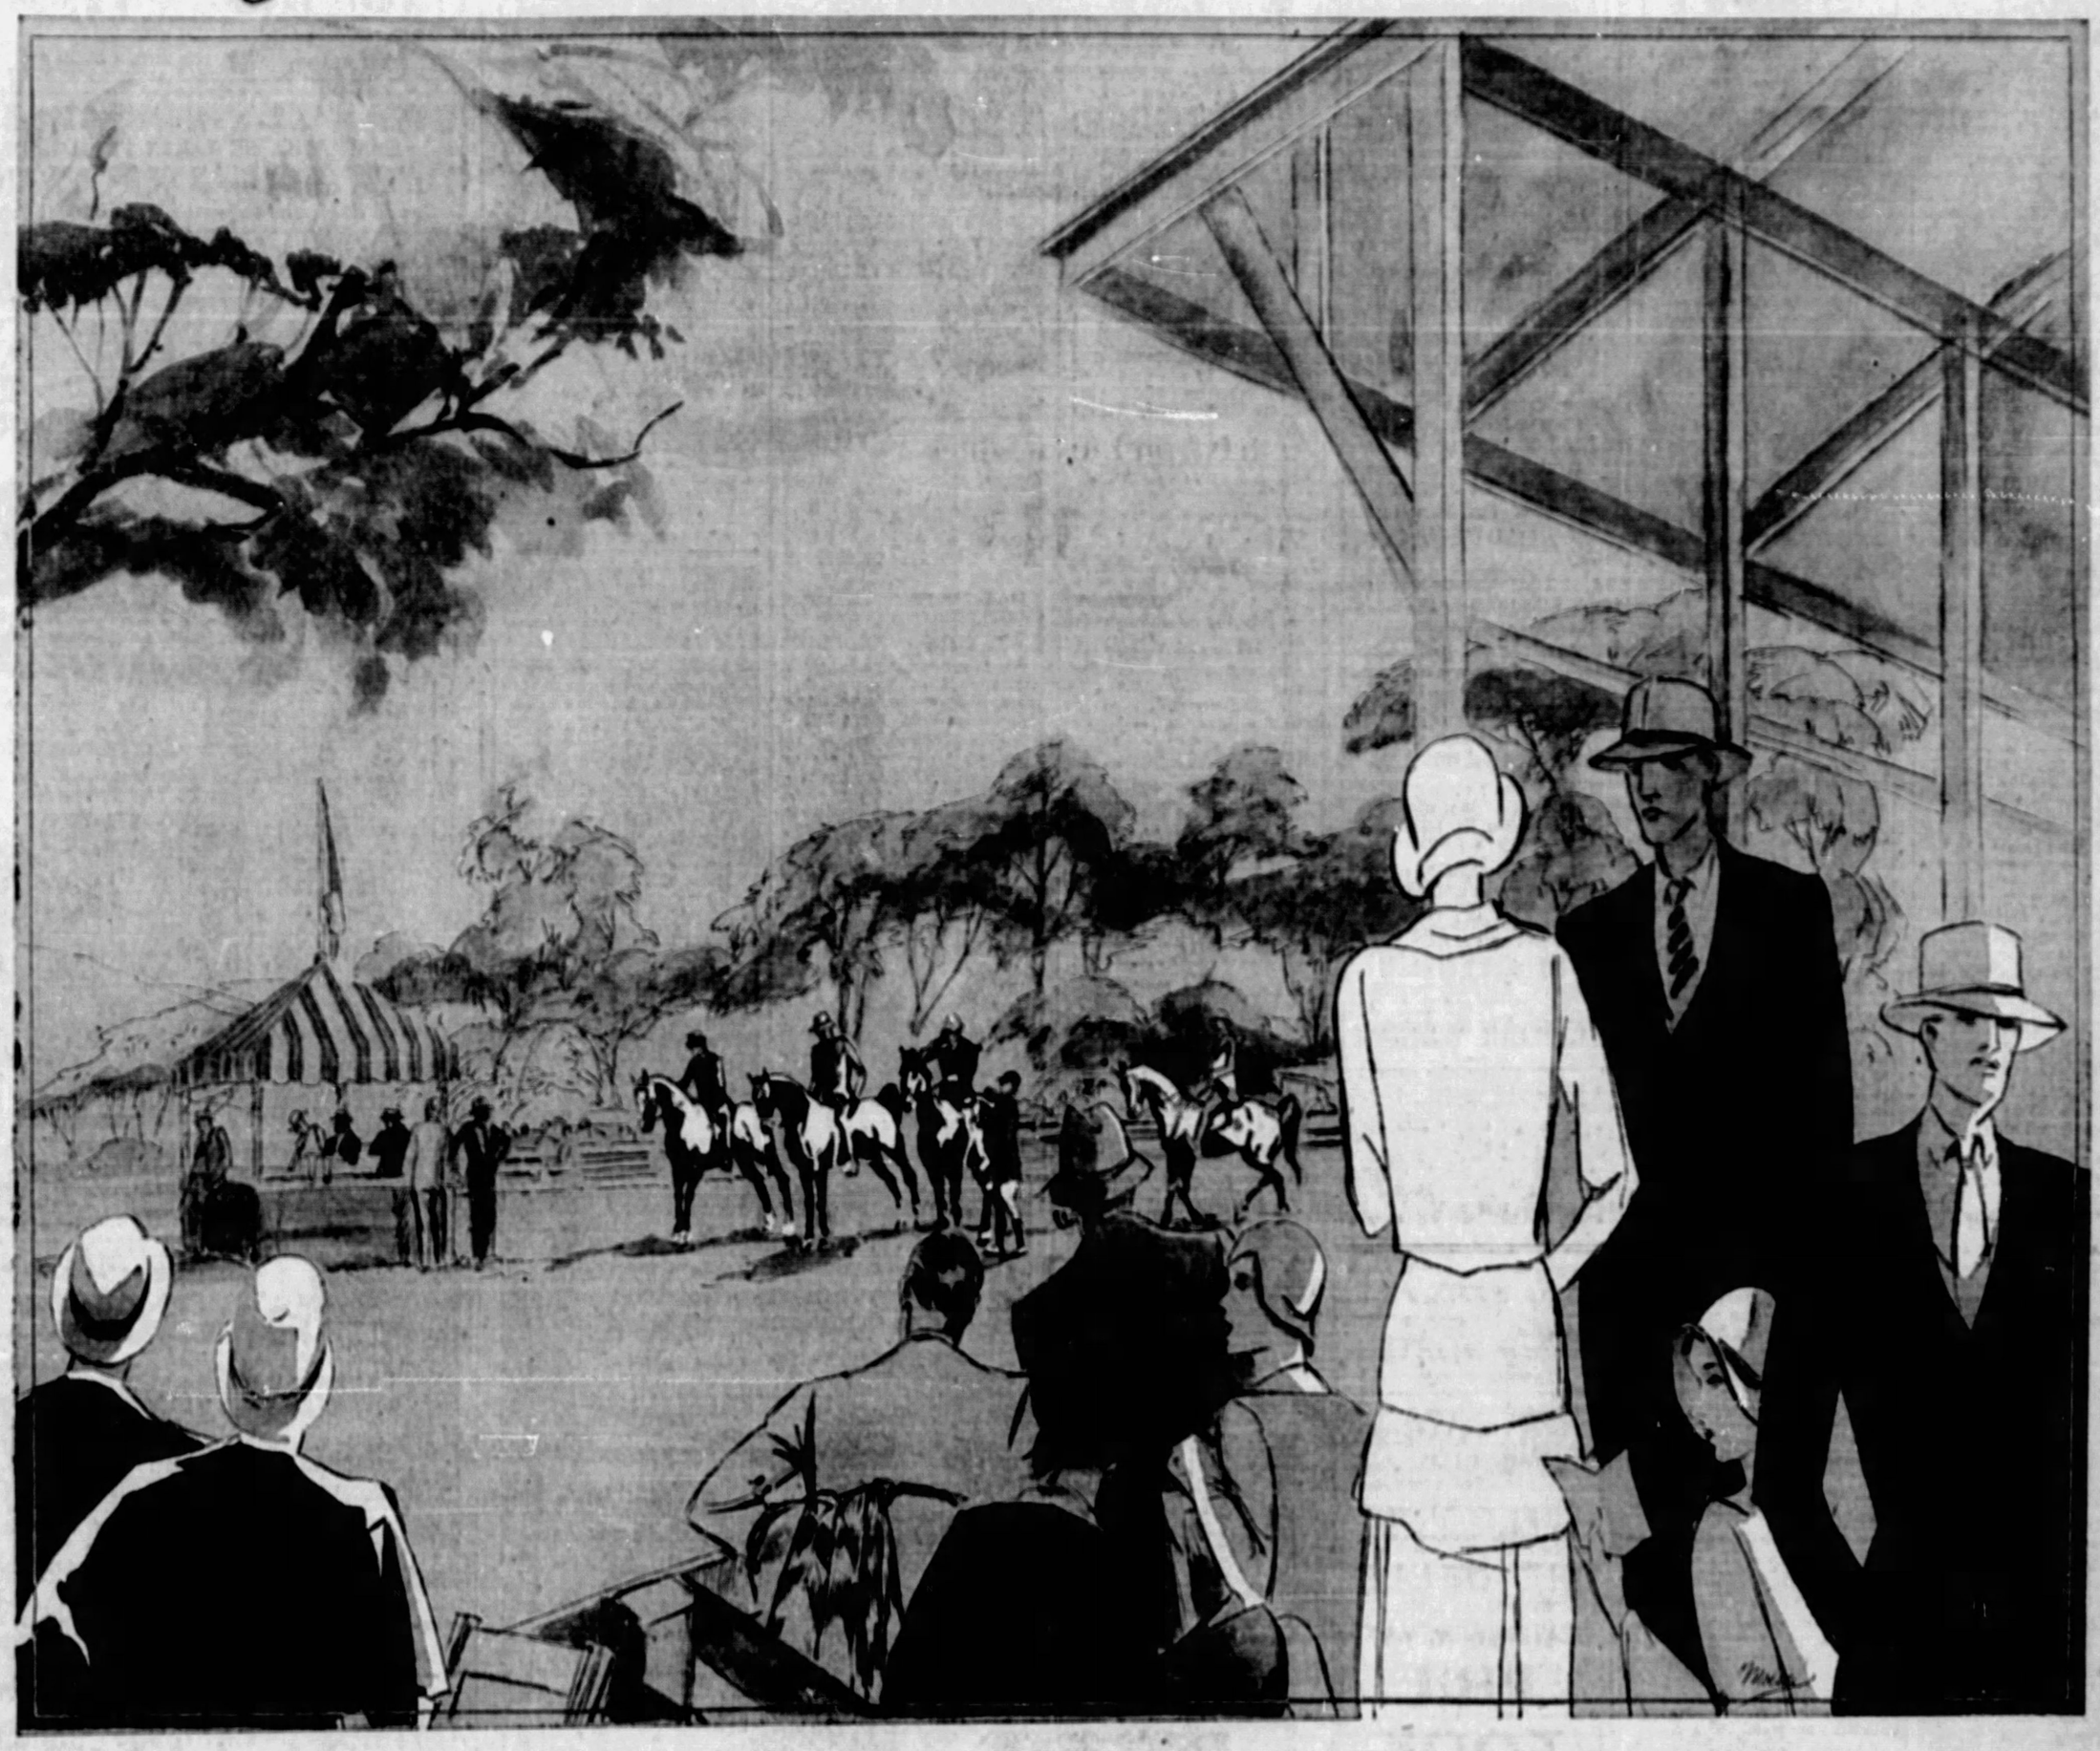
TO KNOW STYLE
YOU MUST GO WHERE STYLE IS



Style is not a question of the dictates of the Paris and New York couturiers, but of the acceptance of proper fashions by the wearer. And good taste is the ultimate factor in deciding what is proper fashion. Styles are not set by the buyers of stores, but by the women who wear the frocks that they believe to be in good taste. At the fashionable horse shows, at the debutante parties, on the verandas of Pittsburgh's smart country clubs you will see good style in clothing. You will see Fashion. And you may obtain its counterpart in any of Pittsburgh's department stores or smart shops. To be more ably guided, read the advertising columns of the Sun-Telegraph, in which every smart and important advertiser offers authentic, proved STYLE.

Joan Crawford to Make Talking Version of 'Taxi-Dancer'

By HARRISON CARROLL.

(Copyright, 1930, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, June 12.

DURING A SEARCH for a new vehicle for Joan Crawford, someone remembered "The Taxi-Dancer," which she made as a silent picture in 1927. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials were enthusiastic over the idea, and promptly decreed a new talkie version.

This film will be made sometime in the near future. In the meantime Joan leaves for New Orleans this week for some authentic location scenes in "Great Day." Johnny Mack Brown, who was born down South (Dothan, Ala., to be exact), goes along as her leading man. Another member of the cast will be Lucien Littlefield, the character actor.

Joan Crawford

Unless I'm mistaken, Owen Moore played opposite Joan in the old silent picture of "The Taxi Dancer." Robert Terry Shannon wrote the story and deserves mention for he has just been hired by Paramount to do one of Clara Bow's five remaining pictures under her present contract with this studio.

HAVE YOU HEARD THIS?

If you've heard this one, try and stop me. Little Billy, the midget, is wearing child's clothes in a picture for Pathe. The other day at lunch he went to a nearby restaurant, smoking a cigar.

A motherly-looking woman stopped him.

"Little boy," she reproved, "does your mother know you smoke?"

"Madam," replied Billy, "does your husband know you speak to strange men?"

CHEVALIER'S HEROINE

It may be a little premature to announce as a fact, but I believe Jeanette Loff will be Maurice Chevalier's leading women in his next picture, "The Little Cafe."

At any rate, Universal has summoned her back from a vacation in San Francisco, and she was making tests yesterday at the Paramount Studio.

Jeanette Loff

Earlier reports put Lillian Roth in the role, but they are discredited now.

You may recall that "The Little Cafe" once more carries Chevalier back to a Parisian setting. He plays a count who must pretend to be a waiter by day to fulfill the terms of a wager.

Incidentally, Chevalier seems a likely candidate to succeed to the throne of Rudolph Valentino, Wallace Reid, Harold Lockwood, Maurice Costello and other matinee idols of the screen. When the French star appeared on the stage here in a one-man revue they had to put extra chairs in the theater. After the performance there was a crowd of several hundred people waiting to get a glimpse of their favorite as he entered his car.

THOSE GOLF PRIZES

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer golf tournament which aroused the keenest sort of competition, is over and the winners are a film cutter and a publicity man.

There were 100 entries and the stars and officials of the studio contributed almost half as many prizes. Robert Montgomery is now trying to trade in his own prize, an order for a suit of clothes which he won in the tournament.

Joe Rapf had an experience of the same order. He persuaded a gasoline filling station across the street to offer a prize and then won it himself.

RUN SHORT OF AWARDS

Eddie Mannix, production official, is incensed because he won in his foursome only to discover that the tournament officials were out of prizes.

By the way, Robert Hopkins, who has written some funny titles in his time, lost his sense of humor and quit after nine holes. Sympathizing friends presented him with a set of matched crutches yesterday.

Joe Cohn, of the production department, made the 18 holes in 200 strokes but is somewhat assuaged by the booby prize of 200 bars of soap. Chuck Reisner is a close competitor with 12 bottles of a soft drink. Incidentally, Chuck pulled the niftie of the department when he predicted that if the make-up department had all the divots that were dug up on the course, they could outfit every bald-headed man in Hollywood with a toupee.

CHINESE SHOWBOATS

Richard Wallace, the director, is back from the Orient with a strange story of Chinese showboats. It seems they load a projection outfit on a junk and sail it up a river until a likely spot is sighted. Then they go ashore and stretch a screen between two poles. This primitive picture show is projected from the gently rocking boat, while the spectators sit around on the banks. Boys pass through the audience with collection plates, soliciting money.

DO YOU KNOW that Henry Woods, Hollywood heavy, employs his spare time as a cactus expert? He has gathered or developed 451 varieties of the prickly desert plant. Beverly Hills residents hire him to put in their cacti gardens.

Traveler

Will Rogers takes a trip to England in "So This Is London," which opens on the Penn talk screen tomorrow.

Mother Role

NEW PICTURE TODAY; FIGHT BROADCAST IN THEATERS

"The Devil's Holiday" opens on the Stanley screen today. The film is heralded as introducing a new dramatic actress in the person of Nancy Carroll. Heretofore, Miss Carroll has been chiefly identified with musical comedy films.

A detailed blow-by-blow account of the battle for the heavyweight crown between Sharkey and Schmeling will be broadcast in all Warner theaters, except the Stanley, tonight. These theaters are the Warner, Enright, Liberty, Regent, Manor, Schenley, Belmar, Arsenal, Plaza and Ritz.

Will Rogers is starred in "So This Is London," talk film which will open in the Penn tomorrow. Irene Rich is in the cast.

"The Social Lion," starring Jack Oakie, the wise-cracking comedian of the movies, opens in the Aldine tomorrow. The picture is based on the Octavus Roy Cohen story, "Marco Himself."

"Courage," featuring Belle Bennett, Marian Nixon and Leon Janney, comes to the Warner tomorrow.

One new picture also opens in the East End tomorrow. This is "Captain of the Guard," featuring Laura La Plante and John Boles, in the Enright.

"Midnight Mystery," starring Betty Compson, opens Monday in the Sheridan Square."

"All Quiet on the Western Front" will open a third week in the Pitt Monday.

WALTER WINCHELL On Broadway

Bad Investment

I can remember each romantic scene
We played together in that vanished year,
Nothing is lost—your smile, your golden sheen
Of saucy curls comes back to haunt me, dear;

Phrases of love in your delicious drawl
Seem to be uttered only yesterday;
It is a simple matter to recall
All the allures of each delightful way.

Oh, I have tried my best to turn my mind
Far from the nights when you and I were one,
Yet you steal back, a vagrant gypsy wind—
Stirring the flame you kindled half in fun.

Why did I clip that ad? Oh, dark remorse—
Why did I ever take that memory course?

—Don Wahn.

Haw!

Frank Bush, they say, used to panic audiences with it 25 years ago. An Irishman here for the first time was driving in the country and stopped when he saw a farmer hauling a load of huge-sized pumpkins.

"Phwat are thim?" inquired the old Tad.

The farmer, thinking he was being kidded by a city slicker, decided to kid with him. "Why, those are donkey eggs," he replied.

"Oh, you sit on them!"

The Irishman bought one, took it home, and sat on it for a week.

Finally, in disgust, he hurled it down a hill and watched it smash into a tree. The crash frightened a rabbit which raced away, but the Irishman ran after it.

"Come back here," yelled the breathless Irishman, "I'm your father!"

Swifty

And They Hang Pictures!

"She was born," replied Miss Julia Shawell, the cinema oracle for that paper, "in Texas of Spanish grandparents."

And They Slam Doors!

". . .when he was alive Woodrow Wilson had a great vocabulary.—The very odd McIntyre."

Meaning, we take it, that his vocabulary wasn't so hot when he was dead.

And They Kill Time!

"Boys," gasped the old fellow before he finally kicked off, "I have only one last request and some advice to give you. Remember—always slice the ham thin!"

Wisey

The current torrid spell is responsible for this observation: George White, the "Flying High" producer, was baking on 42d St.

"Whew!" he whew'd, "if Hell is any hotter than today, I'm going to be a very good boy this summer."

Telling It to George

Among other thrills that come once in a lifetime was having George M. Cohan as our guest star at WABC. The best ad that Broadway has, and one of the few guys who hasn't contributed to its bad, name, volunteered to sing the theme song, "Give My Regards to Broadway."

Mr. Cohan prefaced his grand old song with remarks about his Broadway of 25 years ago and our version of it.

"In those days," he said, "it was a sort of hand-shaking street, where everyone knew the other fellow. Today it is a knife-hurling community."

But what we started out to say was that Mr. Cohan has frequently turned down huge sums to broadcast. For no particular reason. He's busy writing shows, songs, and checks for less fortunate fellows—and he is rich.

By favoring us and flavoring our program without fee, Mr. Cohan reminds a fellow that having his good-will makes up for all the counterfeiters one has to come in contact with along the Canyon. It's little things like that that make George M. Cohan bigger than big, and what the devil can a smallie like us do for him in return? Give the man who wrote "Over There" publicity? A good write-up on his Grade A plays?

Love Story

Take it from Laurence (Motion Picture) Reid, the love between the late Mabel Normand and Lew Cody was one of the truest cinema romances. A year ago Cody gave Mabel a huge silver centerpiece for the table as an anniversary gift. He noticed that, in spite of her protestations of delight, she didn't seem quite pleased.

"You don't like the centerpiece, Mabel," he said finally. "Tell me what's wrong with it and I'll change it tomorrow."

"Nothing," said Mabel. "It's grand and handsome, Lew. Only—well—you see, with that in the middle of the table, I can't see YOU so well."

Add Merciless Facts

Clarence Darrow's swifty:

"Life is an interrupted succession of nothingness."

How Feuds Start

One of the more popular novels about gangsters was written around a well-known Chicago badman, who told the author he would be glad to help him with many of the details. And he did. The grateful author promised the Chicagorilla $100 if the book was a success.

Recently the movie version of the novel crashed the theatrical heavens and the author's royalties on both products have made him rich. But he never forwarded that $100 to the Chicagorilla, who is so steamed up about the matter he has vowed to rob the author of at least half his wealth, or slay him in the attempt.

Free Film Show For Mothers Of Seven

The event is part of Warner Brothers' observance of June as "Family Month," and it will mark the opening of the film, "Courage." This picture presents the story of a mother and her seven children, and is said to develop the theme of romance, greed and mother love. Belle Bennett portrays the principal role.

The free admittance privilege will end at 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

What's What in Rail Mergers; Here's Outlook

By B. C. FORBES

RAILWAY CONSOLIDATIONS will continue steadily, but somewhat slowly. Senator Couzen's bill to forbid the sanctioning of railway mergers by the Interstate Commerce Commission will not become a law, at least in the measurably near future.

The Missouri Pacific merger plan is likely to be carried out.

The next to be taken up is the Baltimore & Ohio's plan to take over the Reading and Jersey Central.

THESE STATEMENTS ARE BASED on a talk with F. J. Lisman, investment banker, who is regarded in financial circles as among the best-posted men in America on railways, railway prospects, railway mergers, and the like.

WHEN I ASKED Mr. Lisman to box the railway compass, so to speak, he replied, in effect:

"The Interstate Commerce Commission has asked Congress to amend the law which made it mandatory to bring out a consolidation plan for all the railroads in the United States, but Congress did not act. Therefore, the Commission last December brought out its plan."

MEANWHILE, THE COMMISSION has granted the request for merging the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific, with certain provisos, notably that these roads surrender control of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy System. The dominating interests in the two roads have not yet reached a definite decision as to acceptance.

SENATOR COUZEN'S PROPOSAL appealed to the labor railroad unions. They claim that the economies promised through mergers would be largely at the expense of labor.

But at the hearing before the Couzens committee, President Daniel Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio, testified that he would not discharge any labor as a result of consolidation. He explained that the economies from consolidation would be brought about gradually and that the number of employes would not be displaced faster than death, resignations and discharges for cause would deplete the labor force.

Representatives of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Lines gave similar testimony. Moreover, they agreed to reimburse, to a reasonable extent, employes owning real estate for losses incurred in having to sell or transfer their homes.

Mr. Lisman adds:

"Having done a constructive piece of work, it is to be hoped that labor unions will not carry the agitation further.

"If employees of the big lines are insured against loss of employment and homes, labor will greatly benefit by consolidation, because not only do employees of short lines receive a lower rate of compensation, but they have to do a greater amount of work.

"THE RECENT DECISION of the Supreme Court instructing the I. C. C. practically to disregard the Hoch-Smith resolution for giving preferential low rates to agricultural products, is rather a sharp reminder to the commission that it must stick to the letter of the act of 1920.

"IT WOULD BE MY GUESS that the more radical Congress is likely to be elected next November, but which will not take office until December, 1931, will certainly endeavor to change the law—with a view to making campaign material for the presidential election of 1932.

"Meanwhile, there probably will be no serious objection to the Missouri Pacific merger plan. The commission has assented in principle to B. & O.'s acquiring the Reading and Jersey Central, but formal hearings will be required.

"THERE IS A PETITION PENDING before the commission to compel the Pennroad, affiliated holding company of the Pennsylvania, to disgorge control of the Lehigh Valley, Wabash, Pittsburgh and West Virginia and Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, which that company has acquired. Some interesting legal problems are involved.

"Commingled with this proceeding is the proposed fifth trunk line system, which is impossible without the Pittsburgh and West Virginia and the Wheeling and Lake Erie, the former dominated by the Pennroad, the latter by the Van Sweringens.

"MUCH FAULT IS FOUND with the commission for not acting more quickly, but the questions involved are so complex and many-sided that quick action cannot be taken."

THAT BRINGS YOU up-to-date on what's what merger-wise in the railway field.

Canny Individuals Look Beyond Financial Clouds And Acquire Stocks Low

By MERRYLE STANLEY RUKEYSER.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Human nature in Wall street follows its own laws, and, since people in the mass change slowly through the years in their behavior, there are frequent recurrences of historically familiar incidents.

Setbacks and recessions have been common in America's past business history, and experience has shown that these temporary steps backward are only the forerunners of additional steps forward. These remarks are made without reference to the technical rally in the stock market, which sprang from the nature of the temporary oversold condition. They are made to emphasize that over long periods these recurrent episodes of psychological depression give canny individuals with imagination enough to look beyond the immediate clouds an opportunity to lay the basis for substantial family estates.

FORTUNES FOUNDED

Many fortunes have been made by quiet accumulation of good securities at times when they are unwanted by the general public; relatively few have been made by competing with the crowd to acquire excessively popular issues at inflated prices.

The business community is focussing its attention on the fate of the proposed tariff revision. In view of the rising tide of opposition to the Smoot-Hawley bill, the White House recently let it be known that the President's mind was open. Early in March, on the other hand, before public opinion had become so articulate, President Hoover gave visitors the impression that he would sign the bill, indicating that the tariff matter would be out of the way shortly and that business would be strengthened by the passing of the present uncertainty concerning tariff schedules. Recent advices from Washington indicate that President Hoover would be reluctant to veto the bill, because to do so would continue the existing uncertainty.

There is no doubt that President Hoover is extremely anxious to take any sound steps to promote business stabilization. And yet he ought to think twice about the wisdom of signing the hodge-podge tariff bill, which many business executives think will be harmful to prosperity, especially in view of the protests of 30 foreign nations. Of course, the American tradition is against the vetoing of tariff measures by the executive. In the present instance, however, the existing tariff law is much more likely to promote good business than the successor bill. President Hoover himself recommended only limited revision, designed to be helpful to the farmers.

WHOLE WORLD SUFFERS

The truth seems to be that the whole world is suffering at present from tariff excesses, which have proved barriers to the free movement of goods which makes for prosperity. General acceptance of the protective idea has nullified to a large extent its value to any one country. It was all right for us to play the protective tariff game as long as we did so exclusively. But the new fashion of world-wide tariffs have made the walls of one country an offset to those of others, and the net effect is mere confusion and friction. There is an opportunity for the International Chamber of Commerce at Paris to make a profound study of this situation and to lead countries back to a tariff basis which conforms better to the accepted standards of scientific economists.

John G. Lonsdale, president of the American Bankers' Association and head of the Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Company, St. Louis, spoke for an influential set of business men and bankers, when he said earlier in the week before the convention of the New York State Bankers' Association:

"In its present form the tariff bill does not satisfy the people and I am certain it is a disappointment to our basic industries, including agriculture. Unless radically changed, it will benefit only a few people at the expense of many. Is it the part of wisdom at this time to provide tariff increases which will react unfavorably upon foreign trade? Will not the passage of such a bill increase our cost of living and go a long way toward nullifying the good will among nations which other departments of our government have striven so valiantly to upbuild through diplomatic channels and peace conferences? I believe in reciprocity among nations, as well as among men. A sense of fairness should dominate our foreign as well as our domestic trade."

Bradford Producers Curb Oil Output

OIL CITY, Pa., June 12.—The Derrick says that crude oil production in the Bradford field for May averaged 31,163 barrels daily, a decrease of 4 per cent as compared with April.

It was in this field that 80 per cent of the producers agreed to curtail production 20 per cent, effective June 1.

The Allegany field's daily average production for May was 9,880 barrels as compared with 9,861 in April. Development work in this field is slowing down.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12.—Interest in the appearance of the long-awaited American portion of the German 5½ per cent loan overshadowed everything else among the bond group of the New York Stock Exchange today. Trading on a when-issued basis opened this morning, with the bonds quoted at a premium ranging in the early dealings from half to 1¼ points above the offering price of 90.

Stocks Rally — Local Stocks Quiet

STOCKS REGAIN GREATER PART OF LOSSES

Liquidation Pours Into Market but Shares Turn Up as Support Stiffens

NEW YORK, June 12 — (AP.) — Wall street's spirits held at a low ebb today, although heavy oversubscription of the German bond issue and predictions of a prompt disposal of the tariff measure, at last, were regarded with satisfaction, if not with enthusiasm. Liquidation still poured into the stock market during the forenoon, but support appeared and most of the 2 to 5 point losses in important stocks were recovered.

Renewed weakness in copper metal, which sank ⅛ of 1 cent to 12¾ cents a pound on publication of the June 1 statistics showing a moderate increase in stocks again served to turn the spotlight on the commercial steadiest but still none too steady commodity price structure. Renewed heaviness of wheat did not help the stock market. While with the recent decline in sterling banking quarters had not looked for a further reduction in the Bank of England's rate this week, the fact that the rate was unchanged caused some disappointment in speculative circles.

NEW LOWS TOUCHED

The severe break in stocks yesterday caused considerable more jettisoning of weakened marginal accounts today which together with further bear raids and unloading by investors suffering from pessimism sent a wide assortment of issues to new lows for the year, including such issues as American Telephone, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, International Telephone, Chrysler, Studebaker, Nash and Sears Roebuck. Short covering appeared in large volume around midday, however, and moderate recoveries appeared in pivotal shares. Trading was in heavy volume, the ticker falling several minutes behind the market.

Money was as plentiful as ever, the 3 per cent call loan rate on the stock exchange was cut to 2½ per cent for the first time since March 20. Money was available outside at 2 per cent. It appeared that Wall Street might experience another flood of credit as it did during the treasury financing of March, with market sentiment radically changed, however, its effects, normally tonic, are problematical.

SHARES RALLY

The midday rally carried leading stocks to one to four points above the morning lows, with more substantial improvement in volatile specialties. U. S. Steel, which has been down to 161, off 2½ points net and only half a point above the year's low established yesterday, moved slightly above the Wednesday close. American Can, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak and Johns-Manville showed recoveries of 3 to 6 from the bottom levels.

Auburn Auto, which had been off 8 points to the low of 120½, snapped back to 130, while J. I. Case recovered more than half of a 14½ point decline.

The market turned dull on the rally and the ticker, which had been 21 minutes in arrears, caught up with the trading.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12 — Sentiment failed to show much change on the Curb market today, and price movements followed the course of recent sessions. A decline at the opening lasted throughout the morning hours, carrying the leaders below yesterday's minimums, but the appearance of supporting orders prompted short covering and the list rallied.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list, 000 omitted in sales column of bond list).

Little Change Seen In Business Here

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

LITTLE CHANGE IS EXPECTED in business conditions in this district during the next few months. Pittsburgh's most important types of activity are in their usual season of dullness. Steel production has been gradually receding from the level of last March. Most of the other large industries are holding steady in operations or have made moderate curtailments.

It was generally expected that business in the first quarter would still show the effects of the unsettlement last fall. Many predictions were made, however, that the second quarter would show improvement. These prophecies did not materialize. As near as can be judged at this time, the second quarter is due to be slightly below the first in business volume.

While no improvement is expected for the third quarter, business does not appear likely to show any further depression except where seasonal influence will be felt.

Freight Traffic to Decline

ONE OF THE MOST COMPLETE indications of business prospects for the next three months is found in the report made public today at the meeting of the Allegheny Regional Advisory Board at Morgantown, W. Va. Shippers from Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio, Northern West Virginia and the so-called Panhandle of Maryland estimated that they would need 1,049,006 freight cars to move commodities produced here during the third quarter of the year.

During the corresponding period of last year 1,082,261 cars were required to move the freight of this district. The estimated needs for the third quarter are about 3.1 per cent less than the actual needs a year ago.

Improvement Expected

INCREASES ARE EXPECTED by 14 of the 25 industries represented at the conference. The following gains were predicted: Agricultural implements and vehicles, other than automobiles, 14.3 per cent; canned goods, 2.6 per cent; cement, 28.8 per cent; coal, Eastern Ohio district, 7.3 per cent; coal, Northern West Virginia district, 2.8 per cent; coal, Central Pennsylvania district, 2.7 per cent; electrical goods, 2 per cent; flour, meal and other mill products, 10 per cent; grain, 5 per cent; gravel, 4.3 per cent; lime and products, 7.6 per cent; petroleum and products, 9.5 per cent; rubber and products, 1.5 per cent; slag, 2.7 per cent, and stone and products, 17.7 per cent. These increases actually represent approximately 17,724 cars.

Among the district's basic industries estimating lessened requirements are: Coal, Western Pennsylvania, 2.4 per cent; coke, 27 per cent; lumber and forest products, 14.5 per cent; iron and steel, 7.5 per cent; machinery and boilers, 2.7 per cent, and brick and clay products, 9.3 per cent.

Road Building Greater

THE OUTSTANDING GAIN of 28.8 per cent expected for cement is attributed to the increase in road work being done this summer. The other types of construction are still lagging. The electrical goods industry also expects to be slightly busier than a year ago but a decline is indicated later in the year by the reduction in new business booked by electrical companies.

Unfortunately among the industries expecting declines are some of this district's most important types of activity. Coal, coke, steel and clay products are all included in the groups expecting recessions.

AVERAGE STOCK YIELDS HIGHER

If an investor held one share of each of 421 dividend paying common stocks in the New York Stock Exchange he would now be receiving a yield of 6.48 per cent compared with 6.80 per cent a month ago and only 4.87 per cent a year ago. This is according to the figures shown in the monthly computation of yields by Moody's Investors Service of New York.

While these statistics indicate the general average of stock yields, the return on individual groups of stocks is of greater practical interest to the investor. These show very wide variation, ranging all the way from about 2.60 per cent in the case of public utilities and 2.27 per cent in the case of bank stocks, to 10.76 per cent in copper stocks. Some of the other more important groups show the following returns at this time: Electrical equipment, 3.29 per cent; passenger car manufacturing, 8.70 per cent; oil, 5.60 per cent; railroad equipment, 6.37 per cent; chain stores, 4.58 per cent; mail order, 5.97 per cent; steel and iron, 6.09 per cent; railroads, 5.39 per cent.

The greatest change during the past month was in copper stocks which at the begin. of June yielded 10.76 per cent compared with 14.64 per cent at the outset of May. The decline was due to some severe cuts in dividend payments in May, which, according to Moody's, is likely also to be seen in the case of some of the other copper stocks this month and next. It may be added that based on prices in June a year ago, copper stocks then gave a yield of only 7.21 per cent.

SKELLY PLANS EXPANSION

NEW YORK, June 12.—Coincident with the completion of the sale of its $12,000,000 6 per cent preferred stock, the Skelly Oil Company announces a two-year expansion program. The company will make additions and improvements, including the construction of a new lubricating plant at its Eldorado, Kan., refinery. It also has under consideration construction of a refinery in the Texas Panhandle near Pampa, where it has substantial crude oil production. This refinery probably will be inaugurated with construction of a topping plant with daily capacity of 5,000 barrels.

The company plans to fill in the open spots in its marketing territory through acquisition or construction of between 400 and 500 company-owned bulk and service stations.

An extension to its pipe line facilities which are at present confined to Kansas, is contemplated and the linep robably will be extended in Oklahoma.

An appropriation will be made to develop the company's natural gas holdings in the Texas Panhandle.

The BIG HOUSE

By JACK LAIT...

Starting MONDAY in the SUN-TELEGRAPH

You'll want to read of the ghastly mental tortures of "solitary" in American penal institutions—to learn of the true lives and living conditions of the inmates of our great penitentiaries—to know why men must steel themselves to brutality to retain their sanity. Read "Big House" for the most searching expose of American prisons and penitentiaries. Starts in the Sun-Telegraph Monday, June 16.

DAILY TRUE STORY

"All's Fair"

Mrs. Stapleton held a book, but she wasn't reading. She was planning plans that had to do with keeping the Hart fortune always very close at hand by convincing Pauline that she should marry Hubert Stapleton.

Hubert was Mrs. Stapleton's nephew.

Mrs. Stapleton was the wife of Pauline's late stepmother's brother.

Mr. Stapleton, a lawyer and legal guardian of Pauline, was not a crook at all. It is doubtful if anything would make him a crook. Pauline's stepmother, who sincerely loved Pauline and whom Pauline adored, knew this and when she left her fortune to Pauline she made her brother the guardian.

But Mr. Stapleton was very much henpecked—without realizing it. His wife had made him believe that it was only bashfulness on Pauline's part that held her back and that a marriage of Pauline and Hubert would be ideal.

Stapleton would have been truly shocked had he known the truth, that his wife was really a scheming grasping woman, who, having enjoyed living at the beautiful Hart mansion for so long, now was determined to keep on living there for the remainder of her days.

Hubert, the nephew, was perfect in one thing—that of being a dumbbell! He was an awful flop. Being such a flop and weak-minded, he was putty in his aunt's hands.

Down in the garden, where Pauline was sitting, close to the high, vine-covered wall, there was a rustle along the wistaria blooms.

Didn't Dare Start It

"Where is she?" came a voice.

"Hush," said Pauline, without looking up, and then, "she's on the porch. Speak in a whisper, Carl. How did you know I was here?"

"Guessed it—listen, honey, why did you stand me up last night? Don't tell me they've made you consent to marry that wet smack, Hubert!"

"Don't be a sil," Pauline said, softly, turning a page of a magazine and keeping a wary eye on Mrs. Stapleton. "I was locked in last night!"

"Well, I hope I'm mock-turtle if I ever heard of such nerve. I didn't believe it was being done outside of story books—why didn't you pull the old devil's hair out?"

"Softer, Carl—she's staring over here."

"Listen, honey, my car's on the other side of the wall, suppose I lift you up here, let you down the other side and we'll beat it."

"Look out, she's coming!"

Carl hissed: "See you here same time tomorrow," and let himself down the other side of the wall. He didn't dare start his car.

Mrs. Stapleton sauntered down the path, pretending leisure, but her eyes were sharp and they searched the thick foliage that ran from the top of the arbor to the wall.

Pauline had fastened her eyes on a poem in a magazine and she was reading it in a low voice as Mrs. Stapleton came up.

"Oh," she said, "I thought you had gone daffy, talking to yourself."

Pauline didn't even glance up. She read softly through to the end of the poem first.

"I was scanning this verse," she finally said.

"Scanning it? I thought you were reading it."

"To scan a verse one reads it aloud to find out if it runs smoothly or if it has lame feet," Pauline explained.

Mrs. Stapleton knew nothing about "feet" other than what people walked on.

"There's no sense to your jokes, my dear," she murmured, secretly relieved because she had feared Pauline was holding a conversation with someone and that someone was Carl Wesson.

Pauline yawned.

"Hubert telephoned, he will be over to dinner," Mrs. Stapleton announced in a voice indicating that this was glad tidings indeed.

Elopement Planned

"I can scarcely wait."

Mrs. Stapleton flushed an angry red.

"Don't be sarcastic, Pauline—there are thousands of girls who would give anything if they could marry Hubert.

"I—," Pauline hesitated. The idea came to her that diplomacy would be better until she could think of what to do. It had all come so suddenly, this making her a prisoner in her own home.

"What?"

"I'm not interested."

"That is because you don't know yet how fortunate you are to have a wonderful man like Hubert in love with you."

Pauline yawned.

She yawned through dinner and yawned in Hubert's face when he tried to make love to her.

The next afternoon Pauline took a book of poems out to the arbor. Carl was on time.

"Come on, honey, beat it with me now," he said, softly.

"Tonight—she'll lock me in and go to the bridge club; she won't be back until the midnight train. Come and get me out of the room and I'll run away with you, Carl."

"Look out!" warned Pauline.

Carl had left his car a street away. He slipped back and disappeared before Mrs. Stapleton got up the path.

"You have taken a sudden fancy to reading poetry aloud, it seems to me," she said, sharply.

"You are not a prisoner, Pauline. I only—"

"I'm watched every moment, locked in my room at night, if that isn't being—"

"But Pauline, it is my duty as your guardian—"

"Mr. Stapleton is my guardian, but we won't quarrel. I can read poetry until you die, and then I'll be free," and Pauline couldn't keep back a grin.

"It is my duty to keep you from throwing yourself away on that worthless Carl Wesson, as you so foolishly wanted to do. The time will come when you'll thank me for my foresight. Now Pauline, if you will—"

Reads Aloud

Pauline began to read more poetry aloud, and Mrs. Stapleton walked back to the porch, clenching her fists to keep from slapping the girl.

Hubert came.

"She's cranky. I wouldn't bother her now—I'll manage this for you, Hubert."

"Yes, aunt," said the dumb nephew.

"If you would come tonight and play your mandolin under her window and sing 'Love's Old Sweet Song,' it would let her see how romantic you are, and you have a good voice."

"Yes, aunt," agreed Hubert.

Mr. Stapleton was speeding to the suburb on an earlier train than usual that night.

Mrs. Stapleton had gone to the bridge club.

Carl Wesson was climbing up the south porch, noiselessly, to reach Pauline's window. He had a jimmy with him to pry open her door and take her out by the way of the stairs, without risk.

On the west side "Slink" Jackson was going easily up another porch. He was doing it with a great deal of grace, inasmuch as porch-climbing was his profession.

Unfortunately for "Slink" Jackson, the west side of the house faced Maple street, and still more unfortunately for him Officer Daniel Smith espied Slink just as he reached the top of the porch and started to pry up a window.

Officer Smith crossed the street, ready to capture the porch climber single handed and make a hero of himself. There had been a lot of porch climbing jobs of late.

Mrs. Stapleton turned into Maple street from Church street and saw Mr. Stapleton turning in from Hill street.

He beckoned to them.

Hubert Sings

From below came the notes of a mandolin and then:

"Once in the dear, dead days beyond recall."

And so on and on.

"What the heck?" whispered Carl.

Slink Jackson listened, he heard the front door open below. He saw the door to Pauline's room open and he dashed in and straight across to the window. Carl yanked Pauline into the closet then.

Officer Smith ran upstairs, through the open door and made a grab for Slink. Slink fell into the rhododendron bush, some twenty feet below.

"Grab him!" yelled Smith to Stapleton.

Carl and Pauline went down the back stairs, across the garden and out through the rear gate to where Carl's car was parked.

Mrs. Stapleton hurried up the front stairs to see if Pauline was all right.

Officer Smith dragged a man out.

It was Hubert, badly bruised where Slink Jackson fell on him. He clutched a smashed mandolin.

They were still trying, 20 minutes later, to explain the mix-up while they searched the house for Pauline, when the telephone bell jingled.

Mrs. Stapleton answered.

"This is the former Miss Hart speaking," came the voice of Pauline, "now Mrs. Carl Wesson—we're off on our honeymoon."

Representative Garner, of Texas, suggests that his state divide itself into five states and gain eight additional senators.

Why not go a bit further—divide Texas into forty-nine states and get a quorum.

A better plan would be to merge all the states in the Union into one state and then only have two Senators.

* * *

Following are the actual lines of a verse posted above a London bar:

And pass around the wine
Remember that abuse is vile
But use may be divine.
'Twas Heaven in kindness sent the grape
For use by great and small;
'Tis little fools who drink too much,
But big fools none at all.

City Is Offered First Modern Rail System

L. F. Loree, competent railroad man who knows what he is talking about, wants to build a super-railroad from Pittsburgh across Pennsylvania to Easton, where it would connect with other carriers reaching New York City. The road would be the first major piece of railroad construction ever attempted in the United States using modern equipment from the start and designed to meet the needs of traffic as they exist today.

All our other railroad systems are like Topsy. "They just growed." Between 50 and 100 years ago short lines were built between towns before anyone had the slightest conception of what the development of this country would be.

In the course of time dozens of these little railroads were gathered together to form our present systems. Naturally they did not form direct through routes. They were not fitted to handle modern business. To the credit of the railroads it must be admitted that large sums of money have been spent to steadily improve these lines, but they still are makeshifts.

At one time two canals were separated by a high group of mountains. A railroad was built, following the route of a portage, to connect these canals. The Pennsylvania Railroad still follows this steep, tortuous path over the Allegheny Mountains and the bulk of Pittsburgh's eastern traffic must be pulled through this bottle neck.

Loree's New York, Pittsburgh and Chicago Railroad would be built for the traffic of today, have lower grades than any other eastern line and bring New York 75 miles nearer to Pittsburgh. If the Interstate Commerce Commission is more interested in progress and the future growth of this country than in preserving antiques it will give Loree permission to build the new railroad.

Death's Call Is Heard By Judge Josiah Cohen

Pittsburgh has lost another of its distinguished citizens in the passing of Judge Josiah Cohen of the Common Pleas Court. Ninety years measured the span of his life, nearly 30 of them having been spent on the bench, to which he was elevated after legal experience extending from law student days begun in 1863. He studied in the office of Kirkpatrick and Mellon, the senior member of which later became Judge John M. Kirkpatrick. He had served in both Orphans and Common Pleas Courts.

Judge Cohen was one of those fortunate individuals to whom accumulated years meant merely added experience instead of decline of interest in affairs of life. Long past the time when many men seek retirement from activity to find the sheltered nook for mediation and rest, he still lent his support to composing the troubles of his fellow citizens as a jurist. In addition, he gave the aid of his counsel and labors to several philanthropic agencies.

He was an outstanding citizen of Pittsburgh. He was an outstanding Jew, credit to his religion and race. He was a just and respected judge and, in social life, a genial, likeable gentleman.

Passage of Narcotic Bill Substantial Step Forward

Few important public measures become the law of the land by the unanimous votes of both Houses of Congress.

A notable exception to this rule is the bill of Representative Porter, of Pennsylvania, to create in the Treasury Department a bureau of narcotics. It passed the House unanimously a few weeks ago and now has passed the Senate unanimously.

Senators and Representatives in Congress are to be congratulated upon the promptness with which they recognized the urgency of this measure and the united determination with which they put the bill upon its passage in the closing days of a session overcrowded with other legislation.

Enactment into law of the Porter bill, as Secretary Mellon has truly said, "Will be a substantial step forward in the control of narcotics."

Under this new law, narcotic enforcement will be separated from prohibition enforcement and consolidated under responsible and vigorous leadership—

New and more effective machinery will be set up to suppress drug smuggling—

Medical needs for narcotics will be scientifically determined, and excessive supplies will be eliminated—

Causes and cure of drug addiction will be made the subject of scientific study—

And instead of being "a stepchild of prohibition," narcotic enforcement will become the exclusive activity of a bureau in the Treasury Department headed by a commissioner of narcotics to be appointed by the President.

Throughout his long hard fight to give narcotic enforcement the larger and more powerful place in the federal government that warfare against the drug evil deserves, Representative Porter has had the whole-hearted support of the Hearst newspapers.

Other supporters of the Porter bill included many organizations of physicians, druggists, drug manufacturers and social workers in all parts of the country.

All those who have supported his leadership in the great cause that he has fought to victory will thank and congratulate Representative Porter and wish for him an early and complete restoration to health and many more years of devoted public service.

Useless Alive

Useful Dead.

Meat packers can—and do—sell a dressed pig to the corner butcher shop for less than the pig cost on the hoof. They get their profit from the by-products. Bristles are made into paint brushes. Bones are converted into knife handles, chessmen, crochet needles, teething rings. Extracts from the glands supply medicines. Nothing is wasted.

The pig, useless alive, is very useful dead.

In that respect he differs from many human beings, not all.

2—Rapid Transit.
3—Repeal or modification of "blue law."
4—Establishment of Pittsburgh metropolitan district.
5—Community Fund for charities.
6—Town Hall, seating at least 15,000.
7—Voting machines to insure honest elections.
8—Development of river transportation.
9—Development of air transportation.

Want to Kill the Tree? -:-

Drawn by Nelson Harding

Why do such an outrageous thing
Just when the tree is blossoming?
Has it survived much storm and stress
To be destroyed by selfishness?

Don't be a vandal. Spare that tree,
The symbol of prosperity.
With branches and with blossoms gone
There'll be no fruit for any one.

GLIMPSES OF THE MOON

By Archibald Henderson

There is no little interest to be found in making, with our imagination, a little astronomical model of the earth, sun and moon, correctly related to each other as to size and distance apart. Let us take a scale of 1 millimeter to 1,000 kilometers, that is a scale of 1 to the 1,000,000. Let us remember that the diameter of the earth is about four times that of the moon; and that the diameter of the sun is more than one hundred times that of the earth. The distance to the moon is about 240,000 miles, and the distance to the sun is about 93,000,000 miles.

In consequence of these relative sizes and distances, our model will be easy to describe. The sun will be represented by a sphere of 139 centimeters in diameter. At a distance of 150 meters a ball the size of a hazelnut revolves about it. Around this hazelnut earth revolves a moon, 3½ millimeters in diameter, at a distance of 38 centimeters. The sun is thus about 400 times the distance from the earth that the moon is.

Now, it takes the earth one year to complete one revolution round the sun. In that year, the moon revolves rather more than 12 times round the earth. Suppose the plane of the ecliptic, the earth's orbit, is the plane of the table-top on which I am writing. The plane of the moon's orbit is different from this; indeed, it cuts the ecliptic at an angle of about five degrees. The plane of the moon's orbit revolves very slowly; and for practical purposes is said to remain approximately parallel to itself. The line in which the plane of the moon's orbit cuts the ecliptic is called the nodal line of the moon's orbit.

Because this nodal line remains approximately parallel to itself, twice during the course of a year this nodal line points directly at the sun. This state of affairs gives rise to eclipses, both of sun and moon. If, when the nodal line points at the sun, the moon happens to be between the earth and the sun, it cuts off the light of the sun, and we have a solar eclipse. If, on the other hand, the moon and the sun are on opposite sides of the earth, we have an eclipse of the moon, as the moon will pass through the shadow of the earth. It happens but seldom that the sun, moon and earth are exactly in a straight line. When this is only approximately so, we have what are known as partial eclipses of the sun or moon.

In the dawn of history, eclipses were the most fascinating of natural phenomena, as they were then believed to be a manifestation of diety.

The early Babylonians made a special study of eclipses, and arrived at a result that today bears the same name which they originally gave it. This is the Saros Period of 18 years and 10 days between eclipses. This periodicity is explained in the following way. The nodal line of the moon's orbit, while apparently remaining parallel to itself, is really revolving very slowly in the plane of the ecliptic, making a complete revolution in 18 years. Thomas in his "Heaven and Earth" illustrates the accuracy of the rule by the following table:

1 Total eclipse of moon	Feb. 9	Feb. 20
2 Partial eclipse of sun	Feb. 23	March 5
3 Partial eclipse of sun	July 21	July 31
4 Total eclipse of moon	Aug. 4	Aug. 14

LISTEN, WORLD

By Elsie Robinson

Want to do something with your life, don't you, stranger? Want to be different from the common, contented herd? Braver—more adventurous? And, in your secret heart you feel you are different . . . feel that you could do something strong and splendid, if you had a chance. But . . .

You get so discouraged, don't you? People make it so hard for anyone who's different. Keep telling you you'll fail. Sneer and laugh at you if you do fail. Until you cry, "Oh, what's the use? I'd love to break away—be free—amount to something—but it isn't worth the effort. Why not be content with things as they are?"

That the way you feel, friend? I know. I've felt that way, too. Perhaps this story will help you as it helped me. They tell it of Columbus, and that mad voyage beyond the world's blue rim. You and I, casually commuting about the globe, cannot possibly realize what that voyage meant to the people of 1492. Land beyond the horizon? Impossible! The earth was flat. It was insanity, blasphemy to doubt it. Black void and the tortures of hell awaited the man who challenged that belief. Yet, somehow, he convinced a few of them—and at last set sail.

Such a little ship in that vast and trackless ocean! Day after day, day after day, and still no land. So presently terror, more vast than the ocean, descended on his crew. They begged and clamored that he turn back. They threatened violence—mutiny. But Columbus would not turn. To all their threats and pleadings he had but one reply—"Sail on! SAIL ON!"

Confident words, but how confident was he in his heart. Not confident at all, probably. As afraid, as lonely, as desperate as the men who whimpered and snarled about him. But of what use was life unless a man kept faith with himself and his own adventure? Death ahead? Perhaps. But wasn't a brave death better than cowardly surrender? To him it was. He could not determine whether success or failure lay beyond the horizon, but he could at least be master of his own fears. Whatever the cost he would cry—"Sail on! SAIL ON!"

You know the rest. At last—the land! And now all land is mapped for you and me. Yet, still, for all of us, there waits an unknown sea. Some venture beyond our common, charted life—some dangerous risk that challenges the soul. A tie to break—a move to make—

And other people don't understand. They say you're crazy to do it. They sneer and warn and hinder—as they sneered at and warned and hindered Columbus. How often he too must have wondered if it was all worth while. And yet he cried—"SAIL ON!"

Echo his cry! Don't turn back! Shape your course and stick to it! And to the sneers and threats—the snarls of the crowd, the weak, weary whimpering of your own heart—make but one answer—"SAIL ON!"

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS.

My House

My house must stand
Where storm-tossed flecks
Of spray can reach.

My house must have
A bare, white floor,
Sea wind on the roof,
The sea at the door.

While Summer laughs
And the air is sweet,
I shall run with the surf
About my feet.

I shall call to the gulls
As they scream above;
I shall swim far out
Through the waves I love.

And when Winter snarls
At the crouching earth
By the driftwood fire
I shall drowse at my hearth.

My house must be
A thing so small
That the sea's great roar
Will shake each wall.

Text for Today There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.—Romans viii:1, 2.

(The text for today is suggested by the Rev. J. Alvin Orr, pastor, First United Presbyterian Church, North Side.)

"Bugs" Baer Says:

A Gesture of Sympathy

We piped a strange sight on Broadway the other day. It was Raymond Duncan parading along in a Turkish towel without visible means of support.

Raymond was marching along to the Battery where the flying fishes play in sardine cans.

"Bugs" Baer

His long hair fell down his back without much effort and he wore a bandeau around his noble brow to prevent his eyebrows from merging with his scalplock.

His manly feet blossomed in Grecian sandals of purest ray serene. There was an angelic look upon his pan as he trudged along in low gear. He carried a pail that had no dinner in it.

We were present at the last dance given by Isadora in Paris some years ago. We met a beautiful woman who would have had her face lifted if the crowbar hadn't slipped.

Being democratically inquisitive we wondered why Raymond was headed for the river with a pail in his hand instead of sash-weights under his arm.

If it had been October during that last Wall street panic we might have understood it and even offered to be the pathfinder for the bankrupt derby.

Raymond soon told us what was the matter with the difficulty. He was going to the Battery to make salt. And passed at least 60 grocery stores that would have saved him the trouble at half price.

He was doing it as a gesture of sympathy for Gandhi, the man who started a salt works in India. Gandhi didn't get the salt but the English did give him the works.

Raymond finished his metropolitan trek to the Battery where the Hudson meets the East River and both of them are the worse for it.

He dipped his pail in the water and was O. K. so far. Then he waggled the pail around and investigated it. There was no salt. We offered to pass the pepper but Raymond had set his heart on salt.

The last we saw of him he was going back up Broadway with his swallow-tail Turkish towel waving in the twilight breezes and his twinkling feet looking for parking space under a table.

It was a beautiful gesture of sympathy toward Gandhi. And we hope Gandhi ducked in time.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

This, by the way, is only strictly true of the female insects; the males show a slight variation that will be fully discussed in the chapter on the Biology of Sex.

When the sperm and egg-cells are formed this double set is separated into two single sets. Thus each egg-cell of the Fruitfly has one very little blobby chromosome, two longer V-shaped chromosomes, and one of the stout rods.

H. G. Wells.

When the sperm and egg-cells unite in fertilization their nuclei join, and thus a double set is founded again for the resultant individual.

It gets a set from each of its parents. Now what is the meaning of these facts?

We know as a matter of everyday observation that a child or a young animal or plant is just as likely to take after its father as its mother. In some ways it will be like one parent, in some like the other.

And yet the contributions of mother and father to the offspring, the egg-cell and the sperm-cell, are as different as two cells could well be. The one is enormous and inert, the other ceaselessly active and exceptionally small.

In one respect, and in one respect only, are the bequests of father and mother alike; each provides exactly half the nucleus, exactly half the chromosome outfit of the new individual.

Here, then, we detect the only possible explanation of the fact that fathers and mothers influence the constitution of their offspring in roughly equal measure. The chromosomes are the material basis of heredity, the vehicle by which the characteristics of one generation are handed on to the next.

This conclusion was arrived at provisionally, based as we have based it on a study of the chromosomes themselves, long before Genetics became an exact science.

Today it has been tested and proved beyond reasonable doubt. It explains at once why every kind of creature should have its own characteristic chromosome outfit, and why it should be so elaborately and delicately handled.

The very word "chromosome" is still comparatively unfamiliar to the general reader—as unfamiliar as was "atom" a century ago or "electron" 25 years ago. But the importance of atoms and electrons as the ultimate bricks and units of all matter is so great that they have now forced their way into everyday speech.

These little flecks of viscid protoplasm, so small that they can only be seen with the highest powers of the microscope, are the bearers of hereditary destiny.

Following the laws that we are about to examine, they form our bodies and our characters. Each of us human beings is what he is, himself and no other, because of the particular outfit of chromosomes with which he was equipped at fertilization.

Section 5. Chromosomes in Plants.

In the next chapter we shall study the hereditary function of the chromosomes more closely. But before we do so we must turn aside for a moment for the sake of completeness and discuss the state of affairs in plants.

We have described the manner in which the chromosomes of all the higher animals behave.

There is a zygote stage, the animal that we see and know, which is diploid; this alternates with a brief gamete stage, which is haploid. In plants there is a somewhat different rhythm.

In Book II we discussed the phenomenon of Alteration of Generations in the vegetable kingdom. We saw that in certain lowly plants, in mosses and ferns and the like, there is a regular alternation between a spore-bearing and a gamete-bearing generation.

We traced the alternation upwards and saw how in the higher plants the latter phase had been very considerably abridged, but how it still nevertheless existed. The two phases also differ in their chromosome constitution.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, June 12.—A great city such as New York provides many unusual ways—spare my blushes!—of keeping the lupus from the lintel. One firm, for instance, has the window-washing concession in a skyscraper area downtown, and is said to net a profit of $150,000 a year.

Furnishing programs to theaters free has lifted a gentleman to the multi-millionaire ranks. And it is Broadway history that the Sussking brothers—three alert Jewish boys—began as hat checkers at the Hotel Astor and made a huge fortune by gaining control of the hotel and cafe hat checking concessions.

There is a man who has the monopoly on the purchase of empty bottles in hotels and restaurants of importance. And what was—and probably is—the small town boy's method of earning enough money to see the circus has become an enormous business.

The gross turnover in empty bottles in New York is a quarter of a million dollars. Down town an enterprising shoe shiner acquired the bootblacking privileges in a number of crowded office buildings. He became a sort of padrone with an army of industrious shiners doing the elbow work.

The Big Shine, in smart clothes, makes the rounds in his car at intervals to see that things are running smoothly, and is reputed to enjoy an income of $25,000 a year. A country boy who conceived the idea of stands for out-of-town daily newspapers is also amazingly prosperous.

Recently a discharged hotel valet opened up a valet service for bachelors. For $10 a week he and his assistants attend to a customer's pressing wants. Buttons are restored, shoes are shined, sox mended and so on. He already has more than 1,000 customers.

These are only a few instances where specialization in an age of specialization brought home the bacon. A great industrial thinker recently observed: "Every job, no matter how humble, is an avenue of success if the holder uses his head as well as his hands." Sounds Horatio Algerish—but it has been proven true.

Thousands, too, in New York live solely by wits. No other city offers such grand opportunities for the O. Henry type of gentle grafter. Paper Collar Joe, a confidence expert of the '90's observed: "Give me a silk hat and gold-headed cane and I'll live in New York handsomely and indefinitely without work." The idea clicks today by substituting spats and a monocle.

* * *

But will it hasten it?

* * *

A Grand Central station officer tells me at least 20 people are completely lost in the terminal every day and have to be led to exits. Now and then some harried soul becomes hysterical and has to be led babbling to the emergency hospital for a sedative.

* * *

At a dinner honoring John McGraw at which Grover Whalen was toastmaster a red traffic light was flashed when speakers spoke beyond the allotted time.

* * *

A strip of Lenox avenue is now the Harlem Rialto. Performers from the Black Belt's cabarets and the downtown colored shows gather there to promenade just as they do in Times Square. A leafy tree in the section is a rendezvous. New York's most successful play this season has an all-colored cast, and the black-and-tan cafes have enjoyed their greatest popularity the past winter—thus Harlem's Rialto is bubbling with high spirits.

"If you don't think husbands," postcards Mrs. H., Seattle, "are a general nuisance, just ask your wife."

What a Coincidence! This is No Talking to Husbands Day in the Household. And all I did was leave my spoon in the coffee cup at a dinner last night.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

Have you figured the cost of something in which you are engaged, discovery of which would bring you certain disgrace?

Of course you think you are smart enough to avoid detection.

Every person who is caught by the law or anything supposed to be the good opinion of society has had that same false sense of security.

You know when you overstep the bounds of propriety and the limits of safety.

Isn't it a satisfaction to your pride?

Does it add anything to your income?

But what does pride or income amount to if you are caught?

They would be slim recompense for what you would have to take as punishment, would they not?

Yet you allow this practice to get an ever stronger hold on you.

Soon you will be powerless to keep out of danger.

It would be well for you to change your ways before it is too late and tomorrow you may reach such a time.
